RULING WILL SPEED DAM

Start Need Not Await Bonds

Wilbur Told Boulder Water Can be Sold Privately Till City's Ready

Series of Decisions Clarifies Secretary's Powers and [illegible] Nevada's Claims

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—If Los Angeles and the Metropolitan Water District are not prepared to enter into immediate Boulder Dam contracts, Secretary Wilbur has authority to grant them extended time to take up their allotted rights, and sell the power and water meanwhile to other users, it was ruled today by [illegible] Finney, solicitor of the Interior Department.

The ruling was one of a series handed out at the Interior Department which disclose for the first time the complete legal basis upon which Secretary Wilbur is depending for guidance in connection with the Colorado River project.

WILBUR IN WEST

The opinions cover all the most important points of controversy in the Boulder Dam situation and apparently were made public so there will be no confusion as to the Federal government's policies when the [illegible] conference convenes at [illegible] Monday. Dr. Wilbur [illegible] in the Far West, or en route [illegible] and will be in position personally to visit Reno and assist in the final effort to bring about an agreement with Arizona, if his presence is desired by the commissioners of the three lower basin States.

The ruling relating to Los Angeles and the Metropolitan Water District gave rise at once to the belief that Secretary Wilbur intends to contract with private power companies or other States or [illegible] for the Southland's share of the benefits from Boulder Dam if he finds it possible to do so pending such time as the city and district have placed themselves and their bonds in position to take their part of the project's [illegible]. This will amount [illegible] to $[illegible], according to [illegible] here.

DELAY OBVIATED

By such a course, it is pointed out, Secretary Wilbur may be able to proceed with construction of Boulder Dam without all the delay that would ensue while Los Angeles and the water district are passing the bonds required of them. The Secretary has stated that he will start execution of formal contracts immediately after February 1, next.

TARIFF RISE HIT IN POLL

Senate Balks on Sugar Advance

Republican Group Proposal for Increase Rejected by Vote of 48 to 38

Lower House Agreement in Action Regarded as Highly Doubtful

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Senate, by a vote of 48 to 38, today refused to grant higher tariffs on sugar as proposed by the Finance Committee Republicans, and approved a Democratic proposal to retain existing rates.

The vote was reached after a week of debate on an item regarded as the most important in the tariff bill. It placed the Senate on record by a surprisingly comfortable margin in favor of an amendment by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, to maintain the present duty of 1.76 cents a pound on Cuban raw sugar and 2.20 cents against other countries.

The Finance Committee majority had recommended a rate of 2.20 cents on Cuban sugar and 2.75 cents on sugar from other nations, while the House bill provides rates of 2.40 and 3 cents, respectively.

The differences between the House rates and those in existing law will have to be ironed out in conference. Whether the House will consent to the Senate's action is highly doubtful. Sizeable blocs on each side of that chamber favor a higher sugar duty.

VOTING LINE-UPS

On today's vote eighteen Republicans, half of them regarded as regulars, joined twenty-nine Democrats and the one Farmer-Labor Senator Shipstead, of Minnesota, in supporting the Harrison amendment.

Four Democrats broke away from their party to join thirty-four Republicans against it.

The surprise came in the large number of Republican regulars from the East voting for existing levies. All factions were known to have been split and did split on the final roll call, but the Harrison Democrats, who were counting on the eastern Republicans to win for them, did not expect so many from these ranks to support them.

Also, the Republican regulars favoring an increase had predicted a greater number of Democrats to vote with them. Democrats who supported them are Senators Broussard and Ransdell, Louisiana; Kendrick, Wyoming, and King, Utah.

The Republican independents, who have combined with the Democrats in opposing increases in all but agricultural tariffs, broke on the issue. Senators Borah, Idaho;

President and Mrs. Hoover Entertain at White House With Official Dinner

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—President and Mrs. Hoover tonight were hosts to Vice-President Curtis and his official hostess, Mrs. Edward E. Gann.

Invited to the White House for the first of the official dinners given there were a group of citizens from widely scattered parts of the United States.

Among them were Mr. Gann, William Butterworth, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and Mrs. Butterworth; Miss Susan L. Dyer, a friend of Mrs. Hoover who has been a guest at the White House since Christmas; the Episcopal Bishop of Washington and Mrs. Freeman; Mrs. C. P. George, Vice-President Curtis's daughter; Alida Henriques, a friend of Mrs. Hoover; Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican National Committee; Dr. and Mrs. F. P. Keppel of New York; Chancellor Ernest H. Lindley of the University of Kansas and Mrs. Lindley; Bishop and Mrs. William F. McDowell of the Methodist Episcopal Church; Dr. August T. Murray, the President's pastor; Very Rev. W. Coleman Nevils, S. J., of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rickard, friends of the President; Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and Mrs. Willard, and Matthew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor.

COOLIDGE TO WRITE IN ROCK

Will Compose Inscription for Presidential Monument Being Carved on Mt. Rushmore

KEYSTONE (S. D.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Calvin Coolidge is to write a history of the United States with an assured popularity for 5000 centuries.

It is to be as brief and terse as the former President's conversation.

And, although Mr. Coolidge is one of the highest paid writers per word, he will not receive a cent for the narrative.

The former President, according to the Mt. Rushmore National Memorial Association, has accepted an invitation to write historical data to be engraved beside the colossal figures of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt upon the granite face of the Black Hills mountain. Mt. Rushmore is near Keystone.

TO LIVE FOR AGES

The history will be Mr. Coolidge's contribution to the memorial which he dedicated during his summer vacation in the Black Hills in 1927.

The Coolidge words, 500 or fewer, if the author chooses to further condense the life of the country from the Declaration of Independence to his time, will be five or more inches deep, and high enough to be read miles away.

Geologists estimate the rate of erosion on the granite escarpment of Mt. Rushmore is an inch in 100,000 years. Unless radical earth changes take place, or further progress decrees the removal of Mt. Rushmore, the memorial should endure more than 500,000 years.

READY BY JULY

Gutzon Borglum, sculptor of the project, hopes to have the Washington and Jefferson figures ready for a formal unveiling next July 4. Each of the four figures will be 420 feet tall, the tablet of Mr. Coolidge's history will be eighty feet high and 120 feet wide.

The frowning wall of Mt. Rushmore upon which the memorial is to be scratched is 1000 feet high.

The sides of the letters fashioning Mr. Coolidge's words, facing westward, will be gilded so that the setting sun falling upon them will give brilliance to the story of the United States.

BYRD PEEKS IN CRADLE OF STORM KING

Home of Blizzards Parts With Secrets Heretofore Locked Behind Icy Doors

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Among the major contributions to science Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd expects from his Antarctic expedition are those relating to meteorological observations, the explorer indicates in a radio message to the National Geographic Society in Washington.

The vast continent which is "the home of the blizzard" long has been regarded as a "weather breeder" for continental and island areas in the southern hemisphere, including Southern South America, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand. But it hitherto has been the world's "weather blind spot" from lack of any substantial observations of its temperatures, barometric pressures, study of its land-level and altitude air currents, and similar data which are the raw materials of weather prediction.

Rear-Admiral Byrd's message, transmitted through the New York Times radio station, was addressed to Dr. John Oliver Lagorce, vice-president of the National Geographic Society, since it was for Dr. Lagorce that Byrd named the expedition's meteorological station. The explorer tells how the station's observations were used in determining the time of flights and also the methods by which he has been collecting meteorological data for permanent scientific records.

Byrd by Radio Takes Part in Eastern Program

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16. (AP)—Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd pressed a telegraph key tonight at his base in Little America, Antarctica, and turned on the electric current which illuminated the new bust of Benjamin Franklin over the entrance of the Poor Richard Club in Philadelphia. More than 500 persons were present at the club in observance of the 225th anniversary of the birth of Franklin.

The light which was turned on so dramatically tonight will burn night and day.

Cold Weather Stalls Flyers

GREAT FALLS (Mont.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Bitter cold weather today held the majority of the Army Arctic Patrol inactive in winter-ridden Montana.

Tonight Maj. Ralph Royce, commander of the flight, said the severe Rocky Mountain weather had demonstrated well the need for improved winter flying equipment for army flyers. His command of twenty-two ships is scattered along the line of a flight from Selfridge Field, Mich., to Spokane.

MAGNETIC WHIMS TRACED

Causes May be Learned Through New Methods for Measuring Ozone "Blanket," Scientists Say

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The cause of many magnetic disturbances may be ascertained by observations made possible through a new method of measuring more accurately the earth's ozone "blanket," a very thin coat of atmosphere believed to lie about thirty or more miles above us.

The astronomical observatory of the Smithsonian Institution under the direction of Dr. Charles G. Abbot, assisted by F. E. Fowle, in announcing today the new method said the ozone contents may be measured every day in which solar radiation observations are made at far-flung stations of the department. It would even be possible, by this method, Mr. Fowle said, to go back to the long series of observations made on Mt. Wilson, in California, from 1905 to 1920, and determine from data there the ozone prevailing over that station during the period.

The improved method, based on old methods, has to do with the absorbing power of ozone in the yellow-green spectrum. This thin blanket, an unstable form of oxygen, which keeps us all from freezing to death by holding the earth's heat, slightly absorbs yellow light waves of the sun as they approach the earth. Experiments conducted over a year's period from many angles of the sun enabled the two scientists to determine accurately by means of the yellow light cut off from the earth the ozone's contents. The absorption, least when the sun was directly overhead, increased with the distance traveled by the light through the ozone canopy as the rays became slanting.

Although very little is known of this covering, which would be about the thickness of a piece of cardboard under the earth's average at-

Report of Safety Traced

Dog Sled Expedition Ordered at Once Into Anguemy River Region

Several Days May Elapse Before Story of Finding Can be Confirmed

MOSCOW, Jan. 16. (AP)—The soviet Arctic Commission, which has been directing the Russian efforts to find Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, missing American aviators, today received a report that they had landed near the River Anguemy in Siberia.

The report came from the commission's radio station at Anadyr, Siberia, which in turn had heard the 14th inst. of the aviators' landing. Though the report was not confirmed, government authorities ordered a dog sled expedition to proceed immediately to the Anguemy River region.

The expedition will be sent out by Capt. Milovsorov of the steamer Stavropol, locked in the ice near North Cape.

The actual report of the landing of the American aviators dates from the end of December. It reached Wireless Operator Kyrilenko at Pinkignly the 14th inst., in a letter from Cape Wellen that was dated December 30. Eielson and Borland have been missing since November 9.

The soviet government also ordered that an airplane expedition be sent out from Cape Providence, instructing the soviet aviators Gladyshev and Slepnev to join in the search. Another party will be sent from Cape Wellen.

DETAILS CAN NOT BE OBTAINED AT ONCE

SEATTLE, Jan. 16. (AP)—Several days may elapse before particulars concerning the finding of Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, missing Alaskan aviators, can be learned in the United States, R. S. Pollister, Seattle manager of the Swenson Fur Trading Company, owner of the fur-trading vessel Nanuk, icebound at North Cape, Siberia, said today.

Even if the rumor is true, it will take considerable time for a dog team to make the round trip from the Russian trading vessel Stavropol to the position, 120 miles southeast, where the flyers were reported to have landed, Pollister declared. There would be no other means of communication, he said.

REGION DESCRIBED

The Seattle manager of the company, which hired Eielson and Frank Dorbandt, flyers for the Northern Air Transport, to carry passengers and furs from the Nanuk to Alaska after the boat became icebound, has traveled extensively in the Arctic Circle and has a thorough knowledge of the location where the men were reported to have landed.

"The Anguemy River flows into the sea about fifty to sixty miles southeast of the Nanuk," Pollister said. "It flows from the southwest and enters the sea through a large delta, several miles wide. If the men are about 120 miles from North Cape they are about sixty to seventy miles from the coast.

"The location given in the dispatches is the place many of us who have studied the situation, had in mind. It is a sparsely inhabited district, having not more than one or two permanent homes within an area of several hundred miles. That would explain the flyers' long absence and silence.

RESCUE PLANS GO ON

"Being about south-southeast of the Nanuk, it is the direction in which Eielson and Borland would have been blown in case of a strong prevailing northwest wind. If it is true they have been located at that point, the chances are they were forced back toward Alaska by the storm reported November 9 after they had almost reached the Nanuk. Then, finding they were unable to cross Bering Strait, they probably kept on going with the wind until they ran out of gasoline or were forced down for some other reason."

Fairbanks (Alaska) dispatches indicated that Maj. H. C. Deckard, head of the aviation corporation's expedition, was not impressed with the report that Eielson and Borland had been located. Deckard branded the statement as "another wild rumor" and continued plans for sending supplies and repairs for the Fairchild airplanes, which were to be used in the search for the missing flyers, to Nome.

Will Rogers Remarks:

LONDON, Jan. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Landed here at 2 o'clock this afternoon by lamplight. Our peace pilgrims arrive at Plymouth Rock tomorrow morning. Papers here today announce the type of clothes to be worn at the opening by the King on Tuesday. Say everyone is to dress the same as the King. I am here as official observer for the Democrats and social adviser to Senator Joe Robinson, minority member of the delegation, and I am going to have a tough time making that suit of Joe's look like anything the King ever owned, so if Joe and I don't get in you will know there wasn't anything we could put on that we would be mistaken for King George.

Surprise Manifested Over Statement Issued by MacDonald

PLYMOUTH (Eng.) Jan. 17. (AP) (Friday)—The steamship George Washington, with the American delegation to the forthcoming naval conference aboard, arrived here shortly before dawn today. The liner anchored far out in the harbor. The American delegation, headed by Col. Henry L. Stimson, American Secretary of State, was to land about 8 a.m. and be welcomed by Ambassador Dawes and British officials.

ABOARD S.S. GEORGE WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Abolition of neither battleships nor submarines is likely to be considered seriously at the London naval conference, according to views expressed tonight by members of the American delegation.

This was brought out during the last evening at sea while the liner George Washington, emerging from rough weather which had battered her in the previous twenty-four hours, was coming into sight of the English shores. The beams of Bishop's Light were sighted at 11:15 p.m. and with the ship picking up speed in the calmer weather it was predicted she will reach Plymouth about 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The statement by Ramsay MacDonald, Prime Minister of Great Britain, to the effect that his country would be willing to agree to eventual abolition of capital naval craft was received aboard ship with manifest surprise because it apparently was issued without previous consultation with Secretary Stimson. It was stated, however, that the MacDonald utterance contains nothing which changes the previous British stand as understood by the Americans.

SNOW PERILS ARIZONANS

Ten-Foot Drifts Trap Seventeen

Aid Expedition With Teams and Plows to Dig Out Marooned Party

Nevada Miner and Fiancee Victims of Fierce Storm; Trip Here Saves Pal

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Reported marooned for the past four days by one of the heaviest snowstorms in Northern Arizona's history, seventeen persons, crowded together in a small shack sixteen miles north of here on the Tuba City road, were being sought today by an expedition organized to drive snowplows with teams from Flagstaff to their rescue.

Snowdrifts ten and twelve feet high stalled seven automobiles en route to Flagstaff, the Sheriff's office learned today, forcing their occupants to seek shelter in the small structure, which is 10 by 10 feet.

PHONE LINE TAPPED

There was no prospect of their being reached in less than twenty hours, the Sheriff's office said late today. Sheriff Kester understood the party had some food, but there is a question how long this will last. They are believed to have no means of keeping warm.

First word of the plight of the seventeen was received here via Phoenix. J. W. Hildred of Phoenix, a member of the group, tapped in on a telephone line, evidently with a telephone carried for that purpose. Sheriff Kester was not sure of the means employed.

EXPEDITION ORDERED

Hildred communicated with Tuba City, which in turn advised Roland H. Taylor, engineer for the company employing Hildred. Taylor advised the Maricopa county Sheriff's office and in turn Flagstaff was ordered to organize an expedition.

The shack is at a grove known as Bonita Park, some miles from the Lloyd Copeland and Jesse Monroe ranches. The Sheriff's office presumed that the high drifts have prevented members of the party from reaching these points, where horses probably could be obtained.

There was a report that twenty-three persons were marooned at a small group of shacks some distance from the first, but this could not be verified.

MINER AND FIANCEE VICTIMS OF NEVADA SNOW

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) Jan. 16. (AP)—James Peterson, a prospector, returned here today with word of the death of his mining companion, Carl Miller, 35 years of age, and his fiancee, Mabel Dennis, 28, in the snowstorm which swept Nevada last week.

Peterson found the couple twenty miles from their cabin near the Broom Grove mines, located about 100 miles northwest of here, in one of the wildest sections of the State. They had been frozen to death.

Peterson said Miller and Miss Dennis left here last week on a truck for the mines, with a load of supplies. He was to have accompanied them but illness of a relative in Los Angeles forced him to go there. On his return here Peterson left immediately for the mines and came upon the bodies.

The miner said it appeared that the truck had become stranded in the deep snow and the man and woman, loading themselves with supplies, struck out afoot for shelter. Fifteen miles further on, he said, he came upon Miss Dennis's body, where she apparently had collapsed, and a few miles distant he found Miller.

Peterson returned here to report the deaths to officials and the Coroner of Tonopah, Nev., was asked to take the bodies there for an inquest.

FLYER SEARCH INTENSIFIED

Three Hundred Scour Nevada for Pilot Graham; Intention to Abandon Hunt Denied

Search for Maurice Graham, missing Los Angeles air-mail pilot, will not be abandoned until Graham and his mail-laden plane are located in the storm-beaten rugged country between Las Vegas, Nev., and Salt Lake City, Utah, it was announced here last night by Harris M. Hanshue, president of Western Air Express.

Meanwhile no word was forthcoming as to the whereabouts of Graham or his plane—now missing a week since he flew away from Las Vegas into the teeth of a blizzard last Friday night.

Western Air Express officials here denied a report from Salt Lake City that if yesterday's search proved fruitless the hunt will be given up. They said that, if it takes a year, their pilots and planes will continue to scour the mail route and surrounding territory until the secret of Graham's fate is solved.

FOUR PLANES GET UP

Some of the worst flying weather Las Vegas ever has experienced held most of the eleven searching ships there on the ground yesterday, C. C. Cole, superintendent of operations for Western Air Express, reported to the local headquarters.

Jimmie James, a pilot buddie of Graham, and leader of the air hunt, was able to get off with three other Las Vegas ships for an hour during a slight break in the murky weather.

These planes covered an area northeast of Las Vegas and cruised above the banks of the Colorado River as far north as the Boulder Canyon Dam site, but reported back without a trace of Graham.

MEN HUNT ON FOOT

Other planes, making a total of seventeen, two at St. George, Utah, two at Caliente, Nev., one at Milford, Utah, and another at Salt Lake City, were reported to have been grounded all day yesterday by the low ceiling and storm.

The rough weather, however, did not keep indoors the 300 men, Union Pacific System workers, ranchers and cowboys, who are traversing on foot and horseback the country north of Las Vegas.

A majority of these were checking the Caliente and Bristol mines country, the section where Graham last was sighted definitely as he

BOULDER RULING TO SPEED DAM

Start Need Not Await Vote by Los Angeles on Bonds

Wilbur Can Sell Power and Water Temporarily

having agreed to wait until then for the outcome of the Reno conference. Obviously Los Angeles and the water district will not be in position to enter into enforceable contracts covering their entire major responsibility by that date.

Whether Wilbur has assurances that the Southern California Edison Company and other private power companies are prepared to take the city district burden temporarily on their shoulders is not known here.

REASONABLE TIME GIVEN

Under the indicated plan, the main financial responsibility would continue to rest upon Los Angeles and the water district as the ultimate logical underwriters of the project, along with the Edison Company. It would simply mean that they were being given a reasonable time to put through the bond issues necessary before they can enter into a satisfactory contract with the government.

Solicitor Finney in his ruling said that "the necessity for flood control makes it to the interest of all parties that the project be initiated and completed at the earliest possible date. To the furtherance of this end, the Secretary is plainly empowered to make the necessary contracts at the earliest possible date. Contracts to that end which specifically reserve to the Secretary the power to make further contracts with the preference claimants for the power which he has allocated to them since they are 'not in conflict therewith' are within his authority."

Judge Finney's opinions hold that the Secretary of the Interior, in administering the Boulder Dam Act, has wide discretionary power all the way down the line, being bound chiefly by the duty of deciding everything "in the public interest" and by that meaning the "interest" of all the people of the country, without regard for any particular section.

OTHER HIGH POINTS

Among the high points in Finney's holdings are:

That the Secretary must accept none but "good business contracts" for power and other Boulder Dam benefits.

That the preference rights of States and municipalities only hold when they offer contracts equally as sound as those offered by private interests.

That it is not necessary for the Secretary to accept the "highest bid" for power, but that he should accept that which seems best from all standpoints, especially considering that this price must be one that can stand up under private competition. (This ruling upholds Wilbur's insistence upon 1.63 mills as the highest practicable figure that can be asked for the power.

That there is no preference to a State or municipality to power to be resold outside its own limits. (This is a direct denial of Nevada's claim.)

That Nevada is not sound in her contention that she has a "second preference" in the waterpower act for power for resale.

That Los Angeles has no preference greater than that of any other municipality in the three lower-basin States, and that in some respects States have greater priority than cities.

That a State cannot set up a corporation, deal through it for power and yet maintain its preference rights as a State, but that on the contrary a State must deal for power in its own right. (This again is aimed at Nevada.)

That States or municipalities may assign contracts which they execute but that they must remain directly responsible financially and otherwise to the government.

CARR NAMED AS "OUTSIDE" MEMBER

Formal announcement was made by Gov. Young yesterday of the appointment of William J. Carr, State Railroad Commissioner, to the California Colorado River Commission. Carr's name was announced by the Governor following the conclusion of a long conference held by him with other members of the Colorado River body.

Mr. Carr will serve as the additional or "outside" member of the commission at the California-Nevada-Arizona conference to be held at Reno Monday. The appointment of the additional member was made at the suggestion of Secretary of the Interior Wilbur.

ARIZONA SELECTS HAYDEN AS ADVISER

PHOENIX, Jan. 16. (AP)—Carl Hayden, Senator from Arizona, today was named as Arizona's adviser to the tri-State Colorado River conference which opens in Reno, Monday.

Announcement of Hayden's appointment was made by Gov. Phillips after the executive had received a telegram from Hayden accepting the appointment. In the telegram Snator Hayden advised the Governor he will leave Washington immediately for Reno and will arrive there Tuesday.

STRAWBERRY AND CREAM OUSTS SUN TAN ON FACE

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Sun tan as a complexional attribute has been scratched as an entry in the "what-the-well-made-up-women-will-look-like" sweepstakes of the 1930 summer season.

The American Association of Cosmeticians and Hair Artists looks after such things. Awhile back the browning beams of old man sunshine were being ballyhooed as great stuff, physically and from the point of pulchritude.

The American Association of Cosmeticians and Hair Artists now finds, however, that sun tan really is a sort of a mud color. It is apt to make a lady look dirty—crass though the adjective sounds.

It was Ruth D. Maurer who issued the ukase against the sun shade. What this country needs next summer, said Miss Maurer, speaking after a meeting of the association's directors, "is complexions of strawberry and cream."

mospheric pressure and temperature, it can be formed from the discharge of an electric spark, and is believed closely associated with magnetic disturbances.

There is said to be near relation between it and the aurora borealis, but scientists are not able to say positively which causes the other, if either. It is possible, Mr. Fowle believes, that the layer was caused by electrical particles thrown off by the sun.

While heat waves from the sun penetrate it, they cannot retrace their route because of a wave length change upon entering the earth's atmosphere. Its thickness, a minimum over the equator, increases as the North Pole is approached. No data have been collected at the South Pole but Mr. Fowle thinks the same condition prevails there.

SENATE BALKS ON SUGAR RISE

Norris, Nebraska, and La Follette, Wisconsin, looked upon as leaders, voted for present rates and Senators Nye and Frazier, North Dakota, and Howell, Nebraska, opposed them.

ROLL CALL ON QUESTION

The roll call follows:

Republicans: Allen, Blaine, Borah, Brookhart, Capper, Gillett, Goff, Jones, Keyes, La Follette, McMaster, Metcalf, Norbeck, Norris, Pine, Robinson of Indiana, Robsion and Schall—18.

Democrats, Ashurst, Barkley, Black, Blease, Bratton, Brock, Caraway, Conally, Dill, George, Glass, Harris, Harrison, Hawes, Hayden, Heflin, McKellar, Overman, Sheppard, Simmons, Smith, Steck, Swanson, Thomas of Oklahoma, Trammell, Tydings, Wagner, Walsh of Massachusetts and Wheeler—29.

Farmer-Labor: Shipstead—1.

Total 48.

Democrats: Broussard, Kendrick, King, Ransdell—4.

Republicans — Baird, Bingham, Couzens, Dale, Deneen, Frazier, Goldsborough, Gould, Greene, Frundy, Hale, Hastings, Hatfield, Hebert, Howell, Johnson, Kean, McCulloch, McNary, Moses, Nye, Oddie, Patterson, Phipps, Shortridge, Smoot, Steiwer, Sullivan, Thomas of Idaho, Townsend, Vandenberg, Walcott, Waterman and Watson—34.

NONVOTING PAIRS

Of those not voting pairs were announced as follows:

For Harrison Amendment—Cutting, Republican, and Copeland, Robinson, Ark., and Walsh, Montana, Democrats.

Against Harrison Amendment—Fletcher, Democrat, and Fess, Glenn, and Reed, Republicans. Senators Pittman, Nevada, and Stephens, Miss., were absent and unpaired.

Orestes Ferrara, the Cuban Ambassador to Washington, sees in the Senate's action the "first step toward a more intimate relation between the United States and Cuba."

"If politically the United States and Cuba are two separate entities because it is the will of the American and Cuban people," he said, "economically they are united by the same interests."

BOUNTY PROPOSAL

Senator Howell offered an amendment to the schedule providing a Federal bounty of .44 of a cent a pound on sugar produced in continental United States. He asked that a vote be deferred until tomorrow, as Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, absent today, desires to be present when the subject was discussed.

The bounty would be predicated on maintenance of existing tariffs and would be divided between growers of sugar beets and cane and refiners, with 90 per cent of it going to growers and 10 per cent to refiners after certain deductions.

The bounty would cost the Treasury $10,600,000, Howell estimated, and would be raised through sale of customs warrants receivable in payment for customs duties. In event any were sold below par, the difference would be deducted before the bounty was determined and divided.

Under the proposal the Nebraskan calculated, growers of sugar beets would be granted an "allowance" of $1 a ton for every ton of beets grown and cane farmers would get 61 cents a ton.

Increases from 4 to 8 cents a pound in the duty on maple sugar and from 4 to 5½ cents a pound on maple syrup were approved without a record vote. The House bill provides 7½ and 5 cents, respectively, on these products.

A committee amendment to increase the duty on sugar cane from $1 to $2 a ton then was approved by viva voce vote. The House bill provided a $3 duty.

ARIZONA SNOWS MAROON PARTY

as another onslaught of subzero temperatures and snows was forecast for Colorado, Wyoming and Montana.

The deaths of five Crow Indians, all members of the same family, who perished in their blazing cabin on the reservation south of Billings, Mont., yesterday, and the death of a woman pedestrian at Pueblo, Colo., who was struck by an automobile that skidded on an icy street last night, were attributed indirectly to the cold.

One of the freakiest weather conditions in the history of the Weather Bureau at Cheyenne, Wyo., puzzled a meteorologist. In a space of less than fifty miles there was a variation of thirty-three degrees in temperature. At Cheyenne this afternoon the mercury stood at 15 deg. below zero, while at Laramie, Wyo., less than fifty miles west, the reading was 18 deg. above.

Montana points reported record low temperatures for this winter, the mercury sliding to 38 deg. below zero on the east side of the continental divide at Valier, Mont.

Polite Bandit Holds Up Bank

BERKELEY, Jan. 16. (AP)—A nattily dressed and polite little bandit held up and robbed the College-avenue branch of the Bank of America here today, and escaped in the bank manager's car with about $3500 in coin and currency. He obligingly left a large amount of negotiable securities when told it would embarrass the bank if he took them.

BATTLESHIP BAN NOT TO BE ISSUE

America Opposes Abolition at Present

Any Holiday Must be Based Upon Parity

ward the MacDonald statement can be summed up about as follows:

It is fully expected that the abolition of battleships may be discussed at some future time, but it is not believed that it will be considered seriously by the London conference. The United States is definitely opposed at this time to this proposal.

Lengthening the life of battleships and a partial holiday on replacements until 1936 will be considered, but it is thought unlikely that a complete holiday on battleship building will be found generally acceptable.

PARITY BASIS

The general consideration upon which American naval experts insist is that in any holiday arrangement, real parity should be the measuring rod. This would involve the taking into account of the fact that the existing American battleships are of a higher average age than those of Great Britain and that some of them soon will pass beyond the age of usefulness. There is every reason to believe this point will be emphasized when the battleship discussion comes up.

How far Secretary Stimson will be prepared to go in reducing the gunpower of capital ships was not disclosed.

The two nations are agreed regarding submarines, but while the Americans would be glad to abolish or greatly restrict the use of underwater craft, there are many evidences that some, if not all, of the other powers are not ready to give serious consideration to such measures.

TARDIEU TO QUESTION STIMSON FOR INFORMATION

PARIS, Jan. 16. (AP)—It is understood here today that Premier Tardieu, when he meets Secretary Stimson, head of the American naval delegation in London, Sunday, will ask him frankly for information concerning the preliminary naval conversations between the United States and Great Britain.

He will ask, probably, just what parity means when the word is brought into practical application.

Dispatches from the steamship George Washington stating that Col. Stimson will assure the delegations of other countries at London that Great Britain and America have no naval accord binding on them, have made a good impression here.

The Premier's projected questioning of the American Secretary of State, it is felt, is more for the completion of his information than indication of any suspicions of England and the United States.

MacDONALD DEFENDS HONOR OF CONFEREES

LONDON, Jan. 16. (AP)—During the Prime Minister's discussion of the forthcoming naval armament conference with the journalists yesterday he was asked whether, in following British policy in delaying replacements, any nation would be permitted to replace battleships which accidentally were sunk by disaster or explosion.

Mr. MacDonald gave an affirmative answer.

The journalist said, "Then it would pay a nation to sink an old battleship?"

"I shall assume that the national representatives are honorable men," Mr. MacDonald answered slowly and gravely. "I think you will find I am right."

COLD SETS NEW RECORD IN MIDWEST

Weather Ranging from 3 to 20 Deg. Below Zero Spreads Far Into South

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Record subzero temperatures benumbed the Middle West today and spread far out to the Southwest and West. Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas all reported readings below the zero mark.

The intense cold also spread over Oklahoma and Northern Texas for the first time in a decade. Temperatures in that area ranged from 4 deg. below zero at Amarillo, Tex., to zero at Oklahoma City and Bartlesville, Okla. Temperatures in Kansas ranged from 3 below, the average reading, to 16 below at Norton and 18 below at Almena.

The coldest weather in six years gripped Nebraska and Iowa. At Omaha the government thermometer went to 12 below, while street thermometers registered as low as 16 below. So bitter was the cold that 150 men and women sought shelter in Central Police Station because they could not keep their homes warm. Business was at a standstill all day. At six different points street car power wires snapped, tying up traffic. All railroad trains were late.

Valentine and Ravenna, Neb., each reported 20 below; at North Platte it was 18 below; Beatrice, 13 below; Kearney, 14 below. Sioux City reported 16 below. Charles City, Iowa, reported 14 below; Pierre and Huron, S. D., 16 and 20 below. Throughout Minnesota the lowest temperatures were 12 below with a general climb of 6 deg. during the day. At 7 o'clock tonight St. Paul reported 8 below.

POPULAR MUSICIAN WON FAME ON RADIO

A. HICKMAN, ORCHESTRA CHIEF, DIES

Dance Music Purveyor of San Francisco Fails to Survive Operation

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Art Hickman, noted dance orchestra leader, died here today after a major operation. He was 42 years of age, and was born and educated in San Francisco.

Hickman had been suffering three years from Banti's disease, and left a hospital here only two weeks ago after having been a patient for five months. Wednesday he suffered a relapse and after a consultation an operation was decided upon. It was performed early today. Three blood transfusions were resorted to afterward in vain efforts to save his life.

All his life Hickman was a musician, but it was in the birth of the "jazz" age just after the war that he climbed to national fame as a director of dance music. A stage engagement in a large revue took him east a decade ago, and he later directed dance orchestras at several large hotels and cafes in the East.

His music was particularly popular in his home State of California, where he was one of the pioneers in broadcasting dance tunes by radio.

STORM DEFIED IN FLYER HUNT

fought to find a way out of the storm that had trapped him.

George T. Rich and Ray Elsmore, Boeing Air Transport mail pilots, who have joined the search, were reported from Caliente as believing that Graham came down near there.

Rich, according to a Union Pacific message, pointed out that Graham was nearly out of gasoline when he circled the Bristol mines, a few miles north of Caliente, early Saturday morning.

Graham had enough fuel for approximately six hours' flying, but when he passed the Bristol mines he had been in the air nearly that long and could not have continued far, Rich is reported to have said.

The Boeing pilots also were reported to have stated they will keep up the search until Graham or his plane is located.

If Graham survived a possible landing crash and the storms that have swept the area since he came down he has little or nothing left to eat, it is agreed by searchers.

They have hopes, however, that Graham may have made his way to a snowbound miner's or line-rider's cabin and is waiting for a chance to get out on foot.

Flyers gave him a fifty-fifty chance of escaping if his plane crashed in a blind landing.

WILBUR URGES VETERAN SHIFT

Assistant Secretary for Affairs Favored

Bureau Spends Each Year Nearly $750,000,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur today recommended legislation to create an assistant secretary for veterans' affairs under an executive department to handle all governmental agencies dealing with war veterans.

In a report to the House Expenditures Committee, which is considering the Williamson bill to place the agencies under the direction of the Veterans' Bureau, Secretary Wilbur said the bureau is too large not to be directly under a member of the Cabinet.

HOOVER ASKED MERGER

The consolidation plan was proposed by President Hoover in his first annual message to Congress. The Williamson bill, sponsored by the chairman of the Expenditures Committee, was approved by Director Hines of the Veterans' Bureau by the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans.

Secretary Wilbur explained in his report that his proposal was based on a study conducted by the Chief Executive's fact-finding committee on veterans' agencies, headed by himself.

UNITY ESSENTIAL

Wilbur declared the really essential thing is "unity of command over pension questions of the government through some common official."

"The veterans' bureau is now loose, unattached, unrepresented in the Cabinet. It spends toward $750,000,000 a year and is too large a force to be by itself," he added.

He advocated setting up a "coordination committee" to bring about economies.

Pension Commissioner Church also presented a substitute bill similar in tenor to Secretary Wilbur's but specifying "an assistant Secretary of the Interior for veterans' affairs."

Hines said Williamson's bill is sound and would save $1,500,000 annually in administrative costs and would curtail construction costs by $10,000,000. He said he could anticipate no difficulties in the amalgamated administration under the Veterans' Bureau.

CARDINGTON (Eng.) Jan. 16. (AP)—The British dirigible R-100 went through a successful test flight today which lasted more than twelve hours.

After going over their records, officers of the R-100 say their craft had beaten the Graf Zeppelin and all other dirigible records by making a speed in excess of eighty-one miles an hour with 600 horsepower in reserve. They say the ship was steadiest at a speed of eighty miles an hour.

Discouraged By Failing Health, Scr Actress Finds New Vitaminized Flaxol Results "Simply Amazing"

Well Known Stage and Screen Favorite Run Down and Health for Several Years Tells Story of Her Recovery

ETHLYN GIBSON
Now with Fox Films

Miss Ethlyn Gibson, residing in Hollywood, Calif., is a former Follies beauty and featured star in the well-known series of "Winnie Winkle" screen comedies. Due to her strenuous work on the stage and in motion pictures for several years, she had a complete breakdown, and while out riding horseback in an endeavor to recover her health, she fell off her horse, thereby aggravating her condition. She writes to Dr. Luntz, telling of her recovery through the use of Flaxolyn.

"Dear Doctor—

"I know you will be interested to know how much good Flaxolyn did for me.

"For the past few years I suffered with nervousness, headaches and sleepless nights. My appetite had left me, I suffered with bilious attacks and constipation had me in pretty bad shape, all due to the strenuous work I have been doing on the stage and for the screen.

"I had to give up a good part of my work which I loved so well and was getting disgusted with life in general, when a friend of mine told me about your Flaxolyn Formula. A few bottles of Flaxolyn has made a different person out of me. I have gained in strength, my stomach is in excellent shape, no more trouble with constipation or nervousness; I sleep soundly and feel great all around.

"Words are not sufficient to tell you how happy I am that I was able to get a real remedy for the terrible condition I was in. Thanks to you and Flaxolyn Formula, I am able to continue with my life's work on the stage and for the screen without losing any time on account of illness. I shall recommend Flaxolyn Formula as the best remedy for stomach trouble and run-down condition obtainable."

Miss Gibson's case is only one of thousands which have been treated successfully by Flaxolyn, the natural health discovery.

Former Neighbors Recognize Irene Schroeder

Arizona Captive Named as Eastern Killer

Woman Taken in Battle to Fight Extradition

PHOENIX, Jan. 16. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Caywood of Benwood, W. Va., today identified Mrs. Irene Schroeder, captured Tuesday in the Sierra Ostrellas near Laveen, Ariz., in a gun battle with deputy sheriffs, as a daughter of Joe Crawford of Benwood. Irene and a sister, Ruby, married two Schroeder brothers in Benwood, Mrs. Caywood said.

Mrs. Schroeder and M. Glenn Dague, captured with her, are wanted in Pennsylvania in connection with the slaying near Newcastle last December of Corporal Brady Paul of the Pennsylvania highway patrol, and the wounding of Private Ernest Moore.

TAKEN IN BATTLE

In company with a third man, identified from fingerprints as Vernon Ackerman, ex-convict from Oklahoma, they threw Southern Arizona into a state of terror for twenty-four hours before they were driven from a stronghold on a peak of the Ostrella Mountains by the rifle fire of a mounted posse. The trio kidnapped Deputy Sheriff Joe Chapman in Florence, Ariz., shot him and threw him out of their car seven hours later at Chandler, Ariz., during a skirmish with a patrol of Sheriff's deputies sent out to halt them. In the Chandler fight a second deputy, Lee Wright, was wounded. Both Chapman and Wright are recovering. A posse of forty men trailed the fugitives into the Ostrellas and forced their surrender after a brisk battle.

Mrs. Caywood said she knew Irene intimately only as a girl, but that she remembers her marriage. She displayed a photograph of another sister, Mamie, which bore a family resemblance.

TO FIGHT EXTRADITION

The Caywoods left Benwood last November and have been staying in Jerome, Ariz. They came here a week ago and visited the County Jail today when they recognized Mrs. Schroeder's picture in a newspaper.

Informed that officers are en route from Newcastle to return her to Pennsylvania to face the slaying charge, Mrs. Schroeder served notice that she will contest extradition. Arizona authorities also have stated that unless Pennsylvania can present evidence that it has a first-degree murder case against Mrs. Schroeder and Dague they will decline to honor extradition papers. It is understood here that Pennsylvania also will seek extradition of Ackerman, also known as Joe F. Wells.

LIFE MEANS LESS THAN GOOD MEAL

Slayer Escapes Electric Chair, Yet Mourns Loss of Chicken Dinner

OSSINING (N. Y.) Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—At 85 years of age a good chicken dinner means more to eccentric Ernest Duane, once a Northwoods guide, than a few more days or even years of life. Duane proved it today. For eight months he's languished in Sing Sing death house waiting to be electrocuted for the murder of Eula Davis, another Adirondacks guide, of Speculator, N. Y. He showed no emotion today when he was told he would be led to the chair tonight, but he showed great relish in ordering his last supper, an elaborate chicken dinner allowed death house inmates as a last meal.

Then word came from Gov. Roosevelt that the aged guide's sentence had been commuted to life imprisonment. When the news was carried to him Duane said forlornly:

"Then I won't get my chicken dinner, will I?"

He was still mourning the lost dinner when led from the prison of living dead men to the outside cell block at Sing Sing, there to spend his remaining days on the rough regular prison fare.

Judge Expected to Close Long Dispute on Care of Mentally Sick Millionaire

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Two years' litigation over the disputed personal guardianship of Stanley McCormick, mentally sick multimillionaire, which involves the conservatorship of the incompetent's $60,000,000 estate, will terminate here tomorrow when Superior Judge Dehy hands down a ruling continuing or dissolving McCormick's present board of guardianship.

The board is composed of Stanley McCormick's wife, the former Katherine Dexter of Chicago, his brother, Harold F. McCormick of Chicago, and his sister, Mrs. Emmons Blaine of Santa Monica.

The litigation resulted from the wife's effort to be named as her husband's sole guardian, by eliminating her brother-in-law and sister-in-law. Mrs. McCormick also sought to force the abandonment of the efforts at mental healing which for two and a half years have been applied to her husband under approval of Harold McCormick and Mrs. Blaine.

THE HAGUE, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Hague reparations conference, which has reached agreement on many of the important points at issue, encountered another obstacle today when a solution was sought for the conditions of commercialization of part of Germany's reparations debt.

Premier Tardieu of France raised the question of other German loans that might interfere with marketing the reparations bonds. He asked an agreement by the German government that no loans will be floated in foreign markets until the first installment of reparations bonds has been disposed of.

The German delegation said it could not give such an understanding without consulting its experts. The experts have been sent for and will be consulted tomorrow, after which discussion of the problem will be resumed.

DOHENY SEEKS SECRET REPORT

Subpoena Issued for Adams to Supply Data

Asserted Hostile Attitude of Japan Involved

Lines Being Drawn for Oil Man's Trial in March

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Justice Fitz in the District Supreme Court here today issued a subpoena to Secretary of the Navy Adams ordering him to produce at the trial of E. L. Doheny, Los Angeles oil man, which is set for March 10, the reports made by Admiral Albert Gleaves in 1921, said to contain secret data on the subject of the asserted hostile attitude of Japan to the United States.

The subpoena was issued upon a plea of attorneys who will defend Doheny against the charge that he bribed Secretary of the Interior Fall to obtain for the Pan-American Petroleum Company leases to naval oil reserve lands located in Elk Hills, Cal.

Curtis D. Wilbur, then Secretary of the Navy, refused to produce the Gleaves reports at the Doheny-Fall trial in 1926 which resulted in the acquittal of the former Secretary of the Interior and the oil man. Secretary Adams also refused to produce those reports at the Fall trial last October which resulted in the former Secretary of the Interior's conviction.

The defense in these cases insist that the reports made by Admiral Gleaves were the foundation of a plan of the Naval War Board to provide extensive storage facilities for naval oil for emergency use at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. The navy secretaries have maintained the position that to make the Gleaves reports public would imperil the friendly relations of the United States with Japan.

Frank J. Hogan of Washington will be chief counsel in the Doheny defense. Associated with him will be Joseph J. Cotter, Washington attorney, who was assistant general counsel of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company when the leases under attack were made and who was one of the attorneys for Doheny at the former trial.

Newspaper Man Tells of Interview Arranged in Office of King

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Frank Boal, Washington newspaper man, testified today before the Senate lobby committee that he had arranged an interview with E. R. Pickrell of the General Dyestuff Corporation, in the office of Senator King, Democrat, Utah.

Pickrell previously had denied before the committee reports that he had used King's office as headquarters during consideration of the tariff bill but said he had written a few letters in the office and had made a long-distance telephone call.

Boal added, however, that when he went to King's office to keep the appointment Pickrell was not there.

He said he was informed Pickrell had been called suddenly to his office.

Several importers testified today they had made trips to Washington to present briefs before Congressional committees against increased rates, and listed their expenses. Other importers will be questioned tomorrow.

Mrs. Luckenbach stated in an affidavit that her husband, his son, and Miss Stone are now living in Florida on his island estate known as "C. M. C., Islamirado," and that he will probably leave shortly for California and Hawaii.

Mrs. Luckenbach is a daughter of C. Hilmer Lundbeck, director-general of the Swedish American Steamship Company.

Ice Sheath Protects Areas Flooded by Thaw

Only in Two States Have Rivers Gone Wild

Wabash Holds Southeastern Indiana in Its Thrall

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (AP)—A sheath of ice forged on winter's coldest anvil protected the flooded valleys of the Central States tonight as rivers and streams, still gorged with ice and melted snows, began to slip back into their wonted channels.

Only along the lower reaches of the rivers of Arkansas and Mississippi and down the storied Wabash are the waters still rising, breaking their bonds in the two Southern States to overflow several thousand acres of farm lands in Quitman county, Mississippi, and Green county, Arkansas.

MIRRORS IN FIELDS

The tragic scepter of winter touched the thousands of lakes and pools left by the receding floods from Ohio to Missouri and transformed them into mirrors of ice where a week ago stood fields of corn.

The Kaskaskia, rampant yesterday over 60,000 acres of farm land, was slinking back to its bed today as the ice checked its flow in Southern Illinois. A few families who stood their ground against the advancing waters of the Wabash at Mt. Carmel, Ill., yesterday became refugees today as the water climbed another six inches.

WABASH THREATENS

The Wabash still holds Southeastern Indiana in its thrall, threatening to break through its levees. Its level at Vincennes today was .9 of a foot above the 1913 flood level and the crest is not expected to be reached before tomorrow.

The menace of the flood in Ohio, the greatest in seventeen years in parts of the State, was relieved by the freezing weather, but 200 families are still marooned at Ottawa, while the Blanchard River that isolated them recedes. Railway transportation was resumed but highways are still under water.

He looked like a polite young man, but inside of him he felt smart. 'Tis a pity for one who looks all right to have it in him to act smart. A lady customer thought the young man at the checking counter had made a mistake—he had not but she thought so, and if the young man had behaved as well as he looked this lady would have had the right kind of explanation given her that would have kept her feeling friendly. This nice looking, smart young man was so full of himself that he answered brusquely and peevishly that he was right and she was wrong. # WETS AND DRYS HAVE FIELD DAY

Prohibition Law's Merits Argued in Congress

Blaine Offers Resolution for Its Repeal

Amendment Attacked as Illegally Adopted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The tenth anniversary of prohibition found the Congressional controversy over President Hoover's plans for strengthening Volstead enforcement superseded temporarily today by arguments on the merits of the dry law itself.

Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, offered a resolution for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York, introduced a resolution to declare the amendment inoperative on technical grounds.

Two veteran drys of the memorable contest which brought a ban on the sale and transportation of liquor stood up in the Senate and House to pronounce their cause a contributing factor to America's greatness.

Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas, co-author of the Eighteenth Amendment, hailed the "triumphant tread" of prohibition before an empty Senate chamber.

LARGE DEALERS OUSTED

Representative Cooper, Republican, Ohio, contended before an enthusiastic House that a "solid phalanx" of members of the Christian churches would stand for perpetuation of prohibition.

As the Congressional wet and dry orators were indulging in their polemics, Prohibition Commissioner Doran selected the day to declare that the large scale liquor operators had been driven to cover and that the "lines are tightening with certainty" on smaller violators.

There were other orators, too. Representative Clancy, Republican, Michigan, a wet, bitterly assailed the Anti-Saloon League for holding its present meeting in Detroit, his home city. He described the league as "the most bigoted and most fanatical organization in the world," and termed Dr. F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, "a typical league lobbyist who never won his leadership by an overscrupulous conscience."

SENATE LESS INTERESTED

Representative Oliver, Democrat, New York, another wet, told the House "we turned a good sermon into a bad law" and it was time for America "to conquer her sense of humor."

"Near January 1, 1920, America woke up in church," said Oliver, "took the pledge and resolved to be better than our fathers. We have tried by law to make a tenth-rate heaven out of America but have discovered that our paradise is populated not by angels but by human beings."

The Senate, still in the throes of the tariff struggle, did not evidence so much interest in prohibition. Senator Blaine caused hardly a stir as he offered his repealing amendment with a declaration that prohibition is a "failure." Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, an ardent dry, inquired as to the purpose of his resolution and then congratulated the Wisconsin Senator on a "splendid sense of humor."

Only a handful listened to Senator Sheppard as he extolled prohibition. He insisted that the "coming of Federal prohibition has meant the saving of 2,000,000 lives in ten years."

"It is in the Federal Constitution and it is there to remain," the Texan said. "It is in the enforcement statutes of the nation, and it is there to stay. It is in the hearts and consciences and bank balances, the homes, the comforts, the living facilities, the moral, educational and economical advantages of the American people, and in all of these it is forever planted."

Taking the occasion to plead for his bill to make buyers of liquor equally guilty with bootleggers, Senator Sheppard described the liquor purchaser as "the most dangerous character in our national life."

Representative Cooper took the floor in the House in answer to the recent speech of Representative Schafer, Republican, Wisconsin, a wet, in which he said "You must choose between prohibition and the Christian religion."

REPLY APPLAUDED

Cooper was applauded as he replied: "It seems incredible, even to those who have long marked the daring and unscrupulousness of the liquor interests, that any man should stand on the floor of the House and make a comparison between the divine Christ, the rum runner and the bootlegger."

Senator Blease, Democrat, South Carolina, joined the day's discussion with an estimate that almost 100,000 Federal judges would be required to enforce the law. He demanded enforcement equally against all violators, saying, "If you enforce it to the big rich men, they're going to repeal it."

In his resolution, Representative Laguardia contended that the States actually ratified a joint resolution of Congress rather than a Constitutional amendment. He would, therefore, declare the amendment inoperative.

STANDARD OF LIVING CREDITED TO PROHIBITION

BOSTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Continued maintenance and further strengthening of the prohibition laws will be the principal factor in maintaining the present high standard of living in the United States, Dr. J. M. Doran, United States prohibition commissioner, told the Women's Christian Temperance Union here today. The luncheon was held in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the ratification of the Eighteenth Amendment.

"Any discussion of our national prohibition policy that attempts to relate the method or manner of the handling of the problem of alcoholic liquors, as in effect prior to the World War, to the present situation, ignores the one great basic fact of the tremendous change in application of power to industry that has taken place in that period of time," Dr. Doran said.

If the United States were back twenty-five years, he added, much might be said of the desirability of local option, as the various communities and States were not so dependent upon each other as at present.

Taking cognizance of the "wet" meetings to mourn deaths resulting from enforcement of prohibition, Doran said, "While we are holding services and while we are considering the people who have lost their lives in the program of the government to enforce the law, we must remember that 100,000 more people would have been slain on the highways last year than were, had it not been for prohibition."

Anti-Saloon League Plans Nation-wide Crusade; Anniversary of Prohibition Celebrated

DETROIT, Jan. 16. (AP)—Prohibition crusaders assembled here in the national convention of the Anti-Saloon League celebrated the tenth anniversary of constitutional aridity today by listening to reviews of past victories and laying plans for the future.

A definite swing toward emphasizing the educational side of prohibition while continuing efforts in behalf of enforcement featured most of the speeches delivered at the regular sessions of the league. Plans for metings of an evangelistic nature in various communities and for educational programs in schools and colleges were discussed and met with general approval.

BUYER'S GUILT ISSUE

Bishop Thomas Nicholson of Detroit, president of the national organization, expressed doubts in an address as to the advisability of legislation to make the buyer equally culpable with the seller.

"In principle," said the bishop, "I believe that is soundly true and right, but I have some doubts that the way to get at it is by legal action. The better way is through public opinion."

At another point in his talk, Bishop Nicholson said, "I am not for promiscuous shooting, but I am for Admiral Billard and his associates when they say, 'we mean business.'"

CHURCH AND POLITICS

The Methodist prelate also stated that the "wet forces tried to keep the church out of politics, but I am proud to say that the evangelical churches have abandoned the doctrine of talking only of the other world and have adopted the policy of watching the kingdom of this world."

The enforcement angle of the league's policy was stressed at a "support the President luncheon" sponsored by the business committee of the league. Messages from all parts of the country were read, including one from Thomas A. Edison, who said, "all good citizens will stand by the wise program of our great President. This reform must go on to world-wide success."

PROGRESS REVIEWED

A review of the successive steps from regulation was given in an address of Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, director of the league's department of education, tonight.

Dr. Cherrington declared that "evidence of the progress of the temperance movement is found in the gradual conversion of the wets to the program of the drys. Of the nine principal programs advocated by the drys . . . eight have finally been agreed to by the wets, according to their own testimony from time to time."

He based this claim on an assertion that as each mode of regulation or prohibition was adopted, it was defended by the wets when the drys sought a more stringent method.

Superintendents from several States were on the program during the day. Among them was David Hepburn of Virginia, who declared that President Hoover carried that State because of the "wet record" of his opponent.

WRIGHT ACT HELD FIRMLY ENTRENCHED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—"The heart of California is determinedly back of the Wright Act as it ever has been."

With that as its theme, the bi-county San Francisco - San Mateo Women's Christian Temperance Union today celebrated the tenth anniversary of national prohibition at the Bellevue Hotel, with State officers as guests of honor.

Reference to the proposed repeal of the Wright Act, a movement for which has been forming for some time, met with the assertion that all Christian women in California are behind the enforcement of the act because they are in sympathy with its principle.

Mrs. Rena Shannon, visiting district president from Kentucky, said State problems in regard to enforcement are an integral part of national enforcement, to which C. W. Gawthrop of the Anti-Saloon League declared:

"The heart of California is as loyal to President Hoover as any in the country. Nothing could discredit California more than to repeal the Wright Act at this time, when the President is taking such a magnificent stand to enforce the law."

William G. Walker, prohibition administrator for this district, told of the activities of his department, its problems and its drawbacks. Walker paid tribute to prohibition agents.

SARGON'S FAME SPREADS OVER ENTIRE WORLD

People of This Country Sending It to Relatives and Friends in England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Canal Zone, Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Sweden, Cuba and to Many Distant Lands.

Sargon's Record of Marvelous Achievement Open Book to All—Success of Celebrated Medicine Based On Actual Results—Not Empty Promises.

IF you found a medicine that was of such great benefit to you that you would go to the trouble of sending it to relatives and friends in distant countries, you would have to be convinced in your own mind that it possessed unusual merit, wouldn't you?

That's just what hundreds of people throughout the United States have been doing with Sargon.

From all over America and wherever Sargon has been introduced, thousands of letters have been received from grateful users telling of the gratifying results that have been accomplished by this medicine.

Thousands of letters Received

On November 27, a letter dated November 23, was received at the Sargon offices advising that in one week one drug firm alone had shipped Sargon to Cavite, Philippine Islands; Coca-Solo, Canal Zone; Belebrook, Ireland, and Paris, France.

Only recently a well-konwn resident of Denver, Colo., who had been restored to health by Sargon, sent a full treatment to London, England, to his sister, who is the wife of an executive of one of the greatest retail drug firms in the British Empire.

During the past month there appeared in the Toronto, Canada, papers the statement of a well-known Canadian World War veteran whose health had been greatly impaired while in the service, who stated among other things, that he owed his complete restoration to health to two bottles of Sargon sent him by a friend in Minneapolis.

From the Northwest, many letters of this kind have been received advising that users of Sargon are sending it to relatives back in their old countries of Sweden and Norway.

Many of these letters and endorsements have been received from men of prominence, including former governors, business and professional men, Mayors, State and county officials, and even ministers of the Gospel have deemed it their duty to come forward and tell what Sargon has done for them.

Only a short time ago, for instance, the vice-president of one of the South's largest corporations walked into a Memphis drug store and purchased his sixth bottle of Sargon. He had taken three bottles himself and stated he had received such wonderful benefit from it he was getting the other for relatives and friends.

Another well-known business man who had been so greatly benefited by Sargon recommended it to his business associates and employes, so that four different men in one firm are taking the Sargon treatment as the result of only one bottle originally sold.

Its Fame Is Rapidly Spreading

These are only a few of thousands of such cases which have arisen since Sargon was placed on the market in April, 1928.

Human nature is the same the world over. When suffering men and women find a medicine that helps them, they naturally want to tell their friends about it, and in this way the fame of Sargon is rapidly spreading throughout the length and breadth of the entire American continent.

Sargon's fame is based on actual results, not empty promises; only those who have put it to the test know its real powers. Sargon's aim is not mere temporary relief, but new and abundant health. No wonder it is now called the medicine with a million friends.

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

on BIG PROFIT, the consumer's arch-enemy. The profit that had to be added, after the cost of the goods and the making was figured, has always been a thorn in the buyer's side. But it was always accepted as a necessary evid because of the knowledge that the marketing of big commodities, or articles as you wish to call them, had to carry a big selling cost and profit, inasmuch as they did not move as rapidly as small articles. In other words, VOLUME was lacking. And everyone knows, just as sure as there is a nose on their face, that if the selling cost and profit is to be cut on each individual suit (and that said cost generally is the largest one of a suit) there must be a big volume. How to get it was the vexing problem. John Driscoll, several years ago, conceived the idea of having each buyer take two suits at one time, thereby saving one profit automatically. He foresaw that the low price per suit under the two-for-one offer, would prove so attractive that buyers would come in great numbers, thereby reducing the profit on the original suit. Mr. Driscoll also foresaw the savings that would result from buying woolens and making suits on a big scale, and those savings would be passed on to the consumer. So you see, folks, a righteous war has been made on BIG PROFIT, which has been, in the past, the biggest cost of a suit. A low price means nothing to the buyer if the quality of the goods or the tailoring has been tampered with. But if you get a low price, under John Driscoll's method, that of assailing the profit evil, by reason of the "two-at-a-time plan," then you have achieved a real saving. Verify this fact at either one of the three Driscoll stores. You will surely order.

FLY-FUND FIGHT CALLS MACKEY

California Expert Asked to Give Testimony

Wanted as Witness Before House Committee

Local Chamber of Commerce Offers Florida Aid

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Representative Curry of Sacramento, chairman of the California Congressional delegation, today wired G. H. Hecke, State Director of Agriculture, asking him to detail his assistant, Dr. Mackey, as a witness on behalf of the $15,000,000 appropriation for the eradication of the Mediterranean fruit fly, which will come before the House Appropriations Committee on the 25th inst.

The wire was sent following a meeting of the special committee appointed by the California delegation to co-operate with Florida, Texas and other States working for the appropriation. Members of this committee agreed that the chances of passage of the item are good if the Appropriation Committee can be convinced that the fruit-fly menace still exists.

OUTSTANDING AUTHORITY

Dr. Mackey is at present conducting research work in Florida. He has first-hand knowledge of the situation and is an expert on insect pests. Members of the special committee feel that testimony from such an authority will convince the Appropriation Committee of the continued seriousness of the pest.

Similar messages also went to other State officials and citrus organizations explaining the situation and asking for their support of the delegation program.

Two other developments in the fruit-fly fight which occurred today were the scouting of graft charges in the Florida antifly fight by C. R. Pierce, formerly of California, and now a lawyer in Miami; and the transmission of a letter from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to Representative Drane of Florida offering its aid and sympathy.

CHAMBER'S LETTER

The letter from the Los Angeles chamber reads, in part:

"The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is wholeheartedly behind your efforts to procure action by Congress adopting President Hoover's recommendation that $15,000,000 be appropriated for eradication of the Mediterranean fruit fly.

"This action is inspired not merely by fear of the possible spread of the pest to our own orchards and gardens, but by the sympathy which one great agricultural State feels for another similar State which has had more than its share of disasters."

Charles R. Pierce of Miami, a Stanford graduate, who has conducted a personal investigation of the fruit-fly situation since its outbreak in Florida said today that the money spent previously in the eradication campaign has not been wasted in graft. It is the charge of graft which has aroused the enmity of Chairman Wood of the Appropriation Committee and caused him to head the opposition to the appropriation.

GLIDER WILL TAKE OFF FROM FLYING DIRIGIBLE

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16. (AP)—Preparations are being made at Lakehurst, N. J., for the first flight ever to be made in a motorless airplane from a dirigible.

Lieut. Ralph S. Barnaby told the Aero Club here last night that he will take off Friday in a glider from beneath the keel of the dirigible Los Angeles while the ship is flying 3000 feet above Lakehurst.

He hopes the experiment will provide a practical means of getting a man to earth quickly whenever it becomes necessary to have a member of the crew on the ground to supervise the landing of the dirigible away from its base.

"It is possible that gliders will become permanent equipment aboard navy dirigibles," he said.

After the flight over Lakehurst another may be made over Washington. The glider to be used weighs 175 pounds.

Portes Gil Bids Army Farewell

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16. (AP)—President Portes Gil, who leaves office February 5, made an address last night which may be his valedictory to the Mexican Army.

Speaking at the inauguration of the new artillery barrack here, he said the army would save Mexican institutions and "would follow as heretofore in the path of duty and honor."

He declared Mexicans should be proud of a soldiery which was fraternized with the workers and peasants in the realization and protection of the revolutionary ideal.

Utah Lead Mines Held Producers

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—Testimony that the Utah lead mines had produced considerable lead and silver was brought out today in Federal Court at the trial of Charles Beadon, the Utah Lead Company of Delaware and six other defendants charged with mail fraud in the promotion of Utah lead stocks.

The witness, Guy Lewis of the Richfield Commercial and Savings Bank of Utah, also said he believed the mines will produce again.

Lepers Ordered Hospitalized

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Mexican government today ordered segregation of all lepers in special wards of public hospitals. Each State must establish leper sanatoriums before February 14 of next year.

Until now lepers have been allowed to roam at large in Mexico. Estimates of the number in Mexico City and vicinity range as high as 2000.

Tracks Blocked by Landslide

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16. (AP)—A landslide at Merlin, fifty miles north of Oroville in Butte county, at 3 o'clock this afternoon halted all traffic on the Western Pacific main line.

Western Pacific officials here said it will take twelve hours for a steam shovel and crew to clear the tracks. The slide was caused by heavy rains and snow.

Hoover Selects Bulgaria Envoy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—President Hoover today nominated Henry Wharton Shoemaker of Pennsylvania to be Minister to Bulgaria.

Shoemaker is a widely known publisher of Altoona, Pa. He succeeds Arthur Schoenfeld, who resigned recently from the diplomatic service.

PART OF REBEL BAND IN SAMOA CAPTURED

APIA (Western Samoa) Jan. 15. (AP)—First arrests were made today of members of the Mau (League of Samoan Natives,) who took to the bush recently to avoid punishment for opposing New Zealand's government. Six mounted policemen captured seven natives and brought them to Apia under guard. Seventy-eight Mau members wanted in court to answer charges growing out of the fighting December 28, last, in which one white constable and eight Samoans were killed, escaped to the hills.

CHICAGO HOSPITAL SCENE OF BLAZE

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Fire swept the basement of Mercy Hospital early today, alarming many of the 350 patients and resulting in six firemen being overcome by fumes from burning paint. While firemen were extinguishing the flames below, nurses moved silently through the hospital rooms, restoring quiet. It was not necessary to remove any patients.

SHORT LEAGUE MEETING ENDS

Members Eager to Attend Naval Conference

Session Marked by Absence of Controversies

Step Toward Adoption of Kellogg Pact Taken

GENEVA, Jan. 16. (AP)—The fifty-eighth session of the Council of the League of Nations adjourned today. Almost everyone was in a hurry to leave Geneva for the naval parley.

Throughout the session of the Council, which was one of the shortest in its history, it was apparent that the members were preoccupied with the coming London conference and wished very much to avoid any subject which might give rise to conflict and delay their adjournment.

Accomplishments of the Council session were three:

Selection of a committee of eleven to draft changes in the covenant of the League of Nations to bring it into conformity with the Kellogg pact and ban aggressive warfare altogether.

Second: Voting of a conference on February 17 to consider a customs truce, a stage in the League's campaign to reduce restrictions to international trade.

Third: Agreement to appoint a special commission of three persons to determine rights and claims regarding the wailing wall of Jerusalem.

The Council also summoned an international conference on buoyage and lighting coasts for next October. This will be held at Lisbon on invitation of the Portuguese government. All other maritime countries will have an opportunity to participate.

FREIGHT RATE CUT ON FARM PRODUCE URGED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Reduction of freight rates on agricultural products by the Interstate Commerce Commission was proposed today in a resolution introduced by Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa.

Sleeping Equipment

Insist on seeing the inside workmanship and material contents of every box spring and mattress you buy—this is absolutely necessary as the heart and life of sleeping equipment is under the outside covering, and scientific sleeping equipment is essential to good health. In buying a motor car you naturally insist on inspecting the motor, and having the mechanical features explained, for the motor is the heart of any automobile.

BARKER BROS.
SCIENTIFIC SLEEPING
EQUIPMENT

Barker Bros. Scientific Sleeping equipment, is all displayed with cross sections of every type and quality sold. These are duplicates in miniature of the articles delivered to your home, so you may carefully inspect the inner constructions before you invest. Barker Bros. have spent years in perfecting the "Barkerest" springs and mattresses, developing the idea of building sleeping equipment to suit the individual weight of the user. This is found in every Barkerest piece regardless of price. Experts are at your service to advise you on the sleeping equipment to best suit your individual requirements.

Cold weather and "wet" gasoline WON'T MIX

. . . the starter groans, the motor wheezes . . . then silence!

BLOW YOUR BREATH ON A COLD MIRROR
. . . that's what happens to "wet" gasoline in a cold motor—it condenses in droplets on the cylinder walls. "Dry" gas, on the other hand, stays vaporized better and therefore burns more cleanly

YOU'VE heard a neighbor "trying to start his car"—on a cold night when everything was quiet. (Perhaps he has heard you in the same fix, too.)

In that silence that follows the last weak sputter of the motor, you can imagine his words—not pleasant ones.

He is trying to use ordinary "wet" gasoline, no doubt. May be called "winter" gasoline but it is "wet" just the same. Contains too many heavy petroleum fractions to vaporize. He floods his carburetor with the choke. Washes all the oil off the cylinder walls, dilutes the crankcase oil, all just to get his motor started!

Shell 400, the "dry" gas, forms a dry vapor that catches from the first spark. Half the choke starts you off. In a few seconds the motor will run smoothly without any choke at all. What a difference!

And because "dry" gas burns cleanly you avoid oil dilution . . . get more power and mileage because your fuel is more completely used. Try Shell 400. It isn't afraid of cold weather.

WELCOME GIVEN TO ORTIZ RUBIO

Mexico's President-elect Reaches Home Land

Rousing Celebration Greets Him at Nogales

Thanks to Americans Given for Hospitality

NOGALES (Son., Mex.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Pascual Ortiz Rubio, President-elect of Mexico, returned to his home soil this afternoon to be greeted by a tumultuous throng of more than 20,000 people gathered here from the twin border cities and from all parts of Mexico.

The second battalion of the Twenty-fifth United States Infantry guarded the President-elect and his party until they had crossed the international border, where the Sixteenth Battalion of Mexican army took over the duty of guarding their future ruler.

HE BIDS ADIEU

As a final courtesy President-elect Ortiz Rubio was presented with an autographed photograph of Herbert Hoover. The photograph was presented to the President-elect by Arthur Bliss Lane, chief of the division of Mexican affairs.

Senor Ortiz Rubio made public the following statement, addressed to the American people:

"At the time of crossing the international line into my own country I wish to send to the American people through the Associated Press a warm message of gratitude for the cordial and courteous manner in which I was greeted in every place during my stay in the United States.

OPTIMISTIC VIEW

"I sincerely believe that the fundamental purpose of my visit, namely to strengthen the ties of our countries, has been attained and that I could obtain a better knowledge of the real character and feelings of the American people, hoping at the same time that also the citizens of the United States may obtain a better understanding of the Mexican people.

"If, during my tour, I would have only received extraordinary manifestations of courtesy from the authorities of this country, my trip would have resulted in much good, but added to the cordial official attentions the manifestations of the American people have undoubtedly attained a deeper result for the better relations between both countries.

"I feel sure that the administration over which I will preside will be marked by constant co-operation and understanding between Mexico and the United States."

McCormick Held to be Exempt

Declared to in France

Jan. 16. (AP)—Mme. McCormick, wife of McCormick of Chicago, from customs of the third di- United States Cus- that Mme. Mc-

Cormick's legal residence is in France and explained that the legal status of a married woman has changed so greatly in recent years that in most States she stands on terms of equality with her husband.

The decision ended a case started a year ago last September when the customs officials held Mme. McCormick liable to duty on $2,000,000 worth of personal effects she brought with her from abroad when she came to visit her husband in this country.

For the purpose of the test case duty was paid under protest on a coat. The other articles were left with customs officials until she returned to her Paris home last March. They were handed over to her just before she sailed.

WOMAN TO DEFEND YOUTH SHE TRAPPED AS ROBBER

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—After feeding a hungry youth she caught in the act of robbing her apartment, Mrs. Lyndall M. Olmsted, a writer, said today she will defend him in court.

Mrs. Olmsted, upon returning to her apartment yesterday after a twenty-minute absence, said she found the youth placing three suits belonging to her husband, Henry Marshall Olmsted, a broker, in a suitcase. She said she recognized him as Andrew Batchelor, 19 years of age, who had been discharged four months ago as an elevator operator in the apartment-house.

The youth ordered her to put up her hands, at the same time pointing at her what she later learned was a fake pistol. Noticing he was perspiring she suggested and obtained a glass of water for him. He then told her he had been unable to find work, that his father and mother were sick and that he had not eaten in twenty-four hours. She thereupon gave him food and coffee and permitted him to leave.

Later she reported the occurrence to the manager of the apartment-house, who caused Batchelor's arrest. Mrs. Olmsted is a former treasurer of the League of American Penwomen.

Foreign Legion Whips Locusts and Saves Beer

CASABLANCA (Morocco) Jan. 16. (AP)—Swarms of locusts descended on Casablanca today and caused every outdoor cafe and dining-room to close. The insects piled in the soups, beers and wines and drove late luncheon customers to shelter.

Two companies of the French Foreign Legion armed with fire-fighting apparatus sprayed insecticides over the invaders.

The legionnaires went into the action with a battle cry of "save our beer." An official communique issued this evening said the invasion had been repulsed.

PEACE WOMEN CALL ON HOOVER

President Chats With Group Seeking War Cure

Thanks Them for Interest in Arms Reduction

Senators Meet Delegates With Indifference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—While President Hoover conversed cordially today as "man to man" with women delegates to the cause and cure of war convention, various Senators called on gave a lukewarm reception to their efforts for naval reduction and toward accession of the United States to the World Court.

Eighteen women, led by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, called at the White House armed with a petition urging these steps in the interests of world peace. Eleven of the women were presidents of leading women's organizations of the country.

It was their first meeting with President Hoover, and they afterward expressed great satisfaction with his attitude.

"He talked with us on both propositions as man to man," said Miss Ruth Morgan, vice-chairman of the national committee. "He welcomed our support on both of them.

"He asked for many copies of our petition for naval reduction which he promised to have sent out from the White House."

SENATE INDIFFERENT

But the story at the Capitol was different. They met with no encouragement from Senators La Follette and Blaine, of Wisconsin. Led by Mrs. Ben Hooper, the women said they would immediately urge Wisconsin men's luncheon clubs to eliminate the singing and pep speakers and concentrate on the World Court.

The decision was prompted by Senator Blaine's statement that he "was under contract to the people of Wisconsin not to vote for the World Court without reservations."

Senator Brookhart of Iowa flatly told his dozen callers he was against the World Court because he believed in co-operative economics rather than competitive.

Senators adamant and Senators open-minded were met by the women in the course of the day. Of the latter type was Joseph R. Grundy, the new Senator from Pennsylvania. He insisted affably that he had not been here long enough to know much about the World Court. He conducted the fifty women to the Capitol to hear the Senate debate on the sugar tariff. Young and old, they clustered around him smiling.

PETITION TO BE SENT

It was announced today that a brown leather book bearing the pleas of 12,000,000 American women will be presented to the London naval reduction conference the first week in February, along with 180,000 signatures of Japanese women to a similar petition.

Mrs. Edgerton Parsons of New York, treasurer of the cause and cure of war conference will lead a delegation taking the book to London. She will sail immediately after the conference and will be accompanied by Mrs. Caspar Whitney of New York, and Miss Mary Drier of New York, the latter representing the Women's Trade Union League.

Arthur Henderson, Foreign Secretary of the British Cabinet, has notified Mrs. Parsons through his secretary, Philip Barker, that he is gratified and interested by this enterprise of the American women.

In the brown leather book are the resolutions passed by the conference, the combined membership of which includes one-fifth of the adult women of the United States, urging sufficient reduction in naval armament forever to end competition in naval building. The book contains also signatures of heads of the various State delegations attending the conference.

Miss Kathleen Courtney, delegate from England, is arranging by cable for the presentation of the petitions from American and Japanese women along with one being prepared by British women.

WAR CAUSE CONFERENCE INVESTIGATION ASKED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Investigation by the Senate lobby committee of the conference on the cause and cure of war, now meeting in Washington, was requested today by Mrs. Charles Fuller Winters, president of the American Federation of Industrial Women.

Mrs. Winters told Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, as the committee adjourned after hearing several New York importers, that the inquiry should be made to get "the other side" of the investigation of William B. Shearer, big navy advocate.

She said she had seen about 250 of the delegates to the Washington convention "galloping around here trying to see Senators," and described them as "pests."

Air Liner Skids and Hits Fence

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 16. (AP)—An eastbound plane of the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., skidded on the ice-coated ground and crashed into a fence in landing at Lambert-St. Louis Field this afternoon. The plane was damaged but no one was injured. It carried seven passengers.

The plane tore down several iron posts and a canopy put up on the field by the T.A.T. Passengers were sent east by train.

Nations Given Term in Prison

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 16. (AP)—Heber Nations, former Missouri Labor Commissioner and newspaper publisher, convicted yesterday of conspiracy to violate the Volstead Act in connection with a beer-grafting plot, was sentenced today by Federal Judge Davis to serve eighteen months in Leavenworth Federal prison and pay a $2000 fine.

Pide España que se Levante el Entredicho a sus Uvas

WASHINGTON, Enero 16.—El señor Padilla, embajador español, dirigió hoy una petición al ministro Hyde, pidiéndole que deje entrar las uvas de la provincia de Almería (España), excluídas ahora de este país a causa de la mosca frutera del Mediterráneo. Arguye el embajador que, desde el momento en que ya esa plaga existe en los Estados Unidos, debe levantarse el entredicho contra España.

En estos últimos meses ha tenido el gobierno español un perito agrícola en Florida estudiando los métodos del ministerio de Agricultura para combatir a la mosca frutera; y en tal virtud, como ha informado el embajador Padilla al ministro Hyde, España está dispuesta a aplicar los mismos procedimientos, caso que los Estados Unidos quieran admitir de nuevo las uvas de Almería.

Ya Se Desenredó el Lío de Laredo

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Enero 16. Ha anunciado hoy el ministerio de Relaciones mejicano que mañana se abrirá el consulado de Laredo (Tejas), que ha estado cerrado por varias semanas. Ya acude a incorporarse el personal, que se hallaba en El Paso, San Antonio y otros puntos.

Mandó cerrar el gobierno esa oficina a raíz de las amenazas del fiscal Valls de procesar a Calles por presunta complicidad en la ejecución de dos cabecillas rebeldes mejicanos hace varios años, aprehendiéndole si pasaba por Laredo.

El general Calles pudo volver a Méjico sin estorbo, pues el ministerio de Estado yanqui tomó cartas en el asunto. Pero el gobierno mejicano juzgó insultantes las amenazas de Valls, y, por vía de represalias, cerró el consulado de Laredo.

Debaten "Secos" y "Húmedos" en el Décimo Aniversario de la Prohibición

WASHINGTON, Enero 16.—La controversia parlamentaria sobre las proposiciones del presidente Hoover para promover la observancia de la prohibición quedó hoy, décimo aniversario de la promulgación de la enmienda Volstead, suplantada por discusiones sobre los méritos y defectos de la citada enmienda.

El senador Blaine, republicano de Wisconsin, presentó una moción pidiendo la derogación de la Prohibición, y el diputado La Guardia, republicano de Nueva York, presentó otra declarando, por razones técnicas, ineficaz la referida enmienda.

Dos "secos", veteranos de la memorable contienda que resultó en la prohibición de la venta y transporte de licores, se levantaron en el senado y la cámara para decir que su causa era un poderoso factor de la grandeza de los Estados Unidos.

El senador Sheppard, demócrata de Tejas y co-autor de la Enmienda Decimaoctava, saludó "la marcha triunfante" de la prohibición ante una sala vacía en el senado.

El Suero de Sangre de Pollo Vence a la Neumonía

LINCOLN (Nebraska), Enero 16. Un suero de sangre de pollo se cree que le ha salvado la vida al niño de 6 años Gene Roland, que se está restableciendo de una neumonía en el hospital. A tal expediente recurrió hace una semana el doctor que le asistía, cuando ya no tenía esperanzas de salvar a la criatura.

El doctor W. O. Colburn, que así se llama el facultativo en cuestión, pidió unos pollos; anestesió cuatro de ellos, y les extrajo la sangre. Sometió luego la sangre a un procedimiento especial durante varias horas, e inyectó en las venas del chico una dosis de treinta centímetros cúbicos de esa sangre. Los gérmenes de la pulmonía no pudieron resistir la sangre de pollo.

Gene está todavía muy malo de un absceso en un pulmón; pero la neumonía se le ha cortado. Cree el doctor Colburn que este niño sobrevivirá y quedará para siempre agradecido a la sangre de pollo.

WORLD COURT HUGHES TOPIC

Jurist Defends Adherence in Talk to Bar

Says Protocol Protects American Ideals

Holding Aloof Would Belie Our Aspirations

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—Charles Evans Hughes, former Secretary of State and now a justice of the World Court, tonight explained the workings of the World Court in an address before the City Bar Association. The talk was broadcast over the National Broadcasting Company chain.

Touching on the protocol of the World Court, he said that, in his opinion, "the conditions of this protocol fully protect the interests of our country."

"The judicial settlement of international disputes," he said, "cannot be adequately secured by mere sporadic, occasional efforts. There should be continuity, permanency, the opportunity for the growth of confidence and for the firm establishment of the tradition both of competency and judicial independence.

"As a nation devoted to the interests of peace, we have the utmost concern in this development. To hold aloof is to belie our aspirations and to fail to do our part in forming the habit of mind upon which all hopes of permanent peace depend.

"In supporting the World Court in the manner proposed, we lose nothing that we could otherwise preserve; we take no serious risks that we could otherwise avoid; we enhance rather than impair our ultimate security, and we heighten the mutual confidence which rests on demonstrated respect for the essential institutions of international justice."

"What I know about nice women"

LISTEN to a doctor whose practice includes hundreds of the better class. "It is simply unbelievable," he says, "how many women—supposedly nice, fastidious women—are suffering from halitosis and utterly ignorant of the fact. No wonder their husbands hesitate to kiss them, or that women friends avoid them."

Don't fool yourself

Be the first to suspect yourself of having halitosis (bad breath). So many everyday conditions cause it that it is folly for any one to assume complete freedom from it. Defective teeth for example. Fermenting food particles. Pyorrhea. Germ infections of the mouth. Keep yourself on the popular side by gargling with full strength Listerine morning and night, and before meeting others. Listerine instantly ends halitosis.

Destroys odors—kills germs

Being a safe germicide so active it kills even Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid) germs in 15 seconds, it naturally combats germ conditions which cause odors. Then, being a powerful deodorant, it destroys the odors themselves.

RADIO ACT TEST RULING SOUGHT

Highest Court Asked to Pass on Law's Constitutionality

Plea Made in Chicago Case Before Appeals Tribunal

Broadcaster's Leader Urges Permanent Commission

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Supreme Court was asked today by the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals, in a case from Chicago, to pass on the constitutionality of the Federal Radio Act.

Using a case brought by Clinton R. White, operating station WCRW at Chicago, as the basis for its inquiry, the Circuit Court asks the Supreme Court to decide whether a person who operated a radio station prior to the enactment of the Radio Act of 1927 has the right to continue to operate with the power that was being used.

It also asks determination of whether the provisions of the Federal Radio Act, in requiring applicants for licenses to waive rights as to wave length, and to the use of the air for broadcasting purposes, are constitutional.

The Circuit Court said it is asserted by White that the Radio Commission in insisting upon these waivers as required by the law, is taking private property for public use without just compensation and is depriving persons of property without due process of law. White also contends the Radio Act is invalid because it does not require the commission to state its reasons for refusing to renew licenses.

APPEAL ADDRESSED TO SENATE COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—William S. Hedges, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, today urged the Senate Interstate Committee, which is holding hearings on the Couzens communications bill, to create a permanent commission to extend the period of broadcasting licenses, now limited to ninety days. He also advocated abolition of the zone system of administration by the Radio Commission, and revision of regulations governing issuance of construction permits.

Hedges, who operates Station WMAQ, for the Chicago Daily News, contended that the right of 40,000,000 radio listeners is "grievously imperiled by the continued instability" of the Radio Commission.

CHICKEN BLOOD SERUM CONQUERS PNEUMONIA

LINCOLN (Neb.) Jan. 16. (AP)—A chicken blood serum is believed to have saved the life of 6-year-old Gene Roland, who is recovering in a hospital from pneumonia. The expedient was resorted to a week ago when doctors had nearly given up hope for the child.

Dr. W. O. Colburn ordered the chickens. Four were anaesthetized and the blood drained from them.

The blood then was processed for several hours and a thirty-cubic centimeter portion placed in the boy's veins. The pneumonia germs could not stand the chicken blood.

Gene is still very ill with an abscess on one lung but the pneumonia has cleared up. Dr. Colburn thinks the boy will live to thank chicken blood for his recovery.

KOREAN RIOTERS WAVE RED FLAG

American Mission Schools Involved in Trouble

Striking Students Parade in Streets of Capital

Demonstrations Thought Blow at Japanese Rule

TOKIO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Red flags and banners of the old Korean kingdom which was annexed by Japan in 1910 appeared today in the streets of Seoul, Korea's capital. They were carried in a parade of striking students.

The police, said Japanese press dispatches, broke up the demonstration and arrested the leaders.

Five American mission schools were concerned in the spreading student troubles which are estimated to have involved more than 10,000 students in Korea.

The tendency in authoritative quarters of Tokio is to regard the strike of Korean students as actuated by racial differences and as a protest against the methods of the Japanese government. Japan's police authorities in Seoul, however, asserted that the trouble was caused by Communists. Korea is administered by a governor-general who represents Japan.

Additional students struck today, causing the closing of nearly all schools in Seoul.

NEW EXCLUSION BILL PRESENTED

Bacon Measure Directed Squarely at Mexicans

Welch Submits Still Another for Filipino Barriers

Hearings Under Way on Box and Johnson Plans

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—As the House Immigration Committee gave preliminary consideration today to the Johnson and Box bills placing countries of the Western Hemisphere on an immigration quota basis, the question of strictly Mexican restriction was presented squarely before Congress and the committee by Representative Bacon of New York, who introduced a bill holding Mexico to a flat rate of 2500 entries a year.

Still another angle to the immigration controversy was injected by Representative Welch of San Francisco, who offered a bill raising the bars completely against Filipinos. Welch would place citizens of the Philippines on the same strict exclusion basis as the Japanese.

The Bacon bill pays no attention to any country but Mexico and gives expression to the real intent of the restriction movement, which is aimed primarily at Mexico.

It takes Mexico out of the nonquota class and puts it on a unique flat-rate basis. It provides only for the entrance of 2500 Mexicans eligible to become American citizens annually.

SCOPE OF BILLS

The Box and Johnson bills cover the western half of the globe with quota systems. The Box measure is based on a scheme allowing 3 per cent of the average number of legal immigrants coming into this country over a five-year period, to enter annually. Figures have not been furnished the committee showing what this would allow for all the countries.

The plan sponsored by Representative Johnson, who is chairman of the Immigration Committee, would permit entrance of three immigrants from a country on this hemisphere for every one citizen of the United States taking up permanent residence in that particular country.

W. W. Husband, assistant Secretary of Labor, was one of two witnesses heard by the committee today. He said that the Johnson method would allow Mexico 2178 immigrants a year. It would allow Canada 16,889, Central and South America 1548 and the West Indies 1317, according to Mr. Husband's figures.

PROBLEM OF DAY

Curiously the problem facing the committee in today's hearings involved the two lowest quotas, South America and the West Indies. It is in these two divisions that the question of the double quota arises. The double quota involves the point as to whether the possessions of foreign countries, such as Great Britain's Jamaica, shall be given a quota of their own and the parent country suffer a deduction, or whether, as is the case now, the possessions shall come under the parent country's quota.

It was this point, raised by Col. Lawrence Martin, chief topographer of the Library of Congress and first witness called before the committee which occupied the committee through most of the session.

Chairman Johnson directed the subcommittee charged with redrafting the bills and combined them into a "committee bill" to meet every morning at 9 o'clock. He set the time for the full committee's meeting ahead a half-hour. He read with evident pleasure the telegrams from the presidents of the American Federation of Labor, and the Delaware and Hudson Railroad commending his stand on western immigration.

INVITATION TO THOM

He invited Col. A. P. Thom, Jr., general counsel of the Association of Railroad Executives, who has consistently fought restrictive measures of the type of the Johnson and Box bills, to appear before the committee. The supposition is that, armed with the telegram from the president of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, he will charge that Col. Thom does not represent all railroads of the country and to endeavor to pin the colonel down on past statements.

Mr. Johnson announced that witnesses will be limited to fifteen minutes each, that public hearings will close February 1, next, and that he has received many requests from the Southwest and western sections asking that representatives of various organizations be allowed to testify. He did not give out the names of these petitioners.

Riots of Reds in Berlin Lead to Ban on Meetings

BERLIN, Jan. 16. (AP)—All public open-air meetings and demonstrations were prohibited throughout Prussia by an order issued by the Ministry of the Interior today. The drastic step is aimed at curbing the riotous tendencies of Communists and other radicals and is the direct outgrowth of rioting last night in which at least four persons were killed.

The only public assemblies permitted by the order are funerals, weddings and other church processions. The police are empowered to take strong measures against all violators of the edict.

New Control for Bay City Airport

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—The Board of Supervisors believes it today divorced political patronage from the operation of the municipal airport at Mills Field by placing its jurisdiction in the hands of a citizens' committee named by Mayor Rolph. The committee has been in existence for some time but heretofore has had nothing but advisory powers.

The action followed charges of the padding of the airport pay roll by incompetents because of political pressure and was one of the aftermaths of the investigation launched into the Pasadena Rose parade junket.

The Story of the World War
318—The 2nd Army

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

EARLY IN OCTOBER, 1918, THERE WERE MORE THAN A MILLION AMERICAN SOLDIERS, INCLUDING COMBAT AND AUXILIARY UNITS, SERVING AT THE FRONT IN FRANCE. THE PROSPECT OF FORCING AN EARLY CONCLUSION OF THE WAR MADE IT NECESSARY TO THROW EVERY AVAILABLE DIVISION INTO THE FIGHT AND KEEP IT IN ACTION.

OCTOBER 10 PERSHING ORGANIZED THE DIVISIONS HOLDING THE OLD ST. MIHIEL SECTOR (THEN QUIET) INTO THE 2ND AMERICAN ARMY UNDER GEN. BULLARD. GEN. LIGGETT WAS GIVEN COMMAND OF THE FIRST ARMY ON THE MEUSE-ARGONNE FRONT, WHILE PERSHING ASSUMED COMMAND OF THE GROUP FORMED BY THE TWO ARMIES. ——

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE SON OF TARZAN

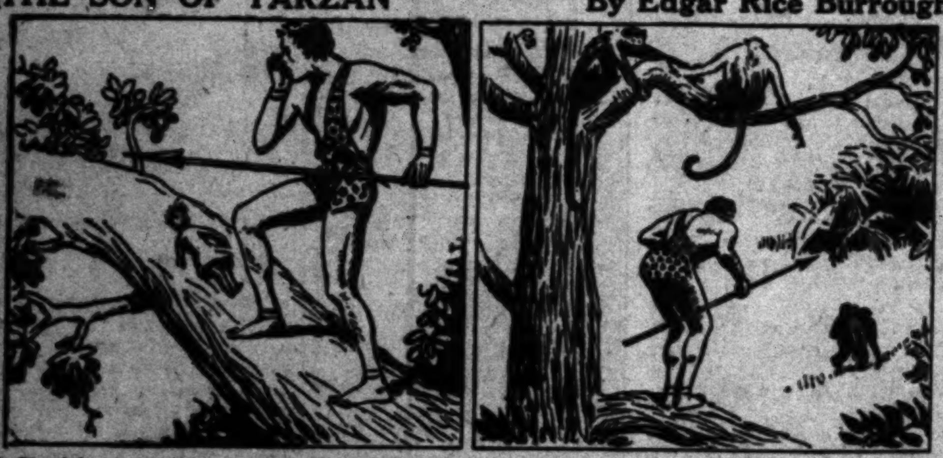
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Korak knew something serious had happened. He called, but no Meriem answered. In the distance the jabbering of the monkeys was growing fainter. Korak swung rapidly in their direction, soon overtaking the rearmost. At sight of him they fell to screaming anew, pointing downward ahead of them. A moment later he came in sight of the cause of their rage. His heart stood still as he saw the limp body of the girl across the ape's shoulders.

That she was dead he did not doubt! There arose within him something he did not try to interpret; but all at once his whole world seemed centered in that tender, graceful body hanging so pitifully limp and helpless across the bulging shoulders of the ape. He knew then that Meriem was his sun, his moon, his stars—with her going had gone all light, and warmth, and happiness. A groan escaped his lips; and after that a series of hideous roars.

He dropped like a plummet in mad descent toward the fleeing ape. The bull turned at the first sound of this new and menacing voice and as Korak saw his ugly visage a new flame was added to his rage. For the creature before him was none other than the king ape who months before had driven the Killer from the great anthropoids to whom he had looked for friendship. And at the same instant the king ape recognized Korak!

Dropping his prize to the ground, with lowered head he rushed headlong for this smooth-skinned creature who was daring to question his right to his prey. Down they went, tearing and striking. Korak forgot his knife. Rage such as his could only be satisfied by the feel of hot flesh between rending fangs. He was fighting for a woman of his own kind. It was then Meriem opened her eyes: "Korak," she cried, "My Korak!"

INQUEST JURY BAFFLED

"Killed by Bullet in Hands of Person Unknown," Verdict Given on Death of Nameless Man

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 16.—Officers of Orange county are hunting for the murderer of the victim found in a dilapidated iron culvert three miles south of this city. The verdict was that the man had been killed by a bullet from a gun in the hands of "a person unknown." A clew which may lead to the solving of the strange mystery has been discovered in that the bullet, which was at first thought to be discharged from a .22-caliber rifle, is thought to be a .25-30 caliber bullet. It is the belief of officers on the case that the bullet was discharged from an old-style rifle with a smooth bore, and the bullet has been sent to Los Angeles for examination. There are no rifle marks on the bullet.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan is still of the opinion that the bullet was fired by some one who was shooting aimlessly on the beach and that it was accidental.

The body of the stranger was kept in the County Morgue until yesterday, when it was sent to the Grooms & Rembeberg undertaking parlors in Costa Mesa, from where it was moved and buried in the potters field in Fairhaven Cemetery.

Tom Watson, hermit, identified the body as that of a Spaniard about 50 years of age, whom he had seen living in the culvert since last summer, but he stated that he did not know his name or where he hailed from. The man had been doing odd jobs around the city but no one seems to know his name. He was always seen alone.

SOUTHLAND BEAN MAN GOES EAST

Ralph H. Churchill, of State Lima Association, Off for Capital Confab

OXNARD, Jan. 15. — Ralph H. Churchill, secretary-manager of the California Lima Bean Growers' Association, left here this afternoon for Denver, Chicago and Washington. At Chicago he will attend a meeting of the National Cannery Machinery Association, the National Canners' Association and the National Food Brokers' Association, whose annual conventions are being held simultaneously in Chicago. A luncheon will be given the National Food Brokers by the California Lima Bean Growers' Association during their convention.

Churchill will go to Washington from Chicago to attend the meeting on the 29th inst. of representatives of various bean-growing States of the United States. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Federal Farm Board, of which C. C. Teague, Santa Paula resident, is a member.

The Federal Farm Board is trying to organize co-operative associations of various commodities in national groups so in dealing with their problems the board can deal with one association rather than a multitude of smaller co-operatives.

"There are 12,500 co-operative associations in the United States today," said Churchill, "and the Federal Farm Board would be swamped with detail if it had to treat with each one separately." If the Federal Farm Board can organize each commodity into a national association it will not be difficult for the members to get a composite picture of the needs, desires and outlook of that particular commodity, according to Churchill.

Churchill will attend the conference in Washington as the representative of the largest bean co-operative association, and one of the outstanding co-operative associations in the United States. Though he has not attended any of the previous bean conferences, he is considered one of the leading bean-marketing authorities in the nation today.

OIL WORKER'S LAST RITES TO BE TODAY

GLENDALE, Jan. 16.—Funeral services for Roy J. Perry, oil worker, 29 years of age, who died last Saturday from burns he received at Taft in a gasoline fire, will be conducted Friday at 11 a.m. in the Kiefer & Eyerick Mortuary, with interment following in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Perry was formerly a resident of Los Angeles. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Jane Perry; a brother, Russell Perry, now in this city, and nine brothers and sisters in Vermont and Michigan.

DISABLED VETERAN COMMITS SUICIDE

LONG BEACH, Jan. 16.—Leroy Fry, 43-year-old disabled World War veteran, shot himself today in the head at his home, 1870 Orange avenue. He was dead when relatives reached him. Fry attempted to kill himself at the Veterans' Home at Sawtelle recently, relatives told police. He was packing to return to Sawtelle after spending a few days with his family when he walked into the bathroom and shot himself.

PLACENTIA GROWERS HAPPY

Orange Association Hears of Increase of Cars Shipped Over Previous Year

$147,877.26 from 117 carloads of fruit shipped during the past season were reported yesterday at the annual meeting of the Index Mutual Association by T. E. Woodward, manager-secretary. During the period covered in the report the concern shipped 1,487,123 pounds of lemons, which returned $62,072.35. Navel oranges shipped returned $1,814.47 while Valencias brought $51,063.13.

Unusually high-grade fruit for the season, with exceptionally large sizes, was reported by Manager Woodward. In the navels shipped 96 per cent of the lot graded Pure Gold, or first grade, while 77 per cent of the Valencias made first grade.

Officers and directors of the concern elected yesterday include: R. A. Wheatley, president, G. N. Wersel, vice-president; and the following directors, Wheatley, Wersel, G. E. Eastbrook, John Hatch, George M. Eaby, Mary J. Smith and G. W. Galbraith.

Mutual Orange Distributors in Search for Site

ONTARIO, Jan. 16.—Defeated in the first effort to secure a site here on which to erect a $75,000 citrus fruit packing-house, officials of the Mutual Orange Distributors with headquarters in Redlands are understood to be casting about for other near-by locations. Two sites are said to be under consideration at Alta Loma and Claremont. Efforts are being made to secure a site in Upland, adjoining the Pacific Electric tracks, it was said today.

The Mutual Orange Distributors were practically denied a permit to erect the joint orange and lemon packing-house at the Pacific Electric tracks and Palm avenue here when the Planning Commission refused to change the city zoning ordinance to place the site in an industrial zone. It is now a residential zone.

The City Council will make final decision on the City Planning Commission's recommendation at a meeting Monday evening.

I. H. Weaver, field representative for Mutual Orange Distributors, said the company, if permitted to build here, would bear the name Upland Fruit Growers' Association, as the membership, he said, would be practically all Upland and Ontario growers.

Amazing Rise in Water Level Follows Rain

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 16.—An amazing rise in the water level of its wells was reported today by the Riverside Water Company. During the last week of intermittent rain several of the Santa Ana River bottom wells have risen more than six feet.

According to reports received by Francis Cuttle, chairman of the Tri-counties Reforestation Committee, the flow in the Santa Ana River has reached the Chapman bridge in Orange county, making it possible under agreement with Orange county water companies to resume water spreading operations in the debris cone near Highland.

Gasoline Heater Blast Kills Man

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 16.—Fatally burned early Wednesday morning when a gasoline heater exploded in a chicken house on his ranch near Chula Vista, Ralph Wahlberg, 22 years of age, died early today in the McCulloch Hospital, Coroner Schuyler C. Kelly announced.

Wahlberg was working in the chicken house and was lighting the heater when it exploded, the Coroner learned. The injured man was brought to the San Diego hospital, where he died.

MORE LEMON TREES TO BE SET OUT SOON

UPLAND, Jan. 16.—Upland's claim to the leading position in lemon growing and packing in Southern California was further strengthened today with announcement that 1800 additional lemon trees are to be planted here soon. The trees are to be placed in the ground by A. J. Robinson and S. A. Conner on two ten-acre tracts now under improvement at Twentieth street and Wilson avenue. Ninety trees will be planted to the acre. Contract for providing the trees was awarded Albert Jackson, for forty years a local nurseryman.

SAN FERNANDO STREET WORK BILL NOW DUE

SAN FERNANDO, Jan. 16.—The payment of $16,620 to the Pacific Company for the widening and paving of Porter avenue, principal street here, has been ordered by the local City Council. This is about 30 per cent of the total cost of the improvement which was completed last autumn. The county contributed $14,000, and the city of San Fernando a like sum. Property owners will foot the remainder of the bill. These property owners may either pay the bill or permit their share to go to bond. If the payments go to bond, the first installment will be due July 2, next.

SHERIFF FELLED BY LIFE-TERMER

Prisoner Brought from San Quentin Almost Escapes

Riverside Officers Finally Recapture Lawrence Rea

Deputy District Attorney Helps Subdue Prisoner

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 16.—Tripping and felling Sheriff Sweeters with a terrific blow, Lawrence Rea, a San Quentin lifer, late yesterday made a desperate attempt to escape while he was being taken from the District Attorney's office back to his cell in the County Jail. Chief Deputy District Attorney Redwine hurried to the officer's aid and, throwing himself on the convict, succeeded in holding him until Sweeters regained his feet. The prisoner was then returned to jail and placed in a dark cell.

Rea had been brought here to be tried on robbery charges. The convict had been taken to Dist.-Atty. Ford's office for questioning in regard to the holding up of the Pacific Electric station here last year.

SHERIFF'S GUN GONE

"The distance from the jail was so short," Sheriff Sweeters said in telling of the attack, "I thought there was no need of putting handcuffs on Rea. We descended the south steps of the Courthouse to the walk leading to the main sidewalk. Just as we reached the main walk, Rea, quick as a flash, tripped me and landed a terrific blow, half on my arm and half on my chest. I fell on my head and received a four-inch cut from striking the cement walk. Rea outweighs me ten pounds and held his advantage while on top of me. I reached for my gun, but it was gone. I later found it had fallen from the holster when I went down. Rea leaped up and started a dash for freedom but I caught up with him and was struggling with him when Redwine came to my assistance."

Redwine said he heard sounds of the struggle and looking from his office window saw the convict beating the Sheriff.

TRIO GIVEN CONTINUANCE

Rea, who was sent up from Los Angeles on a robbery charge, with Merritt Dumond, another San Quentin inmate, and Homer Forte, Riverside baker, was to come to trial today on the depot robbery charges. The trio, however, was given a continuance until February 13, next, asserting they had not had time to prepare their defense.

Rea and Dumond were placed in separate jails by Sheriff Sweeters this afternoon. Dumond was taken to San Bernardino, while Rea will remain here. This was done, Sweeters said, because of the intense hatred of the two and an asserted threat of Dumond to kill Rea. Dumond is said to believe Rea double-crossed him by asserted admissions regarding robbery charges.

Santa Barbara's High School to Graduate Class

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 16.—Thirty-six students of Santa Barbara High School will be graduated at the regular midwinter graduation exercises to be held tomorrow night, according to the list approved by the school board at a special meeting. One hundred and twenty-six will enter high school, sixty-five graduating from the junior high school and sixty-one from La Cumbre.

Graduation exercises will be held in the high school at 8 p.m. Friday, and the two junior high schools at 2 p.m. Friday. This will be the second winter class that has graduated from the high school, last year marking the first group.

The nine additional students in the high school will increase the number to a higher figure than at any time since the school was constructed. Record classes are being graduated from both junior high schools. Six new grammar-school teachers were hired for the city system last night. They are Mary M. Ambrose, Bernice Haberlitz, Gladys Gilchriste, Orpha Morgan, Estelle Pike and Esther Richardson. Beatrice Fenner was chosen as a high-school teacher.

Leonard Bowman was appointed principal of the Washington School, which is to open Monday for all Six-A pupils of the city, with the exception of the Roosevelt, Peabody and Garfield schools. Lloyd E. Albright was selected vice-principal.

MOTORIST SEES LIGHT THAT WRECKS HIM

SANTA PAULA, Jan. 16.—As W. Kirk of this city was driving across the railroad tracks west of here early today he thought a light was a train coming and he was about to be hit. He turned his car away from it, striking the rear of a truck and ending up in the ditch. The light was on a barn across a plowed field from him, but rain on his windshield made it look otherwise, he said when reporting the accident.

NEW SEA OIL FIELD LOOMS

Group Seeks Court Order Permitting Exploration of Tidelands Off Huntington Beach

SANTA ANA, Jan. 16.—Raising a unique point of tideland law and said to presage extensive development of a new ocean oil field at Huntington Beach, petitions for writ of mandate against Surveyor-General W. S. Kingsbury compelling him to issue permits for prospecting on tidelands have been filed by Arthur Carr, Roy Maggart, Los Angeles attorney; F. L. Feisthamel, Thomas Joyner and C. C. Cummings. Oil company affiliations to these petitioners could not be learned.

The hearing is scheduled for 2 p.m. tomorrow before Superior Judge George K. Scovel.

The fact that Huntington Beach, unlike most beach cities, did not terminate its boundaries at the ocean's edge, but incorporated to the county line at the three-mile limit was disclosed today as the pivotal point on which the oil company relies in getting access to the great oil basin beneath the city's ocean area, a pool said to be equal to that in the Huntington Beach land field. State law prohibiting drilling on tidelands fronting on any incorporated city or for a mile in either direction does not apply in the present instance, Attorney Maggart contends, because the area in question is entirely within the city of Huntington Beach. Had the city terminated its limits at the water's edge, the State law would prevent exploration, Maggart said.

HIGHWAYS SAID OUT OF POLITICS

B. B. Meek, Director of State Department Public Works, Redlands Speaker

REDLANDS, Jan. 16.—An honest effort is being made by the State Highway Commission to spend every cent of the millions secured each year for the improvement of highways in the State in such a manner as to return the greatest good to the greatest number of people, Bert B. Meek told the people of Redlands at the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce held at the Elks' Club tonight.

Redlands was signally honored, for not only was Meek, who is director of the State Department of Public Works, present and the principal speaker, but most of the members of the highway commission were here. Meek said that the highways are not in politics, that the decision of the commission on the improvement of any road is made only after the most exhaustive investigation and surveys to determine just what is needed.

Meek did not say that it would be so, but he indicated that the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway from Redlands to Colton, thence to Ontario, Pomona and Puente and Los Angeles, will be made a part of the State major highway system. This has been long desired by people of this section, and if done will mean that the highway, one of the heaviest traveled in the south, will be widened and paved as the Foothill Boulevard, a State road, has been.

Reports were made by L. W. Butterfield, retiring president, and A. E. Isham, for so many years secretary, showing the excellent work that has been done by the chamber during the year. The new officers and directors were introduced. They are: Horace Williamson, president; H. G. Clement, vice-president; Dr. M. J. Sweeney, treasurer, and A. E. Isham, secretary.

Directors are C. E. Annabil, Fred Arth, G. Calder Bennett, George S. Biggin, C. M. Brown, L. W. Butterfield, H. G. Clement, C. H. Clock, F. H. Clock, W. C. Collett, F. Arthur Cortner, H. Earl Cromas, Gordon Donald, Fred C. Fowler, Will Fowler, Philip Harris, G. S. Hinckley, Henry Hoffmann, Prof. L. E. Mitchell, J. J. Prendergast, J. C. Sexton, Dr. M. J. Sweeney, Allen Wheaton and Horace Williamson.

Pipe Line Work to Start When Pipe Arrives

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 16.—Work on the $1,000,000 pipe line the city is to build from Otay to University Heights is to start quietly and as soon as pipe deliveries are made, it developed today when contractors notified Hydraulic Engineer H. N. Savage of plans for their share of the construction. Trenches and tunnels must be dug and it is the trenching that is to begin first. This is to imbed the forty and thirty-six-inch pipe from Otay to the city limits and the castiron pipe inside the city.

Laying pipe inside the city from Lantana Drive to the University Heights reservoir, three miles, will begin within six weeks, the Miracle Construction Company notified Engineer Savage's office today. This part of the work is known as "Schedule 4," and it was said that excavating would not begin until the pipe was ready for delivery.

The work on Schedules 1 and 2, which is excavating for and laying the steel pipe from Lower Otay to the city limits, is likely to be the first work started.

June Bug Flies in January Now

SANTA PAULA, Jan. 16.—When is a June bug a January bug? When it is caught in this month, which rarely occurs, according to county bug experts. That was what happened today when officials of the Ventura county agricultural commissioner's staff caught a June bug in front of their office. They reported that "there ain't any such animal," but there it was.

LEGION GETS HALF QUOTA

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 16.—Robert McColley American Legion Post has secured 221 paid-up 1930 members during its present drive for the year. This is about one-half the quota assigned to this section.

BANDIT DECLARED SANE

W. H. Tinkelpaugh, Who Held Up Theater in Fullerton, Hears Jury Verdict Blasting His Hopes

SANTA ANA, Jan. 16.—W. H. Tinkelpaugh, bandit who staged a $39 hold-up at a theater in Fullerton on the night of last November 21, has been declared sane in a jury verdict that blasted his hope of escaping prison on a plea of insanity. Tinklepaugh was ordered to appear before Superior Judge Homer G. Ames tomorrow for sentence. The penalty for first degree robbery, of which he was convicted by the same jury at a trial Monday, is not less than five years imprisonment.

The jury, in reaching its verdict, had the testimony of two alienists who averred Tinkelpaugh was insane and two others who pronounced him sane. Drs. Sidney Winsburg and Samuel Marcus, defense alienists, said Tinklepaugh was insane. Dr. Charles Williams and Dr. Van Meter, appointed by the court, took the opposite view.

Journalists of High Schools to Hold Convention

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 16.—Preparations are being made by the journalism department of the Huntington Park Union High School for the semiannual convention of the Southern California High School Press Association, which will be held here on March 21. The local school was elected president of the organization at the autumn convention held in the Polytechnic High School in Long Beach. The following are the committees chosen for the convention:

Publicity, Don Kirby, chairman; Bernice Coppock, Doris Nolan, Kenneth Briggs and Clarence Pieffer.

Decorations—Helen McAllister, chairman; Iris Zimmerly, Alice Evans, Irma Brubaker, Lura Baird, Virginia Anthony, Lucille Smith.

Program—Mabel Alice Hachgen, chairman; Raymond Duncan, Vinton Gulbransen, Dorothy Brown, Cordelia Spurgeon, Doris Nolan and Don Kirby.

Registration and Business — Charles Chappell, chairman; Russell Paine, Wilton Wilton, May Dryden and Cleo Ricks.

Entertainment and Hospitality—Cordelia Spurgeon, chairman; James Tyra, Fern Johnson and Vinton Gulbransen.

Banquet—Dorothy Brown, chairman; Irma Earl, Lilyan Heineman, Frances Schomer and Evelyn Good.

Fruit Jobbers to Eat Valley's Finest Lettuce

BRAWLEY, Jan. 16.—When the Western Fruit Jobbers' Association meets in St. Louis the 21st inst., its members will be served with the finest lettuce ever shipped from Imperial Valley, according to local packers who pooled their choicest product for the carload shipment last night.

The fancy carload was forwarded through the Peppers Fruit Company, and the funds received from the sale of the lettuce are to be used as prize money for the annual vegetable growers' golf tournament to be held in this city February 11-16.

The carload of 320 crates brought $4 a crate, which is a substantial premium over the current market price. A second pool car, which is being donated by the packers for the same purpose, is scheduled to go out later in the week.

GOVERNOR YOUNG TO SPEAK AT POMONA

POMONA, Jan. 16.—Gov. Young and his party, including R. A. Condee of Chino, president of the California State Fair Board and of the State Board of Agriculture, and possibly Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, and Lyman King, State Director of Finance, will be the honor guests at the annual dinner of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce Friday evening. Gov. Young will be the speaker of the evening at the dinner, which is expected to attract an attendance of approximately 250 of the valley's most prominent citizens. The Governor will be greeted by a committee of thirty local men and their wives at the Hotel Edgar.

COUNTY TO ENLARGE NURSERY AT PACOIMA

PACOIMA, Jan. 16.—The county is to spend $25,000 for enlarging and improving the county forestry department's headquarters, including additional buildings for the ornamental nursery here. A new greenhouse, administration building and a forester's residence are included in the program, it is stated. Stocks of trees, shrubs, and plants used by the county for parks and public buildings also will be increased. The nursery was established last April. It covers a fifteen-acre site adjoining the San Fernando Valley Division headquarters of the county forestry station.

RETIRED PASTOR BURIED

SOUTH GATE, Jan. 16.—Funeral services for the late E. J. Vasquez, retired minister of the Presbyterian denomination for many years, were held at the Pyle mortuary today, the remains being interred in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery. Vasquez was in the ministry forty years. He was a native of Mexico, but had spent most of his life in this State. He leaves a son, brother and sister.

POSTHOLES RUIN PHONE SERVICE

Power Company Digger Bores Into Underground Cable With Sad Results

REDLANDS, Jan. 16.—"These are queer-looking olive-tree roots," a man digging postholes for the Southern Sierras Power Company near Hemet remarked yesterday. He went on digging and finally said, "Darned funny, here's a root with wires in it."

The next chapter in the drama was enacted yesterday in the local office of the Southwestern Home Telephone Company, where Plant Superintendent Edgar R. Fisher was organizing a crew to hurry into the Hemet district, where telephone subscribers were complaining about service.

"It seems that a crew digging postholes bored through our underground cable in several places, putting twenty-five pairs of wires entirely out of commission," said Fisher.

UNIONIST SLUGGER WORSTED

He Resorts to Law After Attacked Worker Knocks Him Out, But Loses Again

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 16.—If a body strike a body working at a forge can a body hit a body back and not go to jail?

"Yes," said Attorney Emil Van Bever this morning. "It's self-defense." And a Police Court jury failed to reach a decision, after hearing charges against O. C. Depuis for assault on Paul Gilinski.

According to the testimony, Depuis, an ornamental iron worker, was working at a blacksmith's forge when accosted by Gilinski, a union blacksmith, as to his right to use the forge.

An argument ensued. Depuis said Gilinski hit first, and Gilinski said Depuis hit first. When the battle was over Gilinski found he had three broken fingers, and Depuis continued to operate the forge, establishing right by might, union or nonunion.

"It's not so much a union card as ability to swing a sledge that determines whether one can use a forge or not," declared Attorney Van Bever.

Woman Aids in Robbery of Auto License Agency

GLENDALE, Jan. 16.—Police of this and adjacent cities are searching for a petite blond woman, who, with a male companion, is wanted for the robbery of the Peterson Auto License Agency at 206 Monarch Building, South Brand Boulevard, late yesterday. The couple entered the office of the agency, where Mrs. H. L. Peterson was in charge, with Mrs. E. L. Ames, 1509 East Orange Grove avenue, assisting her.

The man covered the two women with a revolver while his fair-haired companion ordered the women to turn over the cash in the office.

Mrs. Ames emptied the cash box, containing $30, into the bandit's handbag, and the robbers fled to the alley behind the building, where they had left their automobile standing.

SPEEDERS TO BE CHECKED

SAN FERNANDO, Jan. 16.—San Fernando has appointed a traffic officer. He will work at night on a motorcycle. His job will be principally to catch auto speeders that tear through town after midnight, over San Fernando Road and Porter street, principal thoroughfares.

MARCH FIELD WILL EXPAND

More Than $5,000,000 For Building to be Spent

Col. W. C. Gardenhire in Rotary Talk Tells Plans

Commandant's Quarters to Be Included in Work

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 16.—More than $5,000,000 will have been expended by the War Department at March Field before its building program is completed, according to an address made here by Col. William C. Gardenhire at a Rotary Club meeting.

Col. Gardenhire itemized the contemplated work that will be completed by December, 1932. This includes twenty-two sets of noncommissioned officers' quarters, automatic sprinkling system for the entire post except the flying field, additional new roads to cost $37,000, handsome new quarters for the commandant of the field to cost $15,000 and a $50,000 structure for the housing of the bachelor noncommissioned officers of the advanced grade. All this work, Col. Gardenhire stated, was taken care of by appropriations already made.

Contemplated work for which money is yet to be appropriated and which construction will complete the field, includes the following: Hospital, $50,000; runway for hangars, $104,000; gas and oil storage, $10,000; entry of lighting-air compressor system, heating and lighting of hangars, $70,000.

There has been authorized for the year beginning one year from next July, the following: Thirty-six sets of noncommissioned officers' quarters, $257,000; twenty-seven set of officers' quarters, $405,000; quartermasters' warehouse, $45,000; quartermasters' utilities warehouse and shops, $30,000; guardhouse, $25,000; fire department house, $15,000; garage, $50,000; incinerator, $5000; gymnasium, $40,000; post exchange, $40,000, and a railroad spur costing $5000.

Anchorage for Yachts Planned

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 16.—The City Trustees granted the dredging permit petitioned for by J. A. Beek, adjacent to the city-owned land that he occupies on a lease in Newport Harbor, at a meeting of the City Council on Tuesday night.

The dredged-out basin will be utilized for an up-to-date yacht anchorage, by a syndicate headed by the yachtsman, Harry C. Grant. It is the plan of the syndicate to build 100 stalls where boats can be secured in parallel slips, with a garage at the head of each, so that the yacht owner may motor directly to his boat and lock up his car in his own private garage while he takes a trip on the water.

According to plans, the entrance to Newport Harbor, permitting passage of deeper draft boats, should be completed by Decoration Day, and it is expected that many yachtsmen will secure anchorage and make headquarters here.

CHINO LEGIONNAIRE TO LEAD BOND MOVE

CHINO, Jan. 16.—Elmer C. Jertberg, prominent in local business affairs and past commander of Chino post of the American Legion, has been appointed San Bernardino county chairman for the $20,000,000 veterans' bond issue, it is announced. Jertberg will receive applications from ex-service men for aid in acquiring homes and farms through the bond issue.

ONTARIO SEEDS ONE ACRE WITH POPPIES

ONTARIO, Jan. 16.—In an effort to help perpetuate the California poppy, this city, through John Galvin, assistant City Manager, has planted one acre in Euclid Park to poppies and when they bloom in the spring the public will be asked to take the seeds and plant flowers of their own. The State flower is said to be getting scarce, which prompted the city to help preserve the blooms.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR INSTALL

Ventura Commandery Seats Officers With Impressive Ceremonies at Masonic Temple

VENTURA, Jan. 16.—Ventura Commandery No. 18 of the Knights Templar installed officers for the ensuing year at the Masonic Temple last night. Robert Wankowski of Culver City and Andrew J. Copp, Jr., of Los Angeles, were the installing officers. The ceremonies followed a dinner served to the Knights and their ladies.

Officers installed were Frank Dudley, Commander; Edmund E. Gerry, Generalissimo; Walter Withrow, Captain-General; Harvey S. Currie, Senior Warden; Frank C. Doty, Recorder; Theodore C. Tychsen, Treasurer; Walter Bishop, Standard Bearer; Tom Proctor, Sword Bearer; Robert M. Lee, Warden; George W. Kay, Sentinel; James Giddings, Marshal, and C. Wigton, Tiler.

SAN BUENAVENTURA LODGE HONORS FORMER MEMBER

GLENDALE, Jan. 16.—David R. Dennison, 90 years of age, was honored last night when a delegation from San Buenaventura Masonic Lodge, No. 214, F. & A.M., came here to present him with a gold badge signifying fifty years of membership in the order. Dennison has, in fact, been a Mason for sixty-one years, and before coming here twelve years ago he lived in Ventura, where he was active in the affairs of the order. The Ventura delegation included Fred G. Merker, Master; George D. Corey, Junior Warden; Chester B. Trimble, Senior Deacon; C. R. Strong, Junior Deacon; W. J. Hewston, Senior Steward; Homer Wheeler, Junior Steward; W. L. Brazil, Marshal, and C. E. Thompson, Past Master.

ROYAL ARCH OFFICERS OF ONTARIO INSTALLED

ONTARIO, Jan. 16. — Ontario officers for Royal Arch Chapter, No. 105, were at the head of that Masonic body today, having been installed in office at San Bernardino last night, at a joint installation meeting with San Bernardino, Riverside and San Jacinto.

A representative of the Grand Lodge was installing officer. The new officers heading the chapter are John Binnell, High Priest; C. B. Hampton, King; J. Leemaster, Upland, Scribe; J. G. Beesley, Treasurer; F. W. Woods, Secretary; J. M. Harris, Captain of the Post; C. R. French, Principal Captain of the Post; C. R. French, Principal Sojourner; A. W. Laforge, Royal Arch Captain; A. V. Hughes, Master Third Veil; T. M. Finley, Master Second Veil; John Leclair, Master First Veil; William Hart Spencer, Chaplain.

JARDINE NAMED BY EXCHANGE

Los Angeles Stock Market Re-elects Officers

Veteran Named President for Fifth Term

Executive Personnel Stands Unchanged for Year

John Earle Jardine, pioneer member and president of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange since 1926, was re-elected and all other executives of the institution were returned to office at the annual election conducted yesterday by the board of governors.

The re-elections following the annual meeting of the exchange members on Wednesday establish the personnel of the board of governors and the executive staff on the same basis as last year with no retirements or additions. The members on Wednesday re-elected three governors whose terms expired, for another period of three years.

In addition to Mr. Jardine, who is both president and chairman of the board of governors, the officers include Paul B. Richmond, first vice-president; McClarty Harbison, second vice-president; James R. Martin, treasurer, and Floyd E. Sanford, secretary and manager.

The governors re-elected Wednesday were Lewis A. Crisler, Francis P. Graves and L. F. Parsons. Other members besides Mr. Jardine include S. H. Ellis, Paul B. Hammond, McClarty Harbison, James R. Martin and Norman A. Tulk.

Mr. Jardine became president of the exchange in May, 1926, when, as vice-president, he became chief executive by filling out the expired term of Frank Harvey Pettingell. He has been successively re-elected each year.

Mr. Hammond was appointed governor to fill a vacancy in 1927, and was re-elected in January, 1928. Last January he was appointed first vice-president. Mr. Harbison was elected a governor and chosen as second vice-president in January last year, and Mr. Martin was secretary and treasurer of the exchange in 1924, 1925 and 1926, and has served since January, 1927, as treasurer. Mr. Sanford became secretary and manager last November.

Mr. Ellis, with Mr. Jardine, has been a governor of the exchange since 1908, and in 1926 became first vice-president, and Mr. Parsons, who has been active in the affairs of the institution for the greater part of its thirty years, became a governor in 1924. Mr. Graves was elected a governor in 1927 and Mr. Crisler in March, 1928.

Loan Secretary League to Meet

Ray K. Person, Long Beach, vice-president of the Pacific Coast Savings and Loan Company, will address the January luncheon meeting today of the Building-Loan Secretaries Association of Southern California, to be held at the Windsor Tea Room. He will talk on "Collections."

Walter F. McDowell, Tacoma, until recently president of the United States Building-Loan League is also scheduled to address the group. As the meeting falls during "National Thrift Week" he will talk on the thrift campaign. More than seventy-five building-loan executives of Southern California are expected to attend.

HOTEL PROFITS TOLD

Hollywood Knickerbocker, Inc., for the month of December showed an operating profit of $8802. This is at the rate of approximately $107,000 per annum and is equivalent to 2.2 times interest and sinking fund requirements on the first mortgage 6½ per cent bonds.

PARAMOUNT PROFITS IN SHARP GAIN

Film Company Reports for 1929 Up 78 Per Cent Over Previous Year

Consolidated net profits of Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation for the year 1929 were estimated at $15,500,000 after all charges and taxes, equal to $6.34 per share on the average number of shares outstanding during the year, according to a statement issued by the company yesterday. These earnings establish a new high record and are approximately 78 per cent ahead of the $8,713,000 profits for 1928.

Fourth quarter profits were estimated at $5,770,000, equal to $2.15 a share on the shares outstanding at the end of the year, and 111 per cent ahead of the $2,737,000 profits for the corresponding 1928 period. Profits of subsidiaries consolidated for the first time were included from the date of their acquisition only, and not for the entire year. Per share earnings for the year 1929 increased 50 per cent, or $2.12 a share, although over 500,000 additional shares of stock were issued during the year.

The year earnings were more than twice the dividend requirements, the disbursements made during the year being about $7,300,000, leaving an addition to surplus of approximately $8,200,000. Likewise, profits were over $1,000,000 in excess of the $14,323,000 issue of Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation 6 per cent debenture bonds outstanding at the close of the year, the only funded debt having priority over the common stock. Earnings indicated are about eighteen times the present annual interest requirements on these bonds.

Adolph Zukor, president, said that the earnings reflect the tremendous popularity of talking pictures and also the results of years of gradual expansion. De luxe theater operations, he added, also have contributed largely to the present prosperity of the motion-picture industry.

International Pays Initial on Shipping Stock

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—The International Mercantile Marine Company, one of the leading American shipping enterprises, today ordered the first dividend to be paid on its common shares in its thirty-seven-year history. The directors ordered a disbursement of dividends of $1 on the no-par capital stock, payable February 15 to stock of record the 28th inst.

The company's position has been vastly improved by the capitalization plan entered into last June, by which one new common share and $20 in cash was exchanged for each share of preferred stock. No payment had been made on the preferred since 1923, and back dividends totaling 81½ per cent had accumulated. Also, one new share was exchanged for each five of the old common.

President P. A. S. Franklin said that while final figures were not yet available, indicated net earnings for 1929 were approximately $2,400,000, or nearly $3.90 per new no-par share. This compares with $735,700 in 1928, a slight loss in 1927, and losses averaging more than $2,400,000 in each of the years 1922 to 1926, inclusive.

The company passed through several trying years after the World War, which left the world with ships far in excess of peace-time requirements, and resulted in drastic rate cutting. In 1929 I.M.M. sold the White Star Line to the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company.

Net Income of Investment Up

Net income of the Los Angeles Investment Company for the year closed December 31, last, amounted to $834,879 after all charges, including taxes, equal to $1.66 a share on the average number of shares outstanding against $822,870, or $1.60 a share on the same capital basis for 1928, according to a preliminary audit issued yesterday by the company.

Real-estate sales for the period totaled $712,496 against $759,457 in 1928; Oil royalties, $491,727 against $532,891, and interest rentals and other income amounted to $1,017,354 against $711,512 in 1928. Total gross revenues aggregated $2,221,577 against $2,003,862 in 1928. Expenses and losses amounted to $1,329,891.

SINCLAIR PARTY SEES BASIN

Rio Grande Developments Not Due Until Experts Finish Examination; Other Companies May Figure

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of Sinclair Consolidated, and W. S. Fitzpatrick, chairman of Prairie Oil and Gas, accompanied by their staff of field experts, were piloted over the Los Angeles basin field yesterday by Rio Grande Oil officials on the first day of inspection that may lead to a consolidation of the three companies. Today the party will look over the Elwood field, the heart of the Rio Grande operation.

Included in yesterday's itinerary was a survey of Rio Grande's producing properties at Signal Hill, the recently completed $2,000,000 terminal at Long Beach, and the newly enlarged refinery at Vinvale. The Sinclair party also visited other producing centers in the basin fields, which will come under the detailed study of field conditions the experts will make.

REPORTS AWAITED

Several days will probably elapse before the Sinclair accountants and geologists can complete their examination of the Rio Grande situation. Until this preliminary work is finished, the Rio Grande officials decline to comment on the prospective trade, except to say that a full announcement will be issued as soon as any decision is reached.

Gossip along Spring street intimates that a basis of seven-eighths of the Rio Grande for one share of Sinclair has been tentatively set as the terms of the trade. Mr. Sinclair, however, said upon his arrival Wednesday, that the Rio Grande shares may be acquired for cash, provided the two parties can reach an agreement on values.

Attention of the Sinclair visit has been focussed entirely on Rio Grande, but it is always possible that the trading may take a turn that will bring other California companies into the picture. When Mr. Sinclair was in Los Angeles early last year, it was understood that conversations were held with the Union Oil Company relative to the prospects of working out a trade.

Richfield may also be drawn into the discussions through the ramifications of the oil interests of the Fisher brothers. The Fishers are substantial owners of Sinclair, Texas, Skelly, Richfield and other oil companies. With the Cutten and Blair interests, the Fishers are supposed to have prompted the present conversations for the building of a larger company around Sinclair and Prairie.

NEW COMPANY

Rio Grande, the company figuring most prominently in the Sinclair discussions, has only been recognized in the petroleum business for a few years. The discovery of the Elwood field at Santa Barbara was the stroke of fortune that lifted this company from the ranks of mediocrity to a place among the aristocrats in oil. The value of the Elwood acreage, one-half of which is controlled by Barnsdall, is estimated all the way up to $100,000,000.

As a company Rio Grande only dates from 1915, when L. E. Lockhart, member of a well-known Texas family, started a small oil jobbing business in El Paso. A. M. Lockhart, his brother, came from Chicago to join in the venture, and the two started out on a borrowed capital of $2500. The wholesaling of petroleum products spread rapidly into retailing, and business grew to the point where incorporation papers were taken out in 1916 for a capitalization of $20,000. Expansion into New Mexico brought another brother, H. L. Lockhart, into the company, who was followed by Charles S. Jones, then an El Paso accountant.

In 1918 the first refinery between Los Angeles and Cisco, Tex., was constructed by Rio Grande at El Paso. Drilling for oil to supply the refinery operation was begun in 1919 and early in 1920 the company became a producing, refining and marketing unit. Prior to this development, L. M. Lockhart joined the company, making the fourth brother, and he was followed in 1920 by a fifth, C. H. Lockhart, who became the Rio Grande agent at Las Cruces, N. M.

Net of Pacific States Loan Up

Pacific States Savings and Loan Company for the year 1929 showed earnings of $613,552.24 after Federal income tax reserve, or more than three times earnings for 1928, which were $182,866.82, Robert S. Odell, president of the company and director of finance of the State Guaranty Corporation, the holding company, yesterday stated in letters to stockholders of the latter concern.

Allocating the 1929 earnings in accordance with the participation provisions, the net earnings accruing to the participating preferred shares of State Guaranty Corporation are equivalent to $2.11 per share on the average number outstanding during the year, which was 214,550 shares. Annual dividend requirement on this issue is $1.30 a share. Pacific States Savings during the year collected $1,319,053 in loan underwriting fees and transferred to earnings only $290,505, leaving a total of $1,710,017 available for future distribution, Mr. Odell pointed out.

BANK OF HOLLYWOOD IN ANNUAL MEETING

Gilbert H. Beesemyer was elected chairman of the board and G. R. Dexter, president, at the annual meeting of the Bank of Hollywood, held yesterday. Other officers chosen include Sam Kress, F. J. Keobig, Charles E. Hammel, Clifford Gillespie and Charles Lumpkin, vice-presidents. President Dexter's annual report showed that since the bank moved into its new limit-height home last June more than $1,500,000 in new business has been written.

LONDON RATE HOLDS

LONDON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Bank of England's minimum rate of discount remained unchanged today at 5 per cent.

Rumor Makers to Market Own Radio Output

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (Exclusive) General Electric Company and Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company are believed to be entertaining plans for the sale of radio receiving sets through their own organizations.

According to today's reports the two electrical units, which heretofore have sold their sets through the Radio Corporation of America, will enter the market some time during the summer or autumn of 1930 when the demand for receiving sets ordinarily begins to increase.

It is understood the equipment of each company will bear its own insignia, although the sets will probably be manufactured by R.C.A.-Victor Corporation, a new organization formed jointly last October by General Electric, Westinghouse and Radio Corporation.

The situation in the radio industry is considered peculiar by many observers.

Although estimates as high as $800,000,000 are given as the amount the American public spent in the industry in 1929, the fact remains that companies are cutting and passing dividends, several going into receivership and many leaders having huge unsold inventories on their hands.

Mitchell Seeks Old Land Grant Case Decision

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—A decision to terminate the long-standing controversy between the government and the Northern Pacific Railroad over that company's half-century-old land grant has been reached by Atty.-Gen. Mitchell, who has ordered submission of the whole complex question to the Federal courts for a final decision.

He has appointed two special assistants, D. F. McGowan, attorney for the Forest Service, and E. E. Danly of the regular justice staff, to shape up the litigation for an adjudication, and within the next few weeks it is expected that petitions embodying all the issues will be filed in some one of the Northwestern States which the railroad system traverses.

By the anticipated proceeding the government or the railroad, as the case may turn, stands to win or lose possibly $8,000,000 to $12,000,000, while in any event title to a considerable amount of land now included in national forests will be cleared of any doubt as to its validity.

Foreign Trade Gain Reflected

Constant growth in foreign trade through the local harbor promises to make Los Angeles an increasingly important center for acceptance business, Alex S. Cowie, vice-president in charge of acceptance and foreign business for the Citizens' National Trust & Savings Bank, stated yesterday in releasing a report showing that the bank as of December 31, last, had a record high of $9,273,790.96 in acceptances executed. This is believed to be the highest figure ever recorded by any Los Angeles bank.

American banks today show a volume of acceptances in dollars greater than that now credited to the London market in sterling bills. Fully 83 per cent of the acceptance business of the United States banks in 1929 was for financing foreign commerce and an increase of about 38 per cent over the business of 1928 was shown, Mr. Cowie said.

Trading Light on California Stock Market

With a total of 1500 shares and 1000 rights changing hands, traders on the floor of the new California Stock Exchange passed a quiet and uneventful session yesterday, the second since its opening Tuesday morning.

There was a notable increase, however, in the number of orders posted, and bid and asked quotations were marked up on the board for approximately fifty issues. The range between the bid and asked prices was in most cases fractional.

Bolsa Chica, Exeter Oil, Rio Grande and Transamerica rights formed the bulk of the trading, while bids on stocks not heretofore traded or listed on Los Angeles security markets were posted for such issues as Anaconda Copper, Aviation Corporation of Delaware, Crown Zellerbach, Hunt Brothers Packing, Libby McNeil Libby, Mexican Seaboard Oil, Paramount Famous Lasky, R.-K.-O., Warner Brothers and William Wrigley, Jr.

AGENTS NAMED

Appointment of Evans J. Maxwell & Co. as financial agents for the Big Bear Investment Corporation was announced yesterday by H. R. Eyer. Evans J. Maxwell & Co. will be identified with the sale of beneficial interests in the Big Bear Investment Trust.

SECURITIES LOAN TOTAL IN ADVANCE

Report of Reserve Bank Shows $13,000,000 Gain Over Previous Week

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ended the 15th inst. were announced by the Federal Reserve Board today as $3,365,000,000, representing an increase of $13,000,000, as compared with the preceding week. The loans for the week ended January 16, 1929, were $5,395,000,000.

The detailed distribution of the loans over the three weeks dealt with in the board's report was:

| Jan. 15, 1930. | Jan. 8, 1930. | Jan. 16, 1929. |
|---|---|---|
| For own account: | | |
| $ 853,000,000 | $ 886,000,000 | $1,004,000,000 |
| For account of out-of-town banks: | | |
| $ 877,000,000 | $ 824,000,000 | $1,859,000,000 |
| For account of others: | | |
| $1,635,000,000 | $1,642,000,000 | $2,452,000,000 |

Comparative figures for last year follow:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| January 9.. | $3,352,000,000 | $5,313,000,000 |
| January 15.. | 3,365,000,000 | 5,395,000,000 |

Los Angeles broker's loans as reported yesterday by sixty-four members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange for the week ending the 15th inst. totaled $27,645,088, a drop of $1,625,520 from the previous week.

New Offering of Realty Liens on Mart Today

Public offering of a new issue of $12,500,000 first mortgage fee and leasehold 6 per cent sinking fund gold bonds, series of 1958, of the Forty Wall Street Corporation, owner of the Manhattan Company Building, will be made today by a banking group headed by G. L. Ohrstrom & Co., Inc., Halsey Stuart & Co., Inc., and including Estabrook & Co., Arthur Perry & Co., Inc., and Janney & Co. The bonds, dated November 1, 1929, are priced at 96½ and accrued interest to yield over 6.25 per cent.

Merrill, Lynch & Co. is offering a limited number of shares of a block of 20,000 shares of Safeway Stores, Inc., 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock at 96 to yield approximately 6.25 per cent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—The Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh was the successful bidder for $1,500,000 government bonds of the Philippine Islands, bearing 4½ per cent interest and maturing October 1, 1959.

Discount Unit Pays Initial on Common Stock

Directors of the Commercial Discount Company yesterday raised the return to common stockholders with the declaration of an initial regular quarterly dividend on the new $10 par value stock of 25 cents a share, payable February 10 to stockholders of record February 1, the quarterly dividend on the old $25 par stock being 50 cents or equivalent to 20 cents on the new, Roy D. Bayly, president, announced.

The new dividend is at the annual rate of $1 a share compared with the equivalent of 80 cents a share for the old. The reduction in par value became effective as of the 1st inst. Last spring the rate of the old stock was doubled.

Net earnings for the year closed December 31, last, reached a total of $362,028.69 after all charges including taxes, equal after preferred dividends to $0.65 a share on the old $25 par value common stock. This compares with $142,746.38 in 1928 or $0.17 a common share.

Ward Baking Earnings Off

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Ward Baking Corporation reports for the year ending December 28, 1929, a consolidated net income of $3,124,413, equal to $8.57 a share on 86,275 shares of no par class A common stock, and to 57 cents a share on the 500,000 shares of no par Class B common. This compares with $3,293,542 in the preceding year, or $8.72 a share on the Class A shares, and 72 cents a share on the Class B stock.

Charles A. Ward, chairman, announced that during the year the company has reduced its funded indebtedness from $5,114,300 to $4,757,000, and that through the purchase of preferred stock the amount outstanding has been reduced from $31,058,700 to $30,006,400.

INVESTMENT BANKER IN NEW POSITION

Sidney B. Hook, formerly with the bond department of Bankers Trust Company and more recently a partner of William Cavalier & Company, has become associated with Weeden & Co., dealers in seasoned California bonds, with offices in Los Angeles. Mr Hook, who has wide investment banking experience both in California and the East, will have charge of the municipal department in line with the house's program of expansion in this field.

FOKKER AIRCRAFT CHIEF IN CITY

W. T. Whalen, vice-president and general manager of the Fokker Aircraft Corporation of America, is in Los Angeles for a few days conferring with J. A. Talbot, chairman, and Harris M. Hanshue, president. He is accompanied by Russell Jones, manager of the aviation department, General Motors Export Corporation, and G. Breckenridge, aviation manager of the General Motors Acceptance Corporation.

PART PAY SALES RATIO LOW

Credit Group Says Only $1 in Every $20 of Credit Buying Represents Installment Purchases

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—J. J. Edgerton, president of the National Association of Retail Credit Men, has no fear of installment buying even at this time.

"Potential purchasing power of immense volume remains virtually untapped. It can be profitably and safely developed by proper utilization of the credit facilities open to retail customers," he says.

Credit men recognize the resistance on the part of many consumers to push a campaign of installment purchasing at this time. Some of them believe that the installment purchase idea has gone too far already. But the National Association of Retail Credit Men declares that only 26 per cent of their total sales are charge accounts and only 5 per cent of the total—$1 in $20—is covered by installment purchase plan.

The principle underlying installment purchasing is simple. It is workable, too, if it is not overdone. How much further the installment purchase contracts can be pushed with safety depends finally upon the purchasing power of those who enter such contracts—not on the general condition of the country.

Sprague, 57 years of age, of Harvard University, selected for an important post with the Bank of England, has been a professor of finance and economics ever since he graduated from Harvard, except for four years from 1905 to 1908, when he was professor of economics at the Imperial University of Tokio, Japan.

Prof. Sprague is the author of three well-known works on finance, "The History of Crisis Under the National Banking System," issued in 1910; "Banking Reform in the United States," issued one year later, and "Theory in History of Business," issued in 1917.

It is understood that Prof. Sprague's work will be to help iron out certain definite problems that have arisen between the Bank of England and the central banks of certain other European nations.

Recently, Prof. Sprague co-operated with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in compiling the report which that organization made on the Federal Reserve system. He is recognized as one of the country's leading specialists in the field of banking and credit.

How much forced labor is there in the world? By forced labor, we mean all work which a person does not do voluntarily, but rather under the menace of punishment for not doing it.

Forced labor is widespread in the various colonies of the tropics. It is used for public works like railroad building, road building, internal improvements. Often it takes the form of a tax requiring each native to give the government a certain number of hours a year.

The international labor office at Geneva has strongly condemned this practice. "Forced labor is a blind alley; the forced worker is not likely to acquire a taste for work. On the contrary, all the associations of compulsion tend to give him an active distaste for it," says the labor office.

No figures are available to show the extent of the forced labor, but it is more widespread than is generally believed.

Pacific Savings Profits Jump

Net earnings of the Pacific States Savings and Loan Company, owned by the State Guaranty Corporation, reached a total of $613,552.24 for the year closed December 31, last, after all charges, including Federal taxes, which is more than three times the earnings of $182,866.82 reported for 1928, Robert S. Odell, president, announced yesterday.

The year's profits were equivalent to $2.11 a share on the State Guaranty Corporation average number of participating preferred stock outstanding, or 214,550 shares based according to the participation provisions of the stock. The annual dividend requirements on the preferred stock is $1.30 a share. The extra dividend of 12 cents a share in addition to the regular quarterly was mailed to stockholders yesterday.

STOCK MART STABILIZERS FINISH TASK

Syndicate Members to Turn Remaining Stocks to Banking Affiliates

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (Exclusive) Resources of the banking pool, formed at the time of the stock market slump to help stabilize trading conditions, were in excess of $240,000,000, it was learned today, and open market liquidation of the securities purchased at that time has been virtually completed. Although the exact amount of funds which the group had at its disposal has never been made known officially, it was learned that the six institutions, whose representatives gathered at the Morgan offices on October 24, the day of the first violent depression in stock market values, pledged $40,000,000 each to relieve the situation.

Additional large funds also were available, for other large banks of the city signified their willingness to be drawn upon should the need arise. The banking group, however, did not at any time completely utilize the resources of the pool, but kept a part of their buying power in reserve.

The remaining stock now held by J. P. Morgan & Co. for the account of the consortium will not come on the market, but will be taken up by the six banks composing the group and placed in the investment portfolios of their security affiliates. This stock amounts to considerably less than $100,000,000 worth, it is understood. The career of the consortium will now come to an end.

BANK OF COMMERCE RE-ELECTS DIRECTORS

Officers and directors of the National Bank of Commerce were re-elected Tuesday at the annual meeting, according to Erle M. Leaf, president. In his annual report to stockholders he stated that approximately 7000 new accounts were opened in 1929 and that deposits have increased 60 per cent since control was assumed by the present management. Total income in 1929, he said, increased 35 per cent.

BANK RATE HOLDS

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (Exclusive) The Federal Reserve Bank here made no announcement today regarding any change in its rediscount rate of 4½ per cent.

Slash in Price of Crude Oils Spreads Wider

TULSA, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Carter Oil Company, a subsidiary of Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, has reduced crude oil prices in mid-continent fields, meeting the schedule posted by Humble Oil and Refining Company yesterday. The reduction in prices ranges from 17 to 41 cents a barrel. Lowering of prices will mean a cut of from 30 to 35 cents a barrel in the price of crude produced in the Seminole area, bringing prices to around the lowest level since the discovery of the field.

The proration committee of the Oklahoma City pool has called a meeting of its producers here today to consider a further reduction in production. In view of the prolific nature of wells completed in this pool, it is believed a complete shutdown is the only means of preventing an almost complete demoralization of the Oklahoma crude oil market.

SHREVEPORT, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, subsidiary of Standard of New Jersey, today met the price reduction posted yesterday by the Texas Company on all South Arkansas and North Louisiana crude oils and also posted a cut ranging from 17 to 41 cents a barrel.

DALLAS, Jan. 16. (AP)—Reductions on crude oil prices averaging 25 cents per barrel throughout Texas were announced today by the Magnolia Petroleum Company. The new prices range from 60 cents for oil below 25 deg. gravity, to $1.44 per barrel for 44 deg. gravity oil and above.

Day's Dividend List Reported

F. and R. Lazarus, regular quarterly of $1.62½ on preferred, payable February 1 to stock of record the 20th inst.

International Harvester, regular quarterly of $1.75 on preferred, payable March 1 to stock of record February 5.

Elmer Richards Company, quarterly on convertible preferred due at this time was passed.

International Safety Razor Corporation, usual extra of 25 cents and regular quarterly of 50 cents on Class "B" and 60 cents on Class "A," payable March 1 to stock of record February 14.

Central Cold Storage Company, regular quarterly of 40 cents each on common, payable March 31 and June 30 to stock of record March 25 and June 25, respectively.

Allegheny Steel, regular monthlies of 15 cents on common, payable February 18 and March 18 to stock of record the 31st inst. and February 28, respectively, and the full year's dividend on 7 per cent preferred, payable in 1¾ per cent quarterly installments March 1, June 2, September 1 and December 1 to stock of record February 15, May 15, August 15 and November 15, respectively.

Lincoln Printing Company, quarterly of 45 cents on common, placing issue on $1.80 annual basis as against $1.60 previously.

International Mercantile Marine, $1 out of earnings for year 1929, payable February 15 to stock of record the 28th inst.

Globe Grain and Milling, regular quarterly of 50 cents on common, 43¾ cents on first preferred and 50 cents on second preferred, all payable April 1 to stock of record March 20.

HATRY SETTLEMENT OUTLOOK FAVORABLE

LONDON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—The plan for a Hatry settlement has met such a favorable reception for brokers and jobbers that its acceptance is considered certain. The point of interest to the investing public is that those who sold any Hatry shares will receive full payment. Contributions of jobbers and brokers will provide £800,000 and the remainder will be raised by the settlement committee. Many contributions were received from people without moral obligations.

CASH REGISTER DIRECTOR

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (Exclusive) C. S. McCain, president of Chase National Bank of New York, has been elected a director of National Cash Register Company. He succeeds S. W. Howland who resigned to become a partner of Guggenheim Brothers.

Reserve Board Reviews Gold Flow for Year

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The movement of gold to the United States, which totaled $250,000,000 in the first ten months of 1929, due to the attraction of a rising stock market, was reversed after the decline and $100,000,000 in gold was taken from the country in the last two months of the year.

Reviewing the situation as the year ended, the Federal Reserve Board said in its monthly bulletin that liquidation of bank credit, which began at the end of October with further decline of stock prices, had continued in early December. This was accompanied by the outward flow of gold.

Member banks up to the middle of December, in addition to being able to obtain the gold for export, were able to meet the Christmas season demand for currency and at the same time reduce their borrowings at the reserve banks. As a consequence, the board said, member bank indebtedness to the reserve banks at the middle of December was smaller by $250,000,000 than at the beginning of November.

During the last week of the year, the report continued, when the return flow of currency had begun, the volume of reserve bank credit outstanding was $150,000,000 below the level of the last week of 1928, the decrease corresponding with the growth during 1929 in the stock of monetary gold.

Due serially 1931-1944 inclusive

Denominations:
$1000, $500, $200 and $86.23

EXEMPT FROM FEDERAL INCOME TAX AND PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX IN CALIFORNIA

Purpose of the Issue:

These bonds were issued for widening the pavement of the State Highway from 20 to 56 feet and for the installation of an ornamental lighting system on this street. The property is charged for 26 feet of this widening, 10 feet having been paid for by cash contribution from the state.

District:

Price Street is the State Highway, and the district comprises the main business section of Pismo Beach. The property is all zoned for business and averages in value from $75.00 to $85.00 per front foot. There have been some sales in the past year as high as $100.00 per front foot. The district is about 65% improved with small business buildings and a few residences.

Pismo Beach has one of the finest bathing beaches in the State and is a resort for all the adjacent countryside, including the town of San Luis Obispo, which lies just a few miles north; also from the San Joaquin Valley, which is about two hours' drive straight east.

Legal Provisions:

Issued under the Act of 1915, which provides that taxes shall be levied and collected for the payment of principal and interest of these bonds in the same manner and at the same times as County taxes are levied and collected.

First Mortgage Fee and Leasehold 6% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, Series of 1958

Dated November 1, 1929 Due November 1, 1958

Semi-annual interest, May 1 and November 1, payable at the offices of G. L. Ohrstrom & Co. and of Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., in New York City and Chicago. Principal payable at the principal office of the Trustee. Coupon Bonds in interchangeable denominations of $1,000 and $500; registerable as to principal. Redeemable, at the option of the Corporation or through operation of the sinking fund, in whole or in part, on any interest payment date, upon thirty days' published notice, to and including November 1, 1932, at 105; thereafter, to and including November 1, 1937, at 103; thereafter, to and including November 1, 1947, at 102; thereafter, to and including November 1, 1957, at 101; and thereafter at 100; in each case with accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption. Interest payable without deduction for normal Federal income tax not in excess of two per cent per annum. Refund of certain Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Kansas and California taxes not to exceed four mills, Maryland tax not to exceed four and one-half mills, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia and District of Columbia taxes not to exceed five mills, Michigan exemption tax not to exceed five mills, and Massachusetts tax measured by income not to exceed six per cent, to resident holders upon written application within sixty days after payment, all as provided in the Mortgage. Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Trustee.

The Mortgage provides for a quarterly Sinking Fund, beginning November 1, 1930, sufficient to retire these Bonds at or before maturity.

Building: The principal office of the Bank of Manhattan Trust Company will be located in The Manhattan Company Building, which is now being erected on the north side of Wall Street, New York City, adjacent to the Assay Office and Sub-Treasury of the United States, and extending through to Pine Street. This is one of the most desirable locations for a bank and office building in the Wall Street financial district. The building rises to a height of 70 stories and will be one of the outstanding commercial structures in the world. Except for a small portion on the westerly side of the Pine Street frontage, the building is scheduled for completion by May 1, 1930.

Forty Wall Street Corporation has entered into a contract with the United States Government for the purchase of the Assay Office site, adjoining the building. The statistics contained herein with respect to the estimated income of the building, the deductions therefrom and the estimated value of the completed property, are based on the acquisition and improvement of a small tract (aggregating 1,117 square feet) proposed to be presently acquired from the Government, but exclude the balance of the Assay Office property, possession of which cannot be presently obtained.

|---|---|
| Gross Income | $5,067,899 |
| Operating Expenses, Ground Rent, Maintenance, Insurance, Allowance for Vacancies of $400,000 which is over ten per cent of the estimated annual rent roll (exclusive of the space to be occupied by the Bank of Manhattan Trust Company), and Taxes, other than Income Taxes | 2,341,000 |
| Balance | $2,726,899 |
| Maximum Annual Interest on these Bonds | $ 750,000 |

The Bank of Manhattan Trust Company, a subsidiary of The Manhattan Company, has leased and contracted to lease space in the building at an annual rental of over $1,000,000, of which over $893,000 commences May 1, 1930 and the balance prior to May 1, 1931. Leases and contracts for leases have already been signed for more than sixty per cent of the estimated net rentable area of the building. The annual rental from space already leased or contracted to be leased is considerably in excess of estimated annual operating expenses, maintenance, insurance and real estate taxes, average annual ground rent and maximum annual interest charges on these Bonds.

Security: These Bonds are, in the opinion of counsel, secured by a direct first mortgage on the land owned in fee by Forty Wall Street Corporation and the leasehold estates of the Corporation, subject to the aforementioned lease of space to the Bank of Manhattan Trust Company. The Corporation has agreed that if, by December 1, 1930, it shall have acquired the aforesaid small tract on Pine Street, aggregating approximately 1,117 square feet, it will convey this property to the Trustee, subject to no prior lien, as additional security for these Bonds. If such property shall not have been acquired by December 1, 1930, the Corporation agrees to retire, through the Sinking Fund, not less than $1,500,000 in principal amount of these Bonds. The value of the completed property, including fee, leaseholds and building, has been independently appraised at $22,000,000. On the basis of this valuation, these Bonds will represent less than a fifty-seven per cent loan. Completion of the building has been guaranteed by Starrett Brothers, Incorporated, and The Starrett Corporation.

Management: The building is being erected by Starrett Brothers, Incorporated. It is owned and will be operated by Forty Wall Street Corporation, which, like Starrett Brothers, Incorporated, and Starrett Investing Corporation, is a subsidiary of The Starrett Corporation.

Price 96½ and Accrued Interest, to Yield Over 6.25%

The above information is summarized from and is subject to a letter of Col. W. A. Starrett, the President of the Corporation, to the Bankers. These Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to the approval of counsel; also subject to change in price and prior sale. Delivery may be made in the first instance in temporary or definitive Bonds or in interim certificates of a New York City bank or trust company.

easier tone. Improvement in credit conditions is reflected by the fact that bond offerings this week are in excess of $300,000,000, the largest for any peace-time week. Brokers' loans showed a nominal increase for the week of $13,000,000.

The day's business news included further crude-oil price cuts believed to reflect efforts to force curtailment of production; a sharp decline in copper production during December, despite the fact that stocks on hand gained sharply, and the General Motors annual report on sales to dealers and dealers' sales to users. Only a slight increase in General Motors sales to users was shown, and an accumulation of approximately 39,000 cars in dealers' hands was indicated.

UTILITY GROUP ACTIVE

United Corporation, Commonwealth and Southern and United Gas Investment, the Morgan-Bonbright group, were traded in huge volume, United Corporation sold up about a point but closed unchanged. Commonwealth and Southern and United Gas Improvement closed about a point higher. Consolidated Gas made a similar gain. Fox Film was active and strong on announcement of the plan to float an issued of short-term notes, to meet pressing obligations, but reacted later.

The drive on Radio shares was coupled with a report that General Electric and Westinghouse Electric will market radio sets. This need not adversely affect Radio Corporation, however, as it has a half-interest in Radio Corporation of America-Victor, which is expected to manufacture the sets. Crosley Radio and Zenith fell to new lows. General Electric rose about 5 points but closed up only 1, International Silver, National Lead and Peoples Gas closed about 7 to 8 points higher.

American Tobacco, J. I. Case, Cerro De Pasco, Columbia Graphophone, Du Pont, General American Tank, Magma Copper, Standard of New Jersey, Texas Corporation, United States Industrial Alcohol and United States Steel lost about 2 to 4 points. Auburn Auto dropped 7 and Federal Light 9. General Motors closed off 1 5-8.

Wheat futures again lost about 1 1-2 cents, corn lost nearly as much, and cotton closed barely steady.

Foreign exchanges were largely steady, sterling cables were 1-16 higher at $4.87 15-16, in response to the unchanged discount rate. Franc cables were firm at 3.93 cents.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Security Prices React to Wednesday's Level After Early Upturn on Local Board

While short interests attempted to gain the upper hand after a bullish opening on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, the extent of the early gains and the resistance to selling pressure were both sufficient to hold prices to a generally steady level. When the bell closed the session, the board showed only minor deviations for the day with the number of losses about equaling the number of gains.

Transamerica recorded a turnover of more than 5000 shares and led the trading volume of the market, which, as a whole, was substantially more active than on Wednesday. The Gianninni bank holding company touched a high at 43½ and ended at 43 1-4, up 1-4 net. Transamerica scrip sold at 41 cents and the rights at 6 cents were unchanged.

Richfield continued to play a prominent part in the day's activity and after reaching 26 1-8 early in the session, ended low for the day at 25 1-4, off 3-4 net, after a turnover of 3700 shares. Union Oil traded briskly and after touching 46 closed off 5-8 net at 45 3-8. The Union Associates, firmed up 1-8 to 45 1-8. Standard Oil of California fell off 3-4 to 60 1-4.

Rio Grande Oil, which normally led the activity of the oil group throughout the greater part of last year, traded in smaller volume than the other major oil issues. The stock ranged between 19 1-4 and 19 1-8, closing at the latter price. Executives of the Sinclair Oil and Prairie Oil and Gas are at present engaged in surveying the Rio Grande properties.

Southern California Edison hit 58 early in the session and closed at 57 3-4, up 1-4 net, and Pacific Lighting transferred at 81, up 2 points from the last sale here some time ago. Douglas Aircraft, directors of which are scheduled to meet today, slipped back another 1-4 to 13. Other changes on the board were negligible.

Sales totaled 116,049 shares valued at $663,659; previous day, 90,567 shares valued at $471,886.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Speculative interest was turned toward Claude Neon Lights of New York on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday, as after standing dormant for several weeks, the issue advanced 2 1-4 points to 14 1-4 on a turnover of 500 shares. Neon of Delaware, Universal Consolidated and Exeter Oil led the activity of the market while prices generally were of a mixed character.

Claude Neon of Delaware traded all day at 34 5-8, down 3-8, and recorded a transfer of 600 shares. Universal Consolidated Oil advanced 1 point to 14½ on a turnover of 1400 shares. North American Consolidated Oil turned suddenly active and added 1½ points to end at 16. Caterpillar Tractor firmed up ½ to 59 while Cities Service, Detroit Aircraft, Intercoast and Pacific Associates eased fractionally lower. Pacific Indemnity slumped 9 points to 201.

Exeter Oil, on a turnover of 5300 shares reached a new high for the recovery movement at 2.35 but in the last hour dropped back to 2.25, off 5 cents net. On light sales Italo advanced 15 cents to 92 cents and the preferred, 40 cents to 1.65 on news of the completion of a well at Santa Fe Springs. Mills Alloy "B" broke 1.00 to 1.00.

Sales totaled 37,357 shares valued at $120,205; previous day, 16,725 shares valued at $70,660.

METAL MARKET

CLEVELAND, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Moderate expansion in the requirements of the automotive industry for finished steel appears to have whetted the appetite of producers for business, and they are making sharp concessions in order to get some of the new business which is coming out. At the same time, business in the heavy rolled steel products continues to make further gains although the upturn is slow.

A large portion of current buying appears to be for replacement of depleted stocks and with the exceptions of steel bars, actual consumption has not expanded to any great extent as yet from the rate prevailing at the beginning of the month. Sheet back logs are not large although orders have gained sufficiently to enable producers to step up production.

Prices have slipped off $1 per ton on concrete bars in carload lots in the East, the lower price applying on mill shipments and mill stocks.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Lively trader interest followed the San Francisco stock market operations of today, while a movement that has been under way all week continued to raise the general price structure. Gains in most cases were moderate, and volume was only in fair flow, though considerably higher than for recent sessions, with sales totaling 130,000 shares and money turnover being $1,684,155.

Transamerica rights were sold in record volume at 6 cents, except for a slight volume at 7, the total being 96,943. With Transamerica's stock sales of more than 15,000, the two made well over 100,000, leaving, in fact, only about 25,000 shares for the rest of the stocks.

Oliver Filters stocks were the show birds, the A issue gaining 3 points and the B 2⅝ on today's close compared with yesterday's last sales. A number of other industrials advanced strongly in early trading, but fell back under short selling and profit taking, some showing net losses. Caterpillar was among the losers, after rising to a new 1930 high at 59½. It closed at 58⅝, down ⅛.

The investment group reflected lively attention, Bond and Share closing with a fractional gain after setting a new high at 14⅛. Associated Insurance was slightly higher, but Investors Association slipped slightly and North American dropped 2½ on a single sale, maintaining its belated response to the autumn crash in other stocks. Transamerica lost most of an early gain, but closed fractionally higher.

Pressure on the oil stocks resulting from nervousness over continued high output of crude and refined products sent Richfield down 1⅛, Standard ⅜, and Shell, North American Oil, Union and Union Associates ½, each.

Spring Valley maintained a gain of a point, but Pacific Lighting lost part of its early rise. Great Western preferred 6s and 7s closed higher along with Pacific Gas and Pacific Public Service. Pacific Lighting preferred, Pacific Gas preferred, and Southern Pacific Golden Gate A showed slight losses.

Other losses included Marchant, down 1½, Atlas Diesel, down 1⅛, and smaller declines by Magnavox, Hawaiian Pineapple, Langendorf B and Yellow and Checker Cab.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK. Jan. 16. (AP)—Bonds held firm today in a market that was busy only in spots. A continuation of Wednesday's heaviness would not have been surprising in view of the fact that all peace time records for new bond offerings are being broken this week, but the list gave a good account of itself. Closing prices were generally the highest of the day, although net changes held to the smaller fractions.

The strongest point was the foreign division, where numerous issues surpassed or equaled their highs for the past year. French governments turned over in large amounts, the 7½s touching 120 and the 7s making 114¼. Belgian stabilization 7s, Greek government 7s, Japanese 6½s, several French municipals, Norway 5s and Rotterdam 6s were others exceeding their 1929 peaks. German 7s failed to attract attention and the day's sales involved only $2000 principal amount, with the quotation holding unchanged at 107.

A few bonds were very active, the new American Telephone 5s changed hands to the extent of nearly $500,000 for a tiny net loss. The Chesapeake and Ohio 4½s, another newcomer trading on a when-issued basis, squeezed past yesterday's offering price of 94, but returned to the latter figure, showing a good turnover. Chicago and Northwestern convertible 4¾s met some selling and dropped to 99¼, a low for this recently listed bond. Standard Oil of New Jersey 5s showed an exceptionally large volume, closing without net change at 102.

Rails edged up and down within narrow limits. Chesapeake and Ohio 5s, Missouri Pacific 5s, Missouri-Kansas-Texas prior lien 5s, New York Central 3½s and Pennsylvania 5s lost a point. There was compensating improvement in Southern Pacific 4s, Western Maryland 4s, Erie convertible 4s, series A, Big Four 5s and Nickel Plate 5½s, series B.

Industrials and utilities steadied. Fisk Rubber 8s recovered yesterday's decline, while International Cement 5s, Liggett & Myers 5s, Utah Power and Light 5s and New York Edison 5s rose 1 to 1½ points.

Aside from a turnover of nearly $750,000 in American Telephone 4½s, there was little to note in the convertibles and net fluctuations were fractional.

United States governments had another dull day, clinging close to Wednesday's final quotations.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK. Jan. 16. (AP)—Early advances on covering and trade buying, accompanied by talk of a campaign to reduce acreage in the South, were followed by reactions in the cotton market today. Offerings were very light during the early trading, but increased slightly at net advances of about 7 to 10 points and the setbacks later were influenced by reports of weakness in wheat. The midafternoon market was about 3 to 7 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 16.—Spot cotton closed quiet, 9 points down. Sales, 1195; middling, 16.97.

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Cottonseed oil firmer early today on a show of strength in the crude market and buying by commission houses, but reacted under increased selling on the general decline in most of the other commodities. The close was barely steady at 1 point net decline to 2 points advance. Sales, 17,900 barrels. Prime crude, 7.25c; prime summer yellow, spot, 8.45c; January, 8.35c; March, 8.76c; May, 8.97c; July, 9.18c.

GASOLINE MARKET SLOW

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Motor grade, 6⅛ to 7c. Kerosene, unchanged; 41-43 water white, 4 to 4¼c; fuel oil, steady; 24-26 gravity, 97½@1.02½.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—The line of least resistance in today's curb market was downward, although losses in many of the active issues were held to a point or less. Trading was moderately heavy, the day's sales falling just short of 900,000 shares.

Whereas most of the oil shares were heavy in reflection of an extension of recent crude oil price cuts, the pipe line issues showed conspicuous strength. Cumberland Pipe Line advanced 4 points, Missouri-Kansas 3⅞, Eureka 3, Illinois 2 and Buckeye ⅞. Humble Oil and Standard Oil of Ohio each dropped 3 points, Gulf Oil 2¼ and Indian Territory, Standard Oil of Kansas and a few others yielded a point or so.

Utilities generally failed to maintain their early gains, although New England Telephone jumped 5 points and Allied Power and Light moved up 2. Electric Bond and Share and Cities Service showed slight recessions, while American Superpower warrants, United Gas, United Light and Power A and Niagara and Hudson Power recorded small net gains.

Hoover Steel Ball broke 8½ points to a new record low at 12½. Several aviation stocks lost a point or so. Dubilier and De Forest Radio improved fractionally. Most of the leading investment trust and trading corporation shares showed only narrow fractional changes. One lot of ten shares of Safeway Stores second warrants changed hands at 216, a jump of 50 points above the previous sale.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Conversations between the British and Dutch rubber growers concerning measures to restrict production and arrest the downward course of rubber prices, have officially begun, a cable from Amsterdam to the New York Rubber Exchange stated today. According to the cable the discussions will be held in secret and no announcement is expected until they are completed, in about a week.

Reflecting a substantial gain in the London market and reports of negotiations between English and Dutch rubber producers in Amsterdam, presumably to arrive at some decision to restrict rubber production, futures here closed with net gains of from 20 to 40 points. Sales, 404 lots or 1010 long tons. London spot closed quiet and 3-16d higher at 7 1-16d. Outside spot here rose ¼c to 15c.

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

With the release yesterday of the semi-monthly proration report for the period from the 16th to 31st inst., inclusive, prepared by Umpire Fred Grimm for the Santa Fe Springs field, some interesting figures are submitted to the various producing companies endeavoring to keep their production within the limits of the curtailment agreement.

The new report, which became effective yesterday, shows a potential production of 306,930 barrels of oil per day for the field for the new period. It shows that with 9150 barrels a day excess carried over from the last period, the allowable production for the new period will be [illegible] barrels daily, nearly 10,000 barrels under the 150,000-barrel limit. The total excess production to the 14th inst. is 146,297 barrels in fifteen days.

During the last proration period the General Petroleum Corporation completed twelve new wells, the [illegible] Company two and one each for the Associated Oil Company, H. [illegible], George F. Getty, Inc., [illegible] Oil Company, Second Twin Bell Oil Company, recompleted one and completed one; the [illegible] Oil Company, two; Standard Oil Company, two, and the Twin Bell Syndicate, one.

The twenty-six new completions gave the field a combined new production of 64,429 barrels per day, an average of 2480 barrels per well.

An interesting bit of information shown by Grimm's report is that half of the completions between the 1st inst. and the 15th were completed at 8000 feet or deeper. Eleven were brought in below 7000 feet, one slightly below [illegible] and one at 4250 feet. The smallest producer completed during the period was the Associated Oil Company's Dalluge No. 9, which is good for about fifty barrels of oil per day. The Union Oil Company's [illegible] No. 50 is listed as the largest, with a potential of 6500 barrels daily, and the Raleigh Oil Company's York-Lockhart No. 1 is second with 6000 barrels.

[illegible] Postponed

The City Planning Commission yesterday failed to take action on numerous requests for the rezoning of lot acreage near the Ohio Oil Company's producer southeast of Venice. It has postponed its action in the matter until the [illegible]. Reasons for the delay were that transcripts and files were not available and that reports of a special investigation had not yet been submitted for examination.

The move to rezone properties southeast of Venice resulted when the Ohio Oil Company completed its [illegible] Gun Club No. 1 for an initial flow of 3080 barrels of oil per day. The project has been pinched down to 1200 barrels daily with about 1,250,000 cubic feet of gas per day. The company is erecting a derrick for another well to be drilled 660 feet south of its first completion and will spud in within a week.

Further drilling to offset Ohio's well will start almost immediately if a favorable report is submitted regarding prospecting on acreage held by a number of other operators. [illegible] & McAdams, who own a [illegible] of a twenty-acre lease jointly with the Cypress Petroleum Company, plan to drill at least two wells directly southwest of the new producer. The Pacific Western Oil Company, George F. Getty, Inc., [illegible] Oil Company and a number of independent operators hold town lot property near Ohio's producer.

Recovers Drill Pipe

George F. Getty, Inc., has recovered the drill pipe in Erwin No. 1 on the middle dome at Kettleman Hills and is now drilling ahead below [illegible] feet. The project had much difficulty in being cleaned and [illegible] to bottom following recovery of the fish. Since drilling started brown shale has been encountered. That formation is considered most favorable at Kettleman Hills by operators and an almost certain indication that a project has a fair chance of finding production.

[illegible] Delay

[illegible] have delayed completion of an oil line by the Associated Oil Company to handle the anticipated production from the [illegible] Securities Company's [illegible] No. 1 on the north dome at Kettleman Hills and also delayed the project's completion.

[illegible] Fells No. 1 yesterday was drilling below 7300 feet in brown shale, the formation that so far has meant good production on the north dome at Kettleman Hills. A "Christmas tree" has been installed and other necessary work completed so that it should come in within the next few days. An absorption plant is nearly completed to care for [illegible] cubic feet of gas per day and to treat it for casinghead gasoline.

[illegible] Beach Protested

With nine tideland tests being drilled along the coast near Carpinteria, there is a movement under way to prevent further drilling and the construction of wharves for such operation. The move to prevent further activity by a number of operators is reported to have been started by the Santa Barbara County Board of Supervisors, which has instructed the forestry board to make a protest and to establish its position as to the county's rights in tideland prospecting matters.

According to word received here, the County Board of Supervisors will oppose further exploration of the beach used by the public. Supervisor Thomas T. Dinsmore has introduced a resolution objecting to the constructing of wharves and to drilling a stretch of beach off Carpinteria for one-fourth mile on either side of the bathhouse.

Reports indicate that the Santa Barbara County Planning Commission and the Supervisors will carry the legal battle into high courts to prevent the spudding in of projects on the coast at Carpinteria. In an attempt to make the objections conform to navigation matters, as required by a War Department order, it will be pointed out that the surf and the channel near Carpinteria is used by fishermen and for other [illegible] purposes.

[illegible] Producer

The Ring Oil Company is rigging up San Johnson No. 1 near the corner of Linden avenue and Wardlow street at Signal Hill and will deepen the old producer from its present depth of 4500 feet to at least 7300 feet in an endeavor to find the same producing formation found in the Chicksan Oil Company's Robertson No. 2.

Ring's old producer has been putting out but a few barrels of oil a day for several months. It was completed about four years ago and has been putting out oil steadily since. It is located just east of American avenue and near Atlantic avenue and in the northwesterly portion of the field. In the same general vicinity a number of old producers have been active for years at shallow depths and the productiveness of the lower zone may result in the deepening of a number of other projects there.

PRODUCE MARKET

(United States Bureau of Markets)

Trading continued dull on yesterday's market, with light receipts and slow demand. Most retailers are buying in small lots, as there is not much consumer demand at present. Lettuce, cucumbers and tomatoes moved slowly. Apples firm. Artichokes, broccoli and Brussels sprouts about steady, with very light receipts. Bananas slow and weaker. Avocados dull and unchanged. Bunched vegetables firm under light receipts. Cabbage and cauliflower stronger, with limited quantities available. Celery steady. Eggplant steady. Iced lettuce is slightly higher. Citrus unchanged, with small-sized oranges in demand. Peas slightly stronger. Peppers unchanged. Squash steady. Sweet potatoes steady. Tomatoes firm, with wide range in quality and prices.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE — A moderately active and steady market took place, one of the large killers doing most of the buying. Killer stock from near-by feed lots and California and intermountain points was available, although several loads of good steers from the latter section were late arriving. Cows were fairly numerous with some sales in the afternoon showing a little strength.

A load of good 1090-pound steers reached 11.50, with three loads of late arriving intermountains expected to sell around 12.00, possibly 12.25. Several loads of 950 to 1050-pound local fed steers brought 10.85@11.00, with sizable lots of lighter weights at 9.50@10.50. Odd lots of heifers scored 7.00@8.25. A load of strictly good intermountain cows sold late at 8.90, with a 946-pound load early at 8.75, best dairy types stopping at 8.50 with bulk at 7.00@8.25. Low cutters and cutters ranged from 3.50@6.50. Only odd head of bulls brought 7.50@8.25. A few stockers turned at 7.00@8.50.

CALVES—On a steady market the limited offerings of vealers sold about steady with odd head of milk vealers up to 15.00, most sales, however, being of a 12.00@14.00 variety. A load of 252-pound Arizonas brought 12.00 with plainer kinds down to 10.00 and below.

HOGS—Practically all of the estimated run did not arrive until around 1 o'clock and were cleaned up shortly thereafter at 10@25c lower rates. A load with freight benefit went to an outside packer at 11.35 with around six loads of 170 to 200 pounds or slightly heavier at 11.25, which is practical top of the market. A part load of mixed light lights and pigs turned at 10.50. No sows were available but are quotable up to 8.50 or slightly above.

SHEEP—Nothing offered, quotations unchanged.

Pioneer Woman of Spadra Dies at Son's Home

SPADRA, Jan. 16.—Mrs. Mary C. Goodell, 65 years of age, a native daughter and pioneer of Pomona Valley, passed away last night at the home of her son, G. Alvin Goodell of Spadra, following a short illness preceded by years of failing health.

Born in El Monte, December 28, 1865, Mrs. Goodell had lived in this vicinity since her birth. She leaves three sons, Murray C. Goodell of Wilmington; G. Alvin Goodell of Spadra, and Ralph K. Goodell of Claremont. One son, Clarence J. Goodell, was killed in action during the World War.

Besides five grandchildren, there are also two sisters, Mrs. Ada M. Brasheer of Walnut, and Mrs. J. O. Nichols of Garden Grove, and a brother, J. M. Callan of Fullerton.

The deceased was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and a gold star mother of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Todd & Reeves chapel Saturday at 2 p.m. Rev. Louis H. Evans, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Pomona Cemetery.

SANTA BARBARA RESIDENT OF PROMINENCE SUCCUMBS

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 16.—Stanley C. Mason, one of this city's best-known business men, who for a quarter of a century had been engaged in the real estate and insurance business, died today at the St. Francis Hospital, where he underwent a major operation last Saturday.

For twenty-eight years Mason had conducted an energetic campaign to make this known as the most beautiful home city in America. He made many friends here during the time he had lived here.

Mason was born at Syndenham, Eng., July 3, 1871. He came to the United States in 1901 and settled here.

SHIPPING NEWS AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

ACTION OF SHIP BUND GRATIFIES

Choice of Widmyre as Coast Chief Announced

Formerly Filled Weights and Inspection Berth

Morgan Huntoon Mentioned as Likely Successor

BY WALDO DRAKE

Permanent appointment of Thomas G. Widmyre as Pacific Coast chief of the United States Intercoastal Conference, announced yesterday in San Francisco by Robert C. Thackara, president of the conference, is expected to meet with the unqualified approval of all Pacific transportation interests, in both the rail and water fields.

Mr. Widmyre, who until his appointment yesterday has been temporarily filling the post left vacant by the resignation of H. M. Runyon a month ago, will be particularly acceptable to Southern California shipping and railroad interests. Mr. Widmyre's early executive duties in transportation included the post of district manager for the Union Pacific System at Chicago, he later being transferred to Los Angeles in a traffic post. Several years ago he was made traffic manager of the California and Eastern Steamship Company of Los Angeles and subsequently was named chief of the Pacific Coast weighing and inspection bureau of the United States Intercoastal Conference. His appointment is also finding favor with the lumber interests and it is hoped that in his new post Mr. Widmyre will succeed in arbitrating the present troubles of the separate intercoastal lumber conference.

Among the several men mentioned to succeed Mr. Widmyre as head of the weighing and inspection bureau, is Morgan Huntoon, now district manager in Southern California for the weighing and inspection bureau. Mr. Huntoon has enjoyed a wide experience in the freight traffic field and it is known his appointment would prove popular with San Francisco and Puget Sound shipping men as well as at Los Angeles.

NEW PORT DREDGING PROJECT GETS ON WAY

Maj. W. H. Lanagan, United States District Engineer, yesterday announced beginning of dredging operations on the West Basin project, entailing the removal of approximately 600,000 cubic yards of earth to widen the basin perimeter channel to 300 feet and to a uniform depth of thirty-five feet. Completion of work is scheduled for June 30, next.

Contractor is the Standard Dredging Company, using the suction dredge Los Angeles. Work on the dredging project marks beginning of a program by both the government and the Harbor Department to develop West Basin as deep-water frontage. The Harbor Department has already begun preliminary work on construction of a $1,500,000 freight terminal at Berths 147 to 149, just inside the bascule bridge.

The Lassco flagship, City of Los Angeles, is due home from Honolulu this morning on completion of her first voyage in Lassco's new augmented schedule in the Hawaiian service. She has aboard seventy-one passengers and 2000 tons of island freight, including fresh and canned pineapples, honey, sugar and mail.

A new long-distance record for current bottle drifts was reported to the Navy hydrographic office yesterday by G. P. Mobley of 536 South Hope street. On February 22, 1921, while cruising the Celebes Sea, off the Philippines in a Mohammedan prau, Mr. Mobley threw overboard a regulation Navy current drift bottle with message.

Yesterday Mr. Mobley received it back through the mail, with a note from a corporal of the Philippine constabulary that he had recovered the bottle and message on the beach of Tapul Island, in the Sulu Archipelago, on April 10, 1921. The message had drifted in the water for six weeks and in the mails for nine years.

Coast representatives of various lines in the Pacific westbound conference were bound homeward yesterday after a peaceful two-day session at the Alexandria, where fireworks fizzled and only routine matters were discussed. A few minor rate changes only were made and these had been agreed on prior to the meeting.

Rumbles continue, however, over the proposed divorce of the Straits trade, and are expected to break out at the next meeting at Winnipeg in the spring. That a Straits conference is destined, however, is declared a foregone conclusion.

It would include the lines plying more or less directly between California and the Straits, such as the Kerr Line, Java Pacific and the Dollar services.

Ed Ball, 70-year-old steward on the Texas Oil Company tanker California, is called "Daddy" aboard ship no longer; he is now "Santy." It is all because American and English colonies at Tocopilla impressed him into service as Kris Kringle to hundreds of kiddies there. The crew's affection for him is said to be so great they will not even swear before him. He was independent financially until reverses three years ago, when he took to sea at an age when many would quit smiling and trying.

Motor ship Jeanette R sailed yesterday for San Jose del Cabo for seasonal service, transporting early tomatoes here for the E. H. Hansen Corporation. The second shipment, 2000 crates, is due tomorrow on the Sequoia.

McCormick steamer West Ivis returned from South America with seven passengers and 4000 tons of freight yesterday.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (AP)—A round of promotions of captains of the Panama Mail Line, today found Capt. Clinton Beaverstock, former chief officer of the company's liner Venezuela, sailing from here as master of the City of San Francisco. Beaverstock relieved Capt. Walter Pringle, who was recently transferred to the bridge of the Venezuela, replacing Capt. Chester W. Gilbert. Capt. Gilbert was promoted to the shoreside position of relief captain.

Trip repairs, which required more time than was anticipated, will not permit the trans-Pacific liner President Lincoln to sail from here tomorrow, officials of the Dollar Line announced here today. The sailing date was set for Saturday. The vessel will leave for the Hawaiian Islands, Japan, China and the Philippines, taking out a full list of cabin passengers. Among the passengers will be Hon. Frank W. Lee, formerly Chinese Ambassador to Mexico, who is leaving for Nanking to take up his new post of Vice-Minister of foreign affairs for the Chinese government.

PORTLAND, Jan. 16.—R. C. Thackara, New York, chairman of the United States Intercoastal Conference, arrived here today from Seattle and immediately went into conference with representatives of intercoastal lines and shippers. The subjects of the various interviews he held today and will hold tomorrow were said to deal mainly with questions relating to westbound business. Thackara probably will leave for New York Saturday.

Having been acting chairman of the intercoastal lumber conference for several months preceding the appointment early this week of Earl Strange of Seattle, Thackara has been actively concerned in the welfare of the lumber situation. At Seattle he discussed methods of bringing about a stabilized situation in the lumber trade with the east coast with about sixty-five lumber manufacturers, he said here today.

SEATTLE, Jan. 16.—The Buriche, whose sale by the Anglo-California Trust Company to the Pacific Motorship Company was announced in San Francisco today, will enter coastwise service between Alaska and Seattle and California ports, the new Seattle owners announced.

The steamship, which will be renamed the Admiral Wiley, will make a total of six freighters in the Pacific Motorship fleet.

The Blue Star refrigerator ship Albionstar sailed from here today with 120,000 boxes of apples, and will lift 20,000 more at Portland for London, Rotterdam, Hamburg and Gothenburg.

TACOMA, Jan. 16.—The Tacoma fireboat was called on for a record run this morning by reports that a power boat had overturned in the bay. The fireboat found the small gas boat Lulu awash and sinking and towed her into safety. No one was aboard the Lulu, which had broken adrift from her moorings.

The Royal Belgian liner Carlier arrived in Tacoma for the first time last night to load for Europe and discharge Oriental cargo. The Carlier is the third of the Belgian around-the-world fleet to visit this port.

PLANS MADE FOR FLEET'S MANEUVERS

Pacific Force Ordered to Start for Canal Zone on February 15, Next

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Plans for the participation of the Pacific force of the American fleet in annual maneuvers in the Guantanamo area were completed today and the major portion of the battle fleet was ordered to leave San Diego and Los Angeles on February 15, next, for the Canal Zone.

All of the ships composing the fleet except the battleship Colorado will start south, engaging in tactical exercises and gunnery training en route. The force will include seven battleships, three aircraft carriers, two aircraft tenders, eight destroyers, two submarines and one submarine tender. The Colorado is to join the force later.

After passing through the Panama Canal during the first nine days of March the battle fleet will join the scouting fleet which is now at Guantanamo for execution of two fleet problems lasting until April 18, with a period of rest at several West Indian ports between the two exercises. Both fleets will visit New York May 8 to 18, and then will spend a month at Hampton Roads before the battle fleet returns west.

ROSS FIELD BUILDING INQUIRY LAUNCHED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—The War Department today ordered the commanding general of the Ninth Corps Area to investigate reports that a number of the buildings at Ross Field, Arcadia, Cal., are fire hazards. The investigation was ordered as a result of complaints made by C. G. Meade, city clerk of Arcadia, and officials of the Los Angeles fire department, to Senator Shortridge, who called the matter to the attention of Secretary of War Hurley.

CHURCH LEADER QUITS POST

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—Dr. J. A. Moorehead, executive director of the National Lutheran Council for the past seven years, resigned the office today to permit devotion of his full time to his duties as president of the Lutheran World Convention.

RADIO NET AIDS POLICE ABROAD

Europe Enlarges on Work Done in This Country

Several Nations Linked and Others to be Added

Interesting Programs Listed for This Evening

The Times Forum, on KHJ at 10:30 a.m., presents Dr. Philip M. Lovell. World-wide news at 12:30; 4:50 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Taking advantage of the success with which American cities have established radio services for their police departments, Europe has adopted and enlarged the plan and has inaugurated an international radio network covering Austria, Germany, Poland and Czecho-Slovakia, according to reports to Washington. The service, which is operated privately, shortly will be extended to Hungary, Switzerland and Danzig, and it is hoped that in the near future all of Europe will be covered.

A number of cities in the United States have been experimenting with radio for police use for a number of years. Out of their experience has grown a system, which is being widely adopted, of a main transmitter operated from police headquarters communicating with police automobiles touring the city. As soon as a crime is reported, an alarm is sent out to the roving forces and the nearest car immediately proceeds to the scene, often arriving before the criminals have been able to make their getaway.

Encouraged by the success of the city services, several States have under consideration the establishment of State-wide services, the first of which probably will be put into operation in Michigan in the near future.

WORTH DIALING

KHJ at 6 p.m. will present the Sunset Ensemble in a program of compositions by Dvorak, Von Blon, Grieg and others. Among the numbers chosen are Dvorak's "Indian Lament," and Savino's "Kiki Intermezzo." At 7 o'clock this evening the Ballad Crooners will entertain. The Four Boys, Mona Content, June Parker and Hank Howe's Southern Californians promise a half-hour of languid music and song. Light opera, in fact it is coming to be more like grand opera, may be dialed at 7:30 p.m. The opening number will be Lange's arrangement of "Figaro," a fantasy inspired by the opera of that name. One of the bits of song in this presentation will be Carl Omerson's singing of "Celeste Aida," while the orchestra and male chorus conclude with the "Chorus of Matadors" from "Traviata." Roy Ringwald will bring his imagination into play and his art at 8:30 tonight when he again plays a musical game, opening with the "Green Lantern" and letting each number played suggest the selection to follow it. At 9 p.m. Bob and Mary of the True Story Hour will describe a way to keep jealousy and doubt out of the heart.

ENGLISH INSTRUCTION

KFI will teach the "King's English" by Blanche Townsend at 10:15 this morning, while at 6 o'clock tonight Billy Jones and Ernie Hare will give an NBC idea of comedy. At 8 p.m. Ivan Ivanoff, pianist, is scheduled to give a recital of what he terms "uncompromising" classics. Don Wilson, baritone, Big Brother's debut as an artist, should be well worth hearing. Jean Dunn, soloist, will sing at 10 tonight with the KFI Symphonette featured in a charming program.

KECA at 5 o'clock this evening will present Jessica Dragonette and Rosario Bourdon over an NBC hook-up in songs and music. At 8 p.m. NBC will offer an operetta, featuring Gail Taylor, soprano, and Irving Kenneday, tenor, with Max Dolin. Nine tonight will bring the works of Tschaikowski, Weber and Albeniz over KECA, to be played by Phyllida Ashley and Aileen Fealy, pianists.

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

KMTR in accordance with its recent change of program will hold the dial with "Moments Musical" at 9 o'clock tonight instead of on Thursday nights as formerly. This hour will be devoted to a splendid selection of music and song. At 8:30 p.m. KMTR will broadcast the premiere of a motion picture in one of Hollywood's leading theaters, at which time the microphone will carry not only the featured prologue but possibly the remarks of the stars of filmland who turn out to attend such openings.

KNX at 7 p.m. will bring Margit Hegedus, concert violinist, Rosalie Barker Frye, contralto, and Elizabeth Proehl, accompanist with a half-hour of vocal and instrumental music. Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song," "In a Boat" by Grieg and "A Spirit Flower" will be featured, as well as an old Irish hush song, "Husheen." Satch McVey, who is 99 years of age, will be heard with his orchestra, Sunburnt Jim, and others. When the gong sounds at 9:45 p.m. dial KMTR and go to the fight—it should be good.

KTM tells us that Mr. Tom Foolery will appear in person Friday evening between 9 and 9:30 to devote his time to rhyme and rhythm.

KEJK will bring Light and Cook, radio favorites, at 9:30 p.m. in their song and patter line. Other features will be found on the dial.

KFI wants to add that Nick Harris, the detective, will talk on "The Curse of the Dollar," while Jose Arias and his Mexico City Troubadors will furnish the accompaniment.

At 8 o'clock tonight KFI will broadcast a play-by-play account of the U.S.C.-Stanford basketball game at Shrine Auditorium. Al Wesson, publicity agent of the Trojan football team, will give the account. The feature will be duplicated tomorrow night and probably will last in each case until 9:30 o'clock.

ODD BIRD NOW RESIDES HERE

Extension Neck Sets Him Apart

At Home in New Environment
Miss Blanche Forst gets acquainted with strange white crane brought here by Culver City importer.

NATURE'S ingenuity in devising creatures of strange form and habit is attested by some specimens newly arrived from the tropics.

One of the rare denizen of southern forests included in the importation is a white crane, whose neck, when in repose, is like that of an ordinary barnyard duck, but who can extend its head to an inconceivable distance. This bird and other odd specimens were brought here by M. B. Paloolian, bird and animal importer, who resides at 9922 Culver Boulevard, Culver City.

Paloolian recently returned from a hunting trip in Colombia and brought back with him a baby tapir, having shot the mother. He is trying to domesticate the animal, and at the age of 4 months it is as tame as a house dog. When fully grown, the owner said, it will be as large as an ordinary mule, but whether or not it will retain its sweet disposition remains to be seen.

Paloolian has one of the largest collections of rare birds and animals in the West.

FIRE-SWEPT PARK TO BE REPLANTED

Sprinkling System and Reforestation in Griffith Playgrounds Ordered

Plans for a sprinkling system and reforestation of Vermont Canyon, in Griffith Park, recently burned in a blaze which covered 1200 acres, were approved by the Board of Park Commissioners yesterday when presented by Supt. Shearer. Shearer reported that the check dams, of which more than 100 have been installed in the canyon, effectively have checked the soil from being carried away. A similar report was read from E. C. Eaton, county flood-control engineer. He said that the slopes have been planted with quick-growing Australian rye grass and the burned area will have a sufficient start to restore enough vegetation in a few days to avert damage from further rains.

The plans submitted provide for the planting of native California trees, particularly oaks, in the burned area and near the Greek Theater, which is about 60 per cent completed. The work will be done by the park department.

President Griffith informed the board that the matter of providing a lighting system for patrons to get to and from the Greek Theater should be considered and the department was directed to investigate.

Fire Prevention Chief Approved

Appointment of Capt. Victor E. Pierret as emergency fire prevention battalion chief by Fire Chief Scott was approved yesterday by the Fire Commission. The position was authorized by the City Council and carries a salary of $300 a month. The appointment was for sixty days, pending a civil service test for creation of an eligible list for the new job.

The commission also approved the purchase of thirty Ford cars for general use of the fire department at a cost of $13,193.80, plus an allowance of $2875 for old cars.

CONTRACTS FOR CRANE PLANT LET

Work Begins Monday on Plumbing-Goods Factory in Union Pacific Tract

Contracts were let yesterday to Harvey Nichols and the Consolidated Steel Corporation for beginning work Monday on the first unit of the Crane Company plant in the Union Pacific industrial tract north of Telegraph Road and east of Atlantic avenue.

The first structure will be of steel and corrugated iron, 400x80 feet in dimension, equipped with a five-ton magnetically operated crane.

This is the initial construction of a plant for the manufacture of plumbing goods, land for which was purchased in November, 1928. The company recently has purchased 6.2 additional acres from Union Pacific, making its tract total 16.2 acres.

Crane Company operates factories in Chicago, Bridgeport, Birmingham, Chattanooga, Trenton and also in English and Canadian cities. Its sales distribution facilities include 181 branches and offices.

BUSINESS MEN MEET TODAY

State Industrial Leaders Will Plan Details of Program to Maintain Prosperity Level

Civic forces of the State will mobilize at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce today to confer on final details for keeping California's prosperity at a continuous high-peak during 1930. This will be California's final answer to President Hoover's national prosperity program.

Directors of the California State Chamber of Commerce, representing every section from San Diego in the South to Redding in the north, are sponsors of the meeting which will be held in connection with the monthly board conference. Directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and leaders in all lines of industry in Los Angeles will be guests of the State chamber at a luncheon at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

President William May Garland of the State chamber will preside.

An analysis of all building, development, and construction programs scheduled by the State, counties, cities, public utilities and corporations, as well as by private individuals, based upon an intensive research during the past month, will be presented to the conference by Frederick J. Koster, first vice-president of the State Chamber of Commerce. Koster, it is understood, also will make a public plea for the co-operation of all citizens of California, as well as firms and corporations, to launch every possible latent or planned construction during 1930.

President Garland, in discussing the prosperity conference, said:

"Action is the slogan adopted by the State Chamber of Commerce for practical co-operation by California in the President's nation-wide plea for continuance of America's dominating prosperity. The co-operation of the directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and industrial leaders of this city in this vital State-wide program of work will give double assurance of its success."

FAMOUS ROAD TO BE CHANGED

Ridge Route Will be Made Less Perilous

Condemnation of Land for New Links Ordered

Project to be Largest Ever Tackled by California

The doom of the sharp curves and steep grades of the Ridge Route highway was sounded by the State Highway Commission here yesterday when it announced the authorization of condemnation proceedings for the new alternate Ridge Route road connecting Los Angeles and the San Joaquin Valley.

Bids will be called for at once and will be opened in four weeks, according to an announcement made by B. B. Meek, State Director of Public Works. Cost of the first section of the new route will be close to $1,000,000, he said, and the project should be finished within three years.

State officials regard the announcement of the project as signaling one of the most important highway projects ever undertaken by the State. Shortening, as it will, the distance between Los Angeles and the San Joaquin Valley points a full seven miles and providing a highway with only one-fifth of the curvature of the existing Ridge Route highway, the new road will be one of the most vital in California, it was explained.

SAFE AND FAST ROAD

The alignment of the projected highway will provide a road for motorists that will be just as safe and as fast as any California highway in a valley location, Director Meek says. Construction has been planned to eliminate driving strain although the highway will wind itself over a mountain range. The maximum degree of curvature called for in the plans is based on a 1000-foot radius. The maximum grade along the new route will be 6 per cent, Mr. Meek said.

The new route also will afford the advantage to motorists of eliminating two of the three summits existing along the present Ridge Route. These summits, Mr. Meek declared, have been responsible for the greatest part of the highway department's troubles in maintaining the existing main inland route northward.

RECORD CONTRACT

"The project involves the largest single contract ever advertised by the California State Highway Department," the director said. "The new highway is made possible, from a cost standpoint, because of radical savings in operating costs effected by the department. Overhead costs have been cut down to approximately 3 per cent and this has made possible a saving of some $800,000, which is available for the project."

The State Highway Commission held its regular meeting here in the commission's Los Angeles offices yesterday, with Commissioners Bull, Baumgartner and Harris in attendance. The commission's secretary, George C. Mansfield, and its attorney, C. C. Carleton, were present, as was C. H. Purcell, State Highway Engineer.

PLEA FOR ROAD MADE

The commission heard the plea of the Riverside-Orange county joint highway district board for a new highway project to link San Juan Capistrano with Elsinore. The board, consisting of Supervisor Jamison of Riverside county, Supervisor Jeffries of Orange county and Mayor Champion of Laguna Beach, is seeking to have the State assume one-third of the cost of the project. The commission announced that its engineers will make a preliminary survey of the territory involved in the sought-for project.

The remainder of the week will be spent by the commissioners in Southern California, who will undertake trips of inspection over the highways in San Bernardino and Riverside counties, it is announced.

Tunnel Under Griffith Park Hills Discussed

Discussion of the proposal to bore a tunnel through the Griffith Park hills to afford a traffic outlet from the towntown area to the San Fernando Valley came up yesterday afternoon when Planning Commissioner Danburg conducted a hearing on Map No. 28 of the Major Traffic Plan.

Property owners appeared to protest against the proposed tunnel, representing that the cost will be excessive. Commissioner Danburg replied that, while the cost will be heavy, the tunnel will provide a needed addition to the Major Traffic Plan. He said that inasmuch as the bores will be feeders to State highways, he believes much of the money should come from State and county funds. The estimated cost of the tunnels is more than $2,000,000.

MRS. McPHERSON FACES NEW SENSATION THREAT

Revelations of a sensational nature in connection with the affairs of Angelus Temple loomed yesterday with an announcement by the District Attorney's office that further investigation has been found to be expedient as the result of an audit of the organization's books. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Beecher, who has been sifting charges of misappropriation of funds preferred recently by Rev. John Goben, hinted that startling disclosures may be brought to light.

Developments in the asserted tangled affairs of the temple followed one another in swift succession yesterday following public disclosure of the texts of a packet of letters which eighteen months ago passed between Mrs. Minnie (Ma) Kennedy, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, and Mrs. M. J. Crawford, one-time staunch member of the temple organization.

While several persons were interrogated on the belief that they might have information desirable to the investigation, Mrs. McPherson and her mother, between whom a reconciliation recently took place, denied vigorously the disclosure of the letters will affect their joint plans for the future. Moreover, they declared the letters had been forgotten.

The missives were made public by

MONEY LITERALLY EATEN UP

Bugs Make Feast of Hidden Bank Roll

Not Dough—Just Dough-y
N. L. Biddle, who buried $780 in currency because he feared burglars, the remains of some of it and the can in which it was hidden.

MICROSCOPIC bugs, with a flair for high finance, proved to be more dangerous than the burglars, he feared, N. L. Biddle, 80 years of age, of 511 South Ferris Boulevard, discovered when he unearthed his cache of $780 in currency, buried beneath his house in a tin tobacco can, and found nothing but a pasty mass of paper pulp.

Now he is trying to get it back by convincing United States Treasury officials that the emasculated paper in his possession really was United States currency once.

J. Clark Sellers, Rowan Building, handwriting expert, was given the job of straightening things out by Biddle's attorney, Lawrence Larrabee. Under the microscope thousands of small worms were seen gorging themselves on the paper. The bugs were transparent and were not visible to the naked eye.

According to the story told Sellers, the aged owner was afraid to have such a large amount of money around where burglars might find it. In the fall of 1928 Biddle conceived the idea of burying it, Mr. Sellers says, and obtained a muslin tobacco sack into which he put the tightly rolled currency and then placed the sack in a small tobacco can. He buried the can beneath the house, digging a shallow hole. Then came the rains, but the aged man, thinking his money safe, did not retrieve it. Last July he decided that he needed a little spending money, so dug up the can.

The container was badly rusted and when he opened it up even the muslin sack had disappeared. Just a mass of greenish gray paper in a thick heavy lump resembling

FIGURES FOR SCHOOLS OF CITY MOUNT

Enrollment in December 279,384, Gain of 24,834 Over Total in 1928

During the month of December, 1929, there were 279,384 pupils enrolled in the schools of the Los Angeles city district. This figure shows an increase of 24,834 over the enrollment for the same month in 1928.

Elementary schools added 8829 pupils during the month, sufficient to fill twenty school buildings of twelve rooms each on the basis of thirty-five students to a room.

High schools rolled up an increase of 13,818 over the registration for the same month in 1928, while the kindergarten raised the enrollment for that division 2187 for a like period.

Evening high schools increased their enrollment 7934 over that of 1928, the total for the year being 34,280. These students are enrolled in classes promoting adult education.

Mrs. Blackton Has Relapse

Mrs. J. Stuart Blackton, wife of the well-known motion-picture producer, is reported to have suffered a relapse and again is in Hollywood Hospital. The report is that she is suffering from pernicious anemia.

Dr. William A. Dashriell, her physician, admitted yesterday she is "seriously ill."

As the wife of the dean of motion-picture producers, Mrs. Blackton is widely known in the social circles of Hollywood.

FAIR WEATHER WILL CONTINUE

Clear Skies Today Forecast; Unsettled Tomorrow

Precipitation for Season Exceeds Last Year

Roads to Resorts Opened; Snowbound Near Release

Fair weather today with tomorrow unsettled was the outlook of the weather man last night as he discovered that a low-pressure area scheduled to bring rain yesterday had been dispersed.

The official forecast says: "Generally fair today, tomorrow unsettled; moderate temperature; moderate variable winds."

SUNSHINE ENJOYED

The low-pressure area, which was off the coast on Wednesday and was expected to arrive yesterday, according to the official prediction, apparently moved off to the south, striking the short line below the Mexican border.

With the dispersion of the clouds Los Angeles yesterday enjoyed nine hours and five minutes of sunshine out of a possible ten hours and ten minutes.

From 5 a.m. yesterday to 5 p.m. the official rain gauge registered a fall of .06 inches. This brought the figures for the storm up to a total fall of 1.15 inches, making the season total 5.50 inches, as against that of last season at this time of 4.76 inches and a normal fall to date of 5.91 inches. The weather was warmer yesterday than for several days, the high mark being 77 deg. and the low 55 deg.

ROADS OPENED

The desert routes to Big Bear and Lake Arrowhead were opened yesterday for the first time since Thursday, a week ago. No snowfall was experienced in the mountains yesterday and it was generally expected that the "high-gear" highway to the resorts will be cleared for traffic late today.

Run-off from the rains and the melting snow in the mountains was being accommodated very readily in the channels, according to Chief Flood Control Engineer Eaton. The run-off was comparatively light, indicating that most of the water was being absorbed by the soil. The Los Angeles River ran only 800 second feet at its height and the San Gabriel only 125. Reservoirs behind the various flood-control dams were beginning to show a little water for the first time this season. Pacoima had sixty-four acre feet, Devil's Gate, two acre feet, which was being soaked into the gravels, Santa Anita, 195 acre feet, Sawpit, twenty-seven, and Puddingston, 298 acre feet.

SNOWBOUND MEN SIGHTED

The Los Angeles county forestry department expected today to be able to bring out the twenty-five men and animals snowbound in the camp at Pine Flats, fifteen miles northeast of Mt. Wilson. A Richfield Oil Company airplane piloted by Ralph Hall with Assistant Forester Ireland flew over the camp yesterday and got a signal from the men that they were making out fairly well. The plane, carrying in addition to those named, Harry Steiger and Art Goebel, will fly over the camp again today. Assistant County Forester Thurston, chief of field operations, will leave the Waterman ranger station on snowshoes today to go to the camp and take charge of their work of digging out to meet a crew of men digging in from Waterman. The trail must be dug out of the snow in order to enable the animals to get out.

The Curtiss-Wright Flying Service had a plane waiting for a week to get out of Death Valley, where it was sent to open the season's service to the valley. The pilots reported that the Panamint and Funeral Mountain ranges in the valley are covered with snow clear to the floor of the valley. At Death Valley Scotty's place the snow was reported to be eighteen inches deep.

At Ventura the soaking rains caused a water main to settle, resulting in two breaks, one on Kaloroma street and another on Foster avenue.

ORIGIN OF TEMBLORS 100 MILES AWAY

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Jan. 16.—Mild temblors, which were felt generally yesterday afternoon from Los Angeles and this city to San Diego, had their highest intensities either in the Mojave desert or San Jacinto earth fault near Hemet, according to preliminary reports.

MILKMEN SEEK HARMONY

Producers and Distributors Will Meet Today to Improve Unsettled Conditions of Industry

A new move to improve the milk industry's somewhat unsettled condition in Los Angeles area, especially the producer end of it, will be made today when representatives of both producers and distributors meet to consider their joint problems. They will convene at 2 p.m. in offices of the California Milk Producers' Association. One proposal to be considered will be that of setting up a plant to handle surplus milk.

The move results from a mass-meeting of dairy interests at Trinity Auditorium yesterday called by Gillette E. Gordon, University of California dairy specialist, and Sam H. Green, secretary of the California Dairy Council. Several hundred producers attended. At the meeting they divided themselves roughly into six somewhat geographical groups. Each group appointed three persons to sit on the producer side of the round-table conference to take place today. The Southern California Milk Dealers' Association last night was assembling distributor representatives for the conference.

SITUATION OUTLINED

"The situation in the Los Angeles market milk area has not been very good," Greene said at the outstart of the meeting yesterday, "and it was thought that the people directly concerned should get together and discuss them. The California Dairy Council is interested because it includes all branches of the industry, probably 60 per cent of it being producer interest."

"The University of California is interested," Gordon said, "because any local unfavorable condition reacts unfavorably upon the whole industry in the State and then the consumer public, in which we are especially interested as well as in producer and distributor, is affected. We are acting as a neutral party to bring the interests together in hope that the industry will pros-

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

AS BETWEEN C. C. Julian and the high priestess, Mrs. May Otis Blackburn, it seems to me that the lady gave the cash customers the most for their money.

Julian's language is a good deal more elegant. He writes letters to the boobs about the "dead ashes of blasted hopes"—and "unblemished escutcheons" . . . but that's no fun for anybody but himself.

The high priestess, on the other hand, calls them "pettie" in a quite casual manner, and tells them to fork over their oil leases. But, on the other hand, she gives them titles like the "Hereafter and Now" of the "Divine Order of the Royal Arms of the Great Eleven."

Look at it any way you will, it ought to be worth quite a lot to know that you are the "Hereafter and Now" of the "Divine Order of the Royal Arms of the Great Eleven."

FATHER RICARD

Father Ricard's alibi as to the January rains holds good and is valid. I saw him just before Christmas and he told me that the rains would begin shortly after the first of the year; that we would have the normal amount, and that the rains would continue on into May. He also told me that his astronomical calculations were being made by a young priest. Since his illness he has found the involved mathematics too exhausting.

THE COLORED CADET

In the end, the colored cadet, Parham, will probably be glad he flunked out of West Point. It has saved him many heartaches.

In time our army posts will probably be as they are in Europe—where the families of the officers live outside wherever they choose in the cities. In these conditions a commission in the Army becomes a job; and involves no social intercourse between the families of officers. In our Army every post is a sort of country club.

GENTLEMAN FARMERS

Will Hays raises cows. Congresswoman McCormick has one of the best dairy herds in the world, and Gene Tunney announces that—having recovered from his operation—he is going to turn gentleman farmer.

In a way, it is a lot of fun; but you certainly do become aware of the variable moods of nature. When it's cold, the thermometer stabs you to the heart because you know that there goes the grapefruit. When you wake in the night and hear the blessed rain, your emotions are kind of mixed with your agony over the baby turkeys.

But, anyhow, you discover that there is a side of life that is not made by the electric light companies and the gas man. The minute you own a farm you find yourself in a big, interesting world.

OUR DEFENSES

The Secretary of War has made a decision which will make San Francisco Bay the strategic base of army defense, while San Pedro and San Diego will be the nerve centers of the navy plans.

The chambers of commerce at both ends of the line have shown a good deal of crust and impudence in "advancing the claims" of their various districts.

The co-operation of the air service with the Navy and the

VIBRANT MONEY FEATURES TRIAL

Mrs. Blackburn's Accuser Cross-questioned

Defense Sets Up Principle of "Exchange Concord"

Contends Plaintiff's Loans Were Repaid

An "exchange concord," which supposedly caused "oil money" to vibrate harmoniously under the solar system with "drug money," became a part of the record yesterday in Superior Judge Fricke's court, where Mrs. May Otis Blackburn, founder of the Church of the Divine Science of Joshua, the Branch, the Headstone of the Corner, is on trial on a grand theft charge.

The matter of the vibrating dollars and cents came up during the further cross-examination of Clifford Dabney, complaining witness, who asserts Mrs. Blackburn got $45,000 of his money and then failed to keep a promise to reveal to him the secrets of the universe. Dabney formerly owned an oil lease which he asserts he turned over to the religious leader.

EXCHANGE CONCORD

"Now, this check for $508.20 that you say you turned over to Mrs. Blackburn," questioned Defense Attorney Cochran. "As a matter of fact, wasn't that a part of an exchange concord during which Mrs. Nellie Banks put up an equal sum so that her drug money would vibrate with your oil money and that all that really happened was that you exchanged equal sums?"

Dabney denied this, but his further testimony indicated that "exchange concords" were a part of the ritual of Mrs. Blackburn's church. He said, however, that one didn't always get all of one's money back.

CHECKS SCRUTINIZED

Practically all of yesterday's session was devoted to exhaustive questioning of Dabney as to the circumstances surrounding each check that was given by Dabney to Mrs. Blackburn or her asserted agents. Hundreds of these checks were made out during a period of more than four years. Dabney maintains that all the $45,000 was given to Mrs. Blackburn to expedite the publication of "The Great Sixth Seal," which, he testified, Mrs. Blackburn said was dictated by the Angel Gabriel and contained the secret of life and death, the whereabouts of untold wealth and other miracles. Cochran apparently was trying to establish that much of the money was contributed to the church by Dabney for other purposes. Many of his questions were objected to by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson, and the prosecutor often was sustained by the court.

McGROARTY PRAISES HAM-AND-EGGS RALLY

"This is the first time I ever attended an affair of this kind, but I must say it has done a lot for me. I never knew I could laugh so hard—so early in the morning!"

John Steven McGroarty, Times feature writer, this paid compliment to the Hollywood Breakfast Club yesterday as principal speaker at the weekly meeting in the clubhouse at Sunset Fields, 4201 Angeles Mesa Drive.

"If you can make this spirit of friendship, good will and polity stick throughout the day," he continued, "there is no doubt that eventually you will make a success of your lives. The first hour in the morning is the hardest; therefore if you pull through it as you have this morning you will work wonders."

Mr. McGroarty was one of a number of newspaper men who attended as guests and partook of ham and eggs. His address followed a cycle of songs by Fay Marbe, international stage star, who presented a "One Girl Revue," and a monologue of nonsense by Bob Murphy, master of ceremonies. The two entertainers arrived at the clubhouse in the Goodyear blimp, Volunteer.

Besides Mr. McGroarty the newspaper men present included Norman Chandler, L. P. Hamilton, Guy C. Earle, Otheman Stevens, A. E. Bradfield, E. G. Patterson, E. A. Powell and a score of members of the Los Angeles Community Papers' Association, headed by G. C. Hair, president.

Nick I. Busch, president of the club, presided, and Lawrence Block was chairman of the day.

OKLAHOMANS TO MEET

The executive committee has invited all former residents and tourists from Oklahoma, Florida, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, North Carolina and South Carolina. Other attractions announced are an exhibition of hypnotism, dancing and refreshments.

DARKEST AFRICA CALLS THEM

Veteran Missionary's Visit Here Ends

Dr. and Mrs. Silas F. Johnson

SUMMONED back to their missionary service on the Dark Continent, Dr. Silas F. Johnson and his wife, Laura Mosher Johnson, will leave Los Angeles next Tuesday on the first lap of their long journey to the Cameroun, West Africa. They will sail from New York February 22.

This will mark the beginning of Dr. Johnson's thirty-sixth year of work as a medical missionary in the Cameroun, upon which he entered immediately following his graduation from the medical college of the University of Southern California in 1894, and where he has become founder and head of the largest and most complete modern hospital on the West African coast.

Dr. Johnson has spent the past year in Los Angeles on furlough, delivering many lectures on his work. He was the first white man ever to penetrate into the cannibal country lying deep in the bush away from the coast. The fruit of that early expedition is the existence today of a native church of nearly 500 members, schools and the suspension, as far as is known, of all cannibalistic practices. A further testimonial to the devotion and ability of Dr. Johnson is the work accomplished at Metet, the organizing center. Here the Bulu church numbers 30,000 members, the largest Presbyterian communion in the world, all indexed by a complete card system carrying records of every-day observance of the Christian rules of conduct and of faithfulness in church attendance, while probationary classes, under one and two-year courses of training, aggregate another 43,000.

Dr. Johnson's children, all but one born in the foreign field, are following their father's lead, establishing an African tradition without parallel in missionary annals. The eldest daughter, Mary Johnson Newhouse, and her husband, Rev. Darst Newhouse, also at present on furlough in Los Angeles, will return in the spring to their field in Yaounde, Cameroun. The second daughter, Lois Johnson McNeill, and her husband, Rev. Joseph McNeill, are at work in Fulassi, the northern, Moslem-influenced section of the Cameroun.

Records made by the laboratory seismometers on sensitized paper were removed from the instruments this morning and, after being treated with chemicals, revealed that a slight tremor ocurred at 3:35 p.m. At 4:25 p.m. the second and strongest disturbance was recorded and this was followed by a third mild shock at 4:35 p.m.

"Until we receive reports from our other Southern California laboratories," said Dr. Wood, "it will be impossible to say more regarding the epicenter of the disturbance other than it appears to have been in an easterly direction."

EARTH SLIDE CAUSES RAILROAD BLOCKADE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—A definite break of several hours in Northern California storm conditions at some points and warm rains at others, accompanied by steadily rising temperature, brought enthusiasm today to ranchers, cattle growers, power and water companies.

These heartening conditions were offset in another direction, however, by the first rail blockade due to the wintry storm. Tons of earth and rock, loosened by the rain, slid down the side of Feather River Canyon at one of its narrowest points and buried the tracks of the Western Pacific ten feet deep in mud, rock and gravel. The tracks were covered longitudinally for a distance of about 100 feet, reports said, at Merlin, about forty miles east of Oroville.

CATTLEMEN UNWORRIED

Some ranges in the high Sierras continued buried in snow, causing a modicum of apprehension among stockmen. F. L. Crowley, assistant manager of the California Cattlemen's Association, declared, however, little loss is anticipated. He said advices had been received by the association that much snow had been washed from foothill ranges and feed is being carried to stock in the mountains, whence many head were driven during the dry season of last fall.

William Lyon, secretary of the Round-Up Association, said about 8000 head of cattle are snowbound in the Tehama county hills, but pack mules are en route to another 5000 head in the vicinity of Mt. Lassen and to 3000 additional head in coast range foothills.

PRECIPITATION TABLE

Mt. Hamilton and Summit in the Sierras were the only points reporting weather of freezing or below. At Summit the mark was 32 deg. and the snow had melted down to a depth of sixty inches, or a seventeen-inch recession in the last twenty-four hours.

Precipitation reported by official northern stations at 5 p.m. was:

Gen. Hudson's Widow Dies at Fresno Home

Friends in Los Angeles, where she was widely known as the result of numerous visits to the city, yesterday were mourning the death of Mrs. Mary Worrall Hudson, widow of the late Gen. J. K. Hudson, Civil War and Spanish War veteran, who died last Monday in Fresno. She was 90 years of age.

Mrs. Hudson came to California ten years ago to live with her daughter, Mrs. Anna Hudson Smith, at Fresno. She came to Los Angeles several times a year to be with her other daughter, Mrs. Dell Keizer, and her grand-daughter, Mrs. Kenneth T. Littlejohn.

The late Gen. Hudson, who died twenty years ago, was the founder of the Topeka (Kan.) Capitol. With Harrison Gray Otis he was nominated for brigadier-general by President McKinley.

Besides her daughters, Mrs. Hudson leaves one son, Paul Hudson, former publisher of the Mexican Herald of Mexico City, six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

CONVENTION VISITORS LEARN ABOUT TALKIES

How talking films are made was explained to 150 visitors from Hawaii, Canada, England and distant parts of the United States last night following a dinner at the Biltmore. The visitors are attending the convention of the American Concrete Pipe Association, of which Earnest F. Bent of Los Angeles was re-elected president at yesterday's business session. Principal speakers on the program were Fred C. Scobey of Berkeley, senior irrigation engineer of the division of agricultural engineering, United States Department of Agriculture, and A. M. Rawn, assistant chief engineer of the Los Angeles County Sanitation District. The delegates were entertained at luncheon yesterday at the plant of the American Concrete Pipe Company South Gate. The convention closed a two-day session last evening.

DRY GATHERING PRAISES HOOVER

Two Hundred Prohibition Workers Rally

Eighteenth Amendment's Birthday Celebrated

Santa Ana Editor and Mayor Among Speakers

"Herbert Hoover is seriously attempting to carry out the principles of prohibition," declared J. F. Burke, editor of the Santa Ana Register, in an address given before 200 prominent prohibition workers who met at the Young Men's Christian Association to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Mr. Burke voiced the hope that Congress will pass the bill, favored by President Hoover, which will make the Department of Justice instead of the Treasury Department responsible for prohibition enforcement.

Following addresses by Dr. Frank G. Stevens and others who condemned the minority of the National Prohibition Committee for its attack upon and discharge of Dr. D. Leigh Colvin, former chairman of the national committee, because of his support of Hoover for President, the congregation at the Y.M.C.A. adopted a resolution expressing appreciation of Dr. Colvin's services to the Prohibition party and approving all his policies, plans and methods.

Other speakers included Mayor Porter, H. Clay Needham, Rev. Arthur Hobson, C. E. Jones, Mrs. Allie S. Wheeler, Dr. Len Hutchins and Ethel G. Hubler, editor of the California Voice, each speaker praising the national administration for its efforts in behalf of law enforcement and calling attention to the need for continued work and education in the interests of temperance.

"Los Angeles is engaged in a great experiment, an experiment in law enforcement that no other large city has attempted in recent years," said Mayor Porter. "Our success or failure will have its effect upon many other great cities. We must not fail in our effort to make Los Angeles the cleanest, best city in the United States."

OBEDIENCE NEED OF TODAY, SAYS BOUELLE

"What we need is a little more old-fashioned obedience, and by that I mean the obedience that grows out of the good will between the parent and the child, or the individual subject to the law," Frank A. Bouelle, superintendent of schools, told the more than 400 members of the W.C.T.U. and the friends of the Eighteenth Amendment at a celebration of the tenth anniversary of that law last night at Boos Brothers' Cafeteria, 648 South Broadway.

Mr. Bouelle chose the "School and the Home" as his subject, and told his hearers that the schools are looking to the parents for help. "To let the school supplant the home is a bad thing. As the children are trained in the home, so will they react toward the school and toward the laws of the land."

Mrs. Augusta Urquhart, chairman of the Woman's Law Enforcement Committee, which represents nine women's organizations, also chose the home in its relation to the law as the subject of her address.

Other speakers were Mayor Porter, W. J. Sanborn and Charles H. Randall, members of the City Council, and Dr. M. Len Hutchins.

Mrs. Hattie M. Doughty, president of the city federation of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, presided. During the dinner and the evening program musical numbers were presented.

BURIED MONEY EATEN BY BUGS

papier mache was all that he found.

He took the contents of the can to the Federal Reserve Bank but officials declared it would be necessary to prove that the paste had been money.

Mr. Sellers said that as soon as the remains were placed in the light and thoroughly dried the bugs died. He carefully attempted to unroll the stuff. All he was able to find, however, was a bit of printing, a number of a bill, a few dates and silk fiber threads such as are used in paper money. He believes that he has evidence enough to convince the government officials that the mass once was currency.

AFFIDAVIT REQUIRED

Today Attorney Larrabee will take an affidavit from the aged man and will rush this forward to Washington in support of the former information sent in. Officials at Washington have demanded a minute description of all the facts connected with the affair.

As soon as this affidavit has been secured it will be rushed to Washington, together with the mass of paper and the tin container. It will then be up to the government officials to determine if a refund is to be made. The tin was buried for a period of nine months, according to Mr. Sellers.

BUSINESS MEN TO MEET TODAY

JESSUP ASSUMES NEW POST

Successor to Shaw as City Engineer Plans No Radical Changes of Policy

J. J. Jessup, a sewage and garbage disposal expert, yesterday took over the office of City Engineer to which he was appointed two weeks ago, replacing John C. Shaw, who had held the position for more than four years. Mr. Jessup declared he contemplates no radical changes in the department.

"The department was very well organized under Maj. Shaw," he said, "and I see no reason for any readjustments or changes of policy. The projects at present contemplated, including the Fourth-street and Sixth-street viaducts, the North Figueroa-street extension and the routine public improvements will go forward.

"There now are about 300 petitions for public improvements in the files of the department and these will be attended to in order.

"I do not plan to cut down the staff, as there will be enough work to keep the employees of the department busy. In fact, I may ask for an increase in the force."

The City Council yesterday unanimously adopted resolutions of appreciation of the services of Maj. Shaw. The resolutions were introduced by Councilman Randall and seconded by Councilman Martin. They are as follows:

"Resolved, that the members of the City Council of Los Angeles, by this means express their appreciation of the services which Maj. John C. Shaw has rendered as City Engineer during the four and one-half years he has held that office. We have found Maj. Shaw a conscientious public servant, judicious and painstaking in his work. We wish him every success in whatever work he may undertake in his profession as an engineer and administrator in large construction enterprises."

Homes Periled by High Tides at Long Beach

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—Alarm struck beach-front dwellers today when the semiannual high tides smashed bulkheads and undermined several houses of the 5300 block on East Ocean Boulevard, as well as damaging adjoining frontage. Fears are expressed that tomorrow morning's high tide will do further damage.

The home of Claude Taylor at 5334 East Ocean Boulevard had been completely undermined, resting on only a few posts. It is not believed to have a chance of surviving tomorrow's high tide. A house at No. 5332, also owned by Taylor, is partly undermined. Bulkheads on four lots of this block have been broken, their eight-inch walls being smashed by the tide.

The city tonight set a crew of forty men to piling sandbags along the damaged frontage in an effort to stem the tide and save the property. Sandbags also were piled at the foot of Forty-ninth Place, which had been undermined. The bulkhead on the beach side of Mrs. A. Stein's lot at 5436 East Ocean Boulevard also was damaged. The loss up to tonight was estimated at $1500, and city officials expressed grave fears for the property along this stretch of beach when tomorrow's tide rises. It will be the final of the half-yearly high tides. They have been measuring better than seven feet.

Water Bureau's Plea Not Joint

Denial that his company has joined with the city of Los Angeles in an application to the State Railroad Commission asking for an appraisal of the water rights of the company in the Mono Basin was voiced yesterday by F. O. Dolson, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Sierras Power Company, according to news dispatches from Riverside.

A recent dispatch from San Francisco indicated that the application had been made jointly. The denial by Mr. Dolson is not to be construed as an unwillingness of the company to sell its water-rights in the basin, it was said. At the offices of the city water bureau it was said that the bureau made the application alone, nor was the bureau under the impression that the company had joined in the application. The City Council has authorized steps to be taken to acquire the water rights of the company.

Thomas Talks on South's Tourists

Don Thomas, executive secretary of the All-Year Club, was the principal speaker yesterday noon at the monthly meeting of the Southern California Hotel Men's Association at the Alexandria. His subject was "Tourists and What They Mean to the Business Structure of Southern California."

During his talk Mr. Thomas presented facts and figures to show that tourists' expenditures and investments of millions of dollars annually represent one of the four major sources of primary income in Southern California.

WOMAN SAYS LIFE MENACED

Mrs. Lena Altowich Again Seeks Aid of Police

She Causes Third Arrest of Same Man

Samuel Singer Now Facing Two Trials

Samuel Singer, husband of Fanny Singer, arrested and tried as a shoplifter, was taken in custody yesterday at his home at 367½ North Chicago street and booked in the City Jail on a charge of threatening to kill Mrs. Lena Altowich, proprietor of a store at 714 East Manchester avenue. The arrest was made by Detective Lieutenants Williams and McCready of the central bunko squad, on a warrant issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Richardson.

In December, 1929, Singer's wife was tried in Santa Ana on a shoplifting charge but released when the jury failed to agree on a verdict. Several days later the couple visited Mrs. Altowich and accused her of having given the police information which had led to Mrs. Singer's arrest. When Mrs. Altowich denied the charge, it is asserted, the pair attempted to beat her. As a result of the visit, Singer was charged with carrying concealed weapons and his wife with disturbing the peace. The charge against Singer was dropped later but a jury trial of his wife is pending.

After leaving the courtroom on the 8th inst., according to police, the Singers overtook Mrs. Altowich, who had testified against the wife, and Singer struck her in the eye. A charge of disturbing the peace then was lodged against Singer and he, too, asked for a jury trial, which also is pending.

Yesterday Mrs. Altowich appeared at the District Attorney's office and complained that Singer for several days has been loitering about in front of her store and that she feared he was contemplating violence. The warrant followed.

GRAND JURY INDICTMENTS NAME NINE

Eleven True Bills Cite Various Violations of Federal Statutes

In eleven true bills returned yesterday by the Federal grand jury, nine persons were indicted on various charges involving violations against the government.

Two persons were charged with violation of the Immigration Act, and one as to the National Prohibition Act. Mickey Burke and Raymond H. Byron were accused of stealing carpenter's tools from the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle. Three indictments were against Clarence C. Streeter, stock broker.

Col. Lindbergh Discounts Idea of High Flying

Whether Col. Lindbergh will be able to test the helpful or hindering transcontinental air blasts at an altitude as high as 25,000 feet, as reported from Washington yesterday, is uncertain here, according to Col. Lindbergh and Lockheed engineers, builders of the colonel's new ship.

"The plane's ceiling has not been determined," Col. Lindbergh declared. "We cannot make an estimate on it at present, and until we determine this there is no purpose in commenting on the altitudes at which we expect to fly."

Col. Lindbergh again stressed the point that his homeward flight will not be a spectacular one, that no attempt at a speed or nonstop record will be made and that his entire plan is one of practical investigation into the upper currents for possible aviation transport aid.

Jerry Vultee, the Lockheed engineer who supervised construction of Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh's plane, said that the service ceiling of the Sirius is below 25,000 feet. He said the ship might attain that height, but that it will be impracticable to attempt to cruise there.

CARBON MONOXIDE GAS KILLS ANOTHER COUPLE

Killed by carbon monoxide gas, the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tardell were discovered last night in their small home at 1551 West Fiftieth street. They had been seen alive last on Sunday. A next door neighbor, Mrs. Frank Weiss of 1547 West Fiftieth street, heard what probably was the dying gasps of the Tardells at 11 p.m. Sunday, but supposed that the sound was snoring.

Mrs. Weiss became alarmed last evening after so many days had passed without any sign of either of the Tardells. Receiving no response to her knocking at the door, she notified police. Detective Lieutenants Frederickson and Coffard of the Seventy-seventh-street division broke in a window and discovered the pair lying dead in their bed. A gas heater was burning and the house had been closed tightly. A poodle staggered dazedly about its dead master and mistress.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Tardell were about 50 years of age. He was a retired business man.

Overcome by carbon monoxide gas poisoning yesterday, Mrs. Reba A. Hayes, 36, of 1915 West Forty-third street, was discovered unconscious in her home. Members of the family who found her called an ambulance and a fire department rescue squad. Dr. Sheldon of the University division police ambulance, and Capt. Johnson of the rescue squad worked over Mrs. Hayes with an inhalator until she was declared out of danger.

Double funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Monday at Pierce Brothers' chapel for Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers, parents-in-law of Joe Crider, local attorney. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, who were 74 years of age, were found dead in the bedroom of their home at 156 South Plymouth Boulevard Wednesday. Their death was caused by carbon monoxide fumes which were generated by open heater flames burning in the closed room. The couple are survived by Mrs. Crider, Mrs. D. A. Koehler, daughters, and by Dock, Cameron, Ross and Dr. John Bradley Rogers, Jr., sons.

RULING BUILDING IMPETUS

Tract at Wilshire Boulevard and Western Avenue Opened for Development by Court Decision

Major developments are anticipated on Western avenue and Wilshire Boulevard following the decision of the State Supreme Court yesterday upholding the decision of Judge Collier of the Superior Court that approximately eighty acres of property bounded by Western avenue, Hobart and Wilshire Boulevards and Tenth street is unrestricted.

Approximately 900 feet of frontage on the south side of Wilshire Boulevard and frontage along Western avenue from Wilshire to Tenth street is affected by the decision, and now is open for business development as well as other portions of the tract now being open for multiple-unit development.

According to Henry De Roulet, whose company was the developer of the tract, a number of major building enterprises have been held up pending the Supreme Court's decision. These will be announced soon.

The tract originally was subdivided in 1913. Two years ago suit was filed to clarify the classification of the district as regards building operations, property owners in some portions contending the tract was restricted for single family residences until 1940.

Evidence at the trial, presented by the city Traffic Commission, showed, after actual count, that more vehicles passed the intersection in a given period of time than any other point in the world.

Max Felix of the law firm of Lawler & Degnan, represented Mrs. Marie Julie Pellessier, owner of the tract.

Today's Bible Text

Ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Spirit is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.—Acts 1:8.

THINGS AT ISSUE

When a man can get a thrill out of whether he is to have five prunes or seven for breakfast he is almost to be envied.

THE WHITE SANDS

Finding a blanket of snow covering the Mojave does not necessarily mean that the desert has gone Hollywood. It was just one of those oddities that come up now and then.

HOME TALKIES

According to another researcher the average American wife wishes her husband to be a talker. The average husband is not as insistent concerning the wife, but he gets it anyhow.

A JOINT AFFAIR

President Hoover wished a joint committee of Congress to whom the items in the report of the law-enforcement commission could be referred. But the politicians thought a joint committee was one to investigate the joints at the capital and so they went up in the air about it.

ORANGES IN BRAZIL

Brazil is finding a world market for surplus oranges. More than 600,000 cases were shipped out last year. This is no great array as measured against the California production, but is impressive as a start. There is a lot of good citrus country in Brazil and further expansion will be in order. There is a lot of room in the world market.

DAVY JONES'S LOCKER

Another quest for the treasure of the lost vessel Rio Janeiro is under way. This ship went down near San Francisco's Golden Gate more than twenty-five years ago and was popularly supposed to have some $6,000,000 of Alaskan gold in her cargo. Several attempts at rescue have been made, but nothing definite has happened. Now it is claimed that the wreck has been located and is not too deep for serious salvage operations. Let 'em go to it.

THE FRENCH MARKET

The French government is likely to slip over a motor tariff that is intended to stop the importation of American cars. It would be so high that few buyers would be willing to pay. But the big American producers are establishing plants in France and are prepared to compete with the French manufacturers in their own yard. It may be set down as an enduring fact that motor cars will go where they are wanted. They are mighty flexible property.

THE ARMY AIR BASE

The proposal of Secretary of War Hurley to establish the Army air base of the Pacific Coast at Alameda may prove to be a fitting solution of the controversy over the Navy airship base. The military activities of this section of the country have long been centered at San Francisco and no good reason for moving them has appeared. It is necessary to move the Army air base from its present location at San Diego, because the expanding navy air activities need the room, and if there is a suitable location on government-owned land at Alameda, that would seem a logical place because of its nearness to the headquarters of the Ninth Corps Area.

The Navy airship base could then be placed at Camp Kearny, where the Navy wants it, without so many San Francisco heartburnings. It, also, would then be located near the center of allied activities, on a site that is without a superior anywhere and better adapted from a standpoint of weather and of strategy for the use of dirigibles than its rival at Sunnyvale.

The complaints of San Francisco whenever it is proposed to spend any money for national defense at any other spot on the Pacific Coast are not, of course, reasonable, but that city ought to be mollified if it gets the Army air base, and cease its opposition to the location of the Navy base where it belongs. No doubt it will continue to struggle in behalf of Sunnyvale, but its arguments will have less effect on Congress.

THE NEW EXCLUSION BILLS

New versions of Mexican exclusion bills have been produced in the House Immigration Committee by Congressman Box of Texas and Congressman Johnson of Washington, the latter being chairman of the committee. If the chairman has his way, and presumably Congressman Box supports him, some sort of an exclusion measure will be rushed through the committee and reported to Congress without a hearing, on the theory that "Congress already knows all about immigration." That Congress does know something about the subject is proved by the failure of previous legislation to get anywhere, but further light may be needed by that body on how these proposed bills would be likely to work.

The only similarity between the Box and the Johnson bills is that they would cut Mexican immigration to a ridiculously low figure in view of the requirements of Southwestern agriculture, and would discriminate in favor of Canada.

Now Canada and Mexico are equally friendly to the United States, and there is no occasion to draw invidious distinctions between them. To do so would be a mistake in several respects. This mistake is made in full measure by both Box and Johnson, who apparently are determined to slap one of these friendly nations in the face. They do so by differing subterfuges, but either would be effective. The Box measure, with an arbitrary limit of 50,000 immigrants from the whole Western Hemisphere each year, restricts the quota of each nation to 3 per cent of the annual average for the past five years, which, he figures, would let in 2000 Mexicans and 40,000 Canadians each year, the remaining 8000 being apportioned among the Central and South American countries. The Johnson plan would permit three immigrants yearly to each American emigrant going to any particular country, but gives a preference to English-speaking immigrants. Johnson figures 50,000 Canadians and 2200 Mexicans annually would be permitted to enter.

The provision giving preference to English-speaking immigrants is a direct blow at the population of Southwestern United States and constitutes offensive discrimination against the Spanish-speaking strains from which so many of the citizens of this region sprang. Such a discrimination is flagrantly inequitable.

Chairman Johnson talks about providing a "homogeneous population" for the United States. How a country containing 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 negroes could very well be made homogeneous Johnson does not explain, nor does he explain how the importation of more negroes from Porto Rico will aid homogeneity.

That is the catch in all these immigration restriction proposals—the requirements of Southwestern industry for a common labor supply that can stand heavy work in the open in midsummer. If the Mexican migration is shut off the need will be supplied in a way that will create social problems far worse than any we have at present or can have in the future.

The Southwest does not need, and Chairman Johnson will not listen to, the explanation that Mexicans are racially indigenous to this whole Southwest and are aliens only by accident. They fit into the picture; they are adjusted to the climate and the soil; the Southwest knows them and welcomes them. It does not want these Porto Ricans, but it will have to put up with them if Chairman Johnson has his way—for the work of the Southwest must be done. There is already a sharp pinch being felt by agriculture here because of the passport restrictions that have been put into force, which reduce Mexican migration approximately 67 per cent.

These new restriction proposals are no more attractive than those which preceded them, and should meet a similar fate.

CROP INCOME AT PEAK

Generous as nature generally has been to the California orchardist and farmer, last year they were given larger returns for their industry than ever before. True, fruit production in the north was somewhat curtailed by frost, but the income from this class of crops as a whole was the highest on record, $261,454,000. Citrus income dropped somewhat from the past four-year level, but deciduous fruits and grapes brought better returns both in unit value and total income. Beans brought excellent prices and so did hay and other field products, while truck crops broke all income records, bringing a total of $80,499,000. These are the figures reported by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service, which places the total for all crops at $553,249,000.

It is good news that our California crops brought more than half a billion dollars, or $42,000,000 more than those of 1928, and the prospects are bright for a repetition of the record this year, while it may be exceeded. Already the clouds have precipitated sufficient moisture to justify this hope. There is plenty of snow in the mountains, and thus far the frosts have not been frequent nor severe anywhere in the State.

As usual, old King Hay led all crop units in value, realizing $84,919,000, while oranges were a good second with $79,345,000.

This indicates that there has been no lack of attention to meat production and dairying, also that producers of citrus fruits have been on the job to excellent purpose. Cotton loomed up with almost a $21,000,000 crop. Beans brought more than $25,000,000 and lettuce and raisin grapes only a little less. The frost-touched peaches and pear crops brought more than 50 per cent more than they did in 1928, despite lugubrious spring reports. In fact, it was only in a few localities that extensive losses from frost were reported.

Higher price levels came from this very damage, but not altogether, because they were largely due to increased efficiency in merchandising. As the new and superior methods will be practiced again this year, there need be no fear, with favorable weather conditions, but that 1930 will be another and perhaps still more prosperous year for California crop producers.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

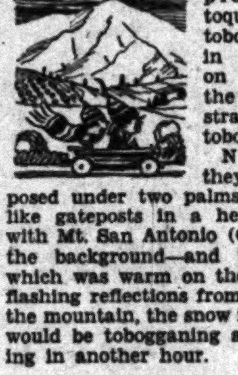
BY Lee Shippey

WHERE else could you see such things?

Rolling between orange groves in flower, which perfumed the air for miles around, was a motor car filled with young people wearing toques such as tobogganers wear in Canada, and on the rear of the car was strapped a big toboggan.



Near Azusa they stopped and posed under two palms which stood like gateposts in a hedge of roses, with Mt. San Antonio (Old Baldy) in the background—and the sunshine which was warm on them there was flashing reflections from the snow on the mountain, the snow in which they would be tobogganing and snowballing in another hour.

Best Place to Enjoy Snow

We have written about things like this before, but we never can get over the wonder of it. The first snow of the season gives us Southern Californians as great a thrill as it gives any eastern schoolboy. In fact, we are inclined to the belief that Southern California is the best place on earth in which to really enjoy snow. Nothing can look more beautiful than the snow which comes to us on picture postcards, as we sit here in the sunshine and enjoy outdoor life. And if we want to really feel it and see it—and grow glad over our ability to scurry back to warmth again—we need only get in a street car and go up to Mt. Lowe or in a motor bus and go up into the San Bernardino Mountains—to Big Bear, Lake Arrowhead, Forest Home, Big Pines—or your own car to any one of a dozen easily accessible places, and you can find all the sports of the frozen north—tobogganing, skiing, skating, sleighing with dog teams.

"It Snows!"

So every time the first snow comes we jump into a car and drive out to see once more that wonderful contrast. Mt. Lowe, Mt. Wilson and Mt. Baldy are so close one can always find time, and the San Bernardino Mountains are only a little farther.

We sped on past Old Baldy, for we had our heart set on a trip to Forest Home, up past Redlands, a place we'd heard much about, but never seen. But in Ontario, the heart of the orange country, we saw them setting out long lines of smudge pots and thought it best to telephone to ask about the road.

"Four and one-half inches of snow fell here last night," came the answer. "So, of course, the road isn't clear yet. It's good, but you'd better have chains."

Four and one-half inches of snow! That would mean a big snow back in Kansas or Nebraska or even in North Dakota. It would mean snow several feet deep in the drifts—and all in such an easy drive from the orange empire that we easily could get up there in time for luncheon!

More Worlds to Conquer

CLOSE 'EM UP!
CLOSE EVERYTHING UP!
POLICE COMMISSION

We assume that the reason why the Police Commission wants authority to close theaters is that it already has absolutely closed all the bootlegging and other illegal places which it already has authority to close.

That's right, one thing at a time.

Old Stuff

Lee: "Synthetic Life Is Near," exclaims a Times headline. Shucks! That's the kind thousands of folks have been enduring for years without knowing it, and some of them think themselves successes, at that.—J. B.

Death Painless—But the Dyeing!

I. M. sends us the following heartfelt lines:

I courted her because
Her hair was long and fair;
I married her, and then
She bobbed and dyed her hair.

And he heads the poem: "Oh, Death, Where Is Thy Sting?"

It's in the dyeing.

Purely an Accident

Santa Monica is, of course, "the home of culture and refinement," but even in Santa Monica—

Well, the other day a flapper not wholly unacquainted with paint appeared at the Santa Monica police station.

"Can I see Jim?" she asked.

"Jim who?"

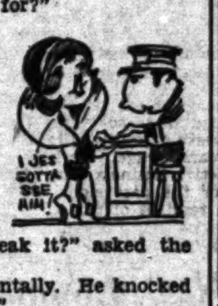
"I don't know his other name. I just met him at a dance last night. But I got a message from his mother."

"What's his mother's name?"

"Dunno that, either."

"What's he in for?"

"I ain't sure. But I think for breakin' a window."



I JES GOTTA SEE HIM!

Search of the blotter failed to show that anyone had been arrested for breaking a window. "How did he happen to break it?" asked the desk serg.

"Oh, just accidentally. He knocked a cop through it."

SLAVES OF THE SKIRT

The world thought woman had won her independence. She thought so, too. She had learned to vote and go to Congress. She had taken up golf and riding astride. She had acquired pants and cigarettes. She had bobbed her hair for business and had become a perfect statue of liberty.

But just when we had begun to congratulate ourselves that Hollywood had licked Paris, woman quits. She had made us think she was too big to be the slave of a skirt, to go into eclipse behind flounces and veils again! She appears to be in danger of doing so.

With long hair, long skirts, big hats, wasp waists and fainting spells, she will again be enveloped and man will have another chance to hold his head up. He will now emerge. He is about to snatch the wheel from his wife and the brake from her feet. How can she throw out the clutch with her toes all tangled up in lingerie? The new lord of the motor may prove more powerful than the old lord of the manor.

ASPIRATION

By James J. Montague

When Patsy gets to be a man—
  The precious little dear—
He'd sort of like to drive a van
  Or be an engineer;
He'd like to run a candy shop,
  But mostly he admits
He wants to be a traffic cop
  And scare folks into fits.

He'd like to say, "Hold up there, bo!
  You're only half alive,
It's green, not red, that means to go;
  Who learned you howta drive?
Now listen, I dowant no chin
  From any dough-faced hick;
I've half a mind to run you in;
  Go on, now, beat it! Quick!

This sort of talk, which every day
  The eager urchin hears,
Is sweeter than a song-bird's lay
  In little Patsy's ears.
He'd rather speak, sweet little thing,
  In that grand, swaggering tone
Than be the grandest, noblest king
  Who sits upon a throne.

But Patsy slender is of girth,
  Not big, and strong and grim,
And not a person on this earth
  Could be afraid of him;
But when he's big and fierce to see
  And has a lowering brow,
A traffic cop is what he'll be—
  He knows the language, now!

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

ALMOST A NEWSPAPER HANDBOOK

[New York Times]

Los Angeles is the newest of the city giants. While Southern California has been where it is for years, the population of considerably over a million hasn't been long located on the vast acreage known as Los Angeles. So it is with surprise the East will note that the current issue of the Annual Midwinter Number of the Los Angeles Times is the forty-eighth in the series. A year before the State of Washington was admitted into the Federal Union, Gen. Otis began publishing the special edition which, under him and his successor, Mr. Chandler, has grown to such proportions and into such technical beauty and representative content.

There is the too-famous story of the orator who, after listening to other speakers on an abstruse theme, remarked that "if no one else wishes to discuss this subject I'd like to say a few words about the climate of California." The Midwinter Number says a few words on this and on many other topics relating to that earthly paradise by the shores of the Pacific. There are enough statistics in it to gratify the economist and convince the home-seeker and the business man desirous of a new location.

There are sections devoted to literature, art and science. There is due appreciation of the proximity of the movie and aviation capitals. And there is throughout a suggestion that the great new community is looking with ever-increasing concentration across the Pacific to the markets of the Orient. It is a notable newspaper product, as usual.

A FUTILE ENDING

[New York Evening Post]

It would have seemed impossible that the Michaelson liquor smuggling episode could have turned out to be more disgusting in its finish than in its start. Yet such is the case. The Illinois Congressman, it will be remembered, was freed of his clash with the customs authorities when Gramm, a brother-in-law, swore that the liquor belonged to himself and not to Michaelson. Few people believed this story. Yet Gramm was allowed to go to trial on it. He was convicted and fined $1000. In court his attorney spoke of him as "the fall guy" in the case. And the judge himself in passing sentence said: "I have no desire to punish Gramm for the fault of the escaped Representative, one of those who vote dry and drink wet." In other words, both judge and attorney admitted that the whole procedure was founded on falsehood. Why was there not a perjury inquiry?

TECHNICIANS IN MEXICO

[San Francisco Chronicle]

If Mexico will cast an eye upon the eager efforts Russia is making to attract foreign technical men, she may think twice before going ahead with the experiment of restricting the practice of professions to native or naturalized Mexican citizens.

This policy would force the doctors, dentists, engineers, chemists and other technical men from the United States and Europe who now art practicing in Mexico to become naturalized or quit practicing there.

The key to Mexico's future is what technical science can do for her. If Mexico has the talent it will come forward faster against pacemakers than by being protected in mediocrity. She may try the experiment of expelling technicians, but it will not be long before she urges them to come back.

The Superior Woman

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Frequently some woman declares, "Woman is superior to man," and no man dare answer unless in the affirmative.

Yet, no reasonable-sized book would hold all of the achievements of men in world exploration, in science, chemistry, astronomy, mathematics, mechanics, painting, sculpture, literature, music, big business, factories, railroads, steamships, airplanes, automobiles, etc. Has not man by his brain power brought this old world to its present state of development and given woman the fruits of his labor to enjoy in the pleasures and comforts of life?

I ask the "superior" woman, who has thought out all of these wonderful things for our benefit—man or woman? Who has brought travel from the oxcart to the speed of the airplane—man or woman? Women do not have scientific minds, they only learn what already is an established fact of man's creative genius. Her dentist is a man and when she has a serious operation performed she goes to a man surgeon; and when she wants to sue for divorce, alimony or breach of promise, she gets a smart man attorney to do the job.

Also in the field of music men lead. The great masters are all men from Beethoven to Verdi. Also among our instrumental players men lead.

In astronomy we have over forty world-famous men, but not one woman. The cold facts show that in all walks of life, in athletics or business the best record is still held by man.

A good woman is the dearest companion for man, but God never intended her to be his superior.

C. W. DARBY.

The Spirit of '76

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The editorial, with the caption of "Medical Intolerance," recently published in The Times, is provoking widespread commendation and has proven to be a source of great and far-reaching appreciation among people in all walks of life. The editorial carried with it the spirit of '76 and vigorously commemorated the signing of the Declaration of Independence of the United States that guaranteed religious and medical liberty to the people of America. It is an accompaniment to the Marseillaise, as voiced today by over 40,000,000 people who have found in other schools of medicine and the healing art cessation and cure for their mental and physical ailments.

Dr. Fishbein has made a lamentable faux pas in trying to ridicule and condemn schools of medicine apart from the allopath. However, there are many highly competent and advanced men of his profession who are not in sympathy with his arrogant destructive methods.

The Los Angeles Times, as one of the greatest of the world's newspapers, has rendered a merited rebuke and a magnificent service in upholding the Constitution of the United States for medical freedom of all the people.

ROSEMONDE RAE WRIGHT.

Chewing the Rag

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Mr. Eugene LeClem seems to think that he has been separated from 35 cents for which he received no adequate return. As a matter of fact, "Taming of the Shrew," if filmed according to accepted traditions of real Shakespearean art, would fall as flat as a pancake on a cold griddle. Mr. LeClem must admit that it does not pay to cater to the small minority who are interested in the faithful portrayal of medieval life. Of course, the average movie patron doesn't know or care whether the play is Shakespearean or Levinskinarian just so long as it amuses. Were it not that some one would immediately howl "plagiarism," the play might better have been called, "The Chewing of the Rag," by Sam Levinski.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Topographical Drafting?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

At Manual Arts Evening High School, Forty-second and Vermont avenue, there is a free class in topographical drafting, open to men and women of all ages. It meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. in room 201.

Students in this class have found openings in civil engineering and map-drafting offices; gas and electric light corporations, railway, oil and mining companies, and city, county and Federal offices. There are about three vacancies in the class at present, and students will be admitted in the order of their application.

First editions of Homer, Dante, Petrarch and the Gutenberg Bible are to be seen in Huntington Library, where rare books valued at a half-billion dollars are open to the public, and book lovers when they request it.

CONTRAST

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

The snow-whitened hills that bound our horizon to the north today—it seems a blessed thing that now and then throughout the decades, old Boreas mantles them in a robe of purity and sweeps down chillily from their pallid summits across the verdant and populous plains below. Such an event, rare though it be, makes us appreciate the more, and we are wise, the climatic blessings that are ours throughout the most of time.

We are too prone, we Southlanders, to accept our seasons of gorgeous gold sunshine and warm softness, unheedingly. Aye, even to whine when overfervant comes the heat, or overgorgeous the rays of old Sol. We do not welcome extremes of either hot or cold; we are not used to them. True, we seldom have them, but now and then a few days ensue of extreme (as we call it) and we are all in a flutter and flurry. We forget the months of bland beauty and turn our backs on balmy burgeonings of spring lasting throughout the most of the twelvemonth. We are too accustomed to nature's bounty to realize it fully.

Then, wise old dame that she is, nature gives us visual evidence of what we might have to face elsewhere, just to show us what favorites of the gods we are. The snowclad hills to the north are just one of nature's little merriments; a symbol for our own delectation; an emphasis, as it were, to the story she usually unrolls for our general delight.

Yet withal, how beautiful those white-draped heights are, and what a frame they be to the galaxy of gardens gathered at their feet, where roses bloom and oranges glow goldenly amid the abundant green! What a new sense of the exquisite we have as our eyes travel from the fragrant fertility all about below to the serrated summits of the coronel of cold that hangs above. What a picture it all is, limned here and here only by a Master Painter supernal; chromatically complete, symbolically superb.

And—we do not have to muddle through it or suffer in it, either, as must those many elsewhere to whom the snowstorms come. They, forsooth, find the pallid blanket troublesome, often terrible. To them, a snowfall means banked-up homes, disrupted traffic, costly removal, frozen fingers, nipped noses, distress, even death. Their picture is one of desolation and damage unmitigated, with scarce a touch of joy or relief; sometimes one upon which they must look for weeks at a time without surcease. No wonder in such lands that laggard spring is of the seasons most welcome, and that they hole up in terror at the first fleecy flakes of white.

So, good folk of this favored spot, go up and look upon our hoary-headed hills while you may—'twill be but a fleeting glance at the most you'll have. And in them find new cause for satisfaction and surprise. And then next time it is too cold or too hot, too wet or too dry, to suit your notions of climatic perfection, think of what those gleaming peaks signify in regions where snowfall is general over all the land. Yes, think—and the next time you are chilled a bit, or overheated, or dampened by fog or shower—well, just forget such little unpleasantnesses, and be thankful you are here—to stay!

AN UGLY FINDING

BY SUZANNE PEHKOFF

According to Richard D. Enright, former Police Commissioner of New York City, the biggest business in the United States today is crime. He quotes two authorities in support of his contention. The first is Wade H. Ellis, former Assistant United States Attorney-General, who puts the annual return from crime in this country at the appalling figure of $13,000,000,000. This vast sum is reached by considering the findings of the American Bar Association's Crime Commission, of which the former Assistant Attorney-General was a member. A shade more conservative are the figures of the Manufacturers' Record, which puts the annual income from criminal activities at $11,800,000,000.

This puts in the shade the income from legitimate businesses. The nation's largest business, that of the automobile industry, shows an annual return of only $5,000,000,000. Our yearly exports are only a fraction above this amount, yet the criminal undertakings of the country reap more than twice such an amount. Mr. Enright points out that the United States governmental budget is the largest of any nation in the world. It represents some $4,500,000,000, much less than half the toll we pay yearly to the gangsters and other criminals of the country.

These figures should help prove to the casual observer the fact that crime is an organized and highly paid occupation. The humanitarian philosophy that we have developed has led us to think of crime as a sporadic outbreak rather than an organized activity, in which the respectable elements of the community are also more or less to blame. Those interested in the criminal have held that society at large had failed somewhere in its treatment of him, and hence he had turned in desperation to crime because he could not fit in well anywhere else. The colossal revenues reaped from crime indicate that such activities are deliberately chosen because of their returns.

See one's own continent first—and glimpse the second largest pyramid in the world—that of the Sun, twenty-seven miles from Mexico City.

SAN GABRIEL VALLEY ROAD PLANS TOLD

Gathering in Pasadena Given Details of Gigantic County Highway Project

By a "Times" Staff Representative

PASADENA, Jan. 16.—San Gabriel Valley tonight received from the Los Angeles County Regional Planning Commission the valley's part of the master plan developed by the commission for highway construction and other regional planning details. More than 500 representatives from all sections of the area attended the presentation meeting held under the auspices of the San Gabriel Valley Development Association at the Maryland Hotel.

This project is the first of the kind ever prepared in the United States and the San Gabriel Valley unit is the first of a series which will be provided for by the commission in the plan to co-ordinate the highways throughout the county. It is intended as the groundwork for such planning until the valley's maximum of population is reached.

Copies of the plan were presented to the mayors and city engineers of the valley's seventeen incorporated cities and also to the chairmen of the valley's planning commissions.

Following the dinner attended by the delegations, Chairman James L. Matthews, president of the association, presented Gov. Young who, in the course of an address on State highway history, announced that three-fourths of the secondary highways involved in a program contemplated by the State will be in Southern California. This means about 500 miles of such roads, he said, largely taking over county roads by the State.

Supervisor Wright, Chairman Daugherty of the Pasadena City Board of Directors, Mrs. Charles F. Gray, chairman of the Los Angeles County Regional Planning Commission, Chairman Baker of the Los Angeles City Planning Commission, other members of both commissions, and prominent San Gabriel Valley representatives were presented.

Dr. Helms Will Make Tour of Sacred Places

Dr. E. E. Dr. and Mrs. Helms have made arrangements to visit Sinai by airplane, the first time in history that this historic scene will have been thus invaded. The trip will be under the direction of Dr. Cass Arthur Reed, president of the international college at Smyrna, Turkey. The American consul at that point is arranging the trip to Patmos.

Dr. Elmer E. Helms

Returning to Los Angeles May 3, Dr. Helms will preach at his church May 4 and will give a description of his travels. Next Sunday Dr. Helms will be in charge of both services at First Methodist Church.

WOMAN TO FACE THREE CHARGES

Complaints for Mrs. Lewis Issued in Poisoning

Prisoner Arraigned and Bail Fixed at $5000

Rooming-house Proprietress Accused by Partner

Three felony charges accusing Mrs. Belle M. Lewis, 34-year-old rooming-house proprietor, of attempting to poison Henry Patrick Lynch, her business partner, were filed in a complaint issued against the woman yesterday by Dept. Dist.-Atty. Hugh McIsaac.

The complaint charges the woman with assault with intent to commit murder, administration of poison with intent to kill, and mingling poison with food.

According to Investigating Officers Corsini and Sanderson, Mrs. Lewis gave Lynch a bowl of poisoned barley for breakfast three days ago, telling him it was a special dish and would be good for his fever. Lynch told the officers that he was taken violently ill immediately. He was rushed to the Receiving Hospital at once and treated for poisoning.

Further inquiry revealed, according to the officers, a quantity of the poisoned barley in the garbage can and a partly filled box of rat poison in Lynch's room.

The officers accuse Mrs. Lewis of getting Lynch to finance her rooming-house enterprise and then seeking to kill him with poison.

After being arraigned before Municipal Judge Ambrose, Mrs. Lewis was ordered to return to court for her preliminary hearing on the 23rd inst., at 2 p.m. Bail was fixed at $5000.

Sewall Funeral Rites Changed; Will be Today

Funeral services for Frank L. Sewall, head of the Sewall Shipbuilding Company of Bath, Me., which were announced for Saturday morning have been changed and will be conducted at 10 a.m. today at St. Basil's Church, Harvard and Wilshire boulevards. Immediately following the rites Mrs. Sewall and a son, Marshall, will leave with the remains for Bath, where they will be interred in the family burial plot.

Mr. Sewall, who made his winter home at 452 South Ardmore street, died Wednesday night following two weeks of critical illness. He was 61 years of age. He had retired from active business some time ago and for the past eight years had been a resident of this city. Besides his widow and his son he also leaves a daughter, Nancy.

New Potentate of Shrine Given Warm Greeting

Al Malaikah Temple's uniformed patrol, band and chanters, joined 1000 Shriners yesterday at the Biltmore in a noisy and enthusiastic reception to Illustrious Potentate Fred J. Wadley, Jr., newly elected head of the Los Angeles Shriners.

The new Potentate was escorted by a squad of the uniformed patrol. Al Malaikah's band and chanters serenaded the Potentate, who was introduced formally by Past Potentate William P. Jeffries.

Mr. Wadley introduced Chief Rabban Bruce Grigsby, Assistant Rabban Richard H. Jeffries, High Priest William Rhodes Hervey, Stanton A. Bruner, Oriental guide, Recorder George J. Ramsey and others recently elected or appointed.

BIRTH-CONTROL PLEA MADE

Margaret Sanger Launches Campaign for New Laws at National Council of Jewish Women

BY MYRA NYE

The beginning of a nation-wide campaign in behalf of birth control was launched late yesterday afternoon in a round-table conference of the National Council of Jewish Women, now in the last day of the twelfth biennial of the organization. To this end Margaret Sanger, nationally known advocate of birth control, spoke.

Mrs. Henry G. Hill of Oakland, member of the public-health department of the national council, presided and stated in the beginning of the session, which was the most crowded one of the whole convention, that nothing that was done or said in the session should be attributed to the whole council, and that no official action would be taken.

OPINION FAVORS

The evident opinion of the conference was to support the campaign as outlined by Mrs. Sanger. The campaign is for the purpose of "smashing," as she said, an obsolete law against birth control.

"The law still in our statute books was passed by the efforts of dear, old, well-meaning Anthony Comstock fifty-four years ago," said Mrs. Sanger, "and if it were obeyed it would put us back 1000 years. Our campaign is nation-wide to modify that law."

A conference of delegates from eleven western States will be conducted for three days in the Biltmore beginning February 20 and ending with a mass meeting in Trinity Auditorium, according to Mrs. Sanger. In this conference and its success the delegates manifested much interest.

AMERICA LAGS

"France, Holland, England, Germany and Austria all make it legally possible to disseminate the knowledge we are seeking to make known in the United States," said Dr. Sanger, "and our own country, so far in advance in other scientific matters, must not lag in this the most important of all. And I want to emphasize that it is a scientific thing we are trying to make legal. In the East we have the support of Dr. Emerson Fosdick, Otto Kahn, Mrs. William Vanderbilt, George Eastman and many other influential ones I might name."

WORK DONE HERE

Work along the line of birth control knowledge dissemination was told by two other speakers, Dr. Etta Grey and Dr. Nadine Kavinoky, the former stating that information was given to 4000 mothers last year by the Los Angeles Mothers' Clinic and the latter said that information is given regularly by the Los Angeles County Health Department.

Of the 4000 mothers, Dr. Grey said one-half of them were in ill health and of those who came to the county clinic in which Dr. Kavinoky is interested the average mother already had five children and the average wage of the husband is $100 per month.

"This speaks for itself," she said.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The official delegate body yesterday elected officers as follows: Mrs. Joseph E. Friend of New Orleans, president; Mrs. Alvin Bauman of St. Louis, first vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Brin of Minneapolis, second vice-president; Mrs. Sidney M. Cone of Baltimore, third vice-president; Mrs. Elise N. Eisenmann of New Orleans, treasurer; Mrs. I. K. E. Prager of Boston, recording secretary; Mrs. S. M. Blumauer, Portland, honorary vice-president.

Upon recommendation of Mrs. Sydney M. Cone of Pikesville, Md., chairman of legislation and civics, the council will support Federal legislation in favor of uniform marriage and divorce laws and the study of sterilization laws.

It was voted to continue the work among the immigrants at Ellis Island.

CHURCH MEN WILL MEET NEXT WEEK

Federated Brotherhoods of State Will Hear Notable List of Speakers

Church men of California will gather at the second annual State convention of the Federated Church Brotherhoods of California at the First Baptist Church, the 24th, 25th and 26th inst. under the guidance of President A. M. Wilkinson. The opening event will be a banquet and mass meeting at the Chamber of Commerce next Friday at 6:30 pm. The convention proper will open at 8 p.m. Dr. John Bunyon Smith, pastor of the San Diego White Temple Baptist Church, will be the speaker of the evening.

Among the speakers on the different programs next Saturday and Sunday are: Curtis Wilbur, former Secretary of the Navy; Gov. Young, Wayne Compton, Judge Robert H. Scott, Mayor Porter, Dr. A. M. Wilkinson, Judge Bush, John Anson Ford, Gustavus Schneider, Mayor Benedict of Huntington Park, Dist.-Atty. Fitts, Presiding Judge Turney of the Municipal Court, Presiding Judge Doran of the Superior Court, Dr. Richard N. Merrill and United States District Judge McCormick.

Glenn Tyndall, manager of the Hollywood Bowl, has charge of the music. The Chamber of Commerce, through the convention secretary, Harry Main, will provide a sightseeing tour for the visitors Saturday afternoon.

Club Woman to be Buried Today

Funeral rites will be conducted by Dr. John Albert Eby at the Wilshire Presbyterian Church at 10:30 a.m. today for Mrs. Louise O. Brown, club woman and church worker, who died Sunday at her home, 549 South Arden Boulevard. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mrs. Brown was a member of the Ebell Club and was active in charity work. She organized the Wilshire Presbyterian Choristers and contributed largely to the installation of the new pipe organ at the church. Besides her husband, George L. Brown, chairman of the board of governors of the Orthopedic Hospital, she leaves a son, George L. Brown, Jr.

PROMINENT CITY SCHOOL LEADER DIES

Miss Mary E. Feenan of Hollenbeck Junior High Passes Suddenly

Eighteen years of outstanding service in educational work in the Los Angeles city schools were brought to a close with the death on Wednesday of Miss Mary E. Feenan, vice-principal of the Hollenbeck Junior High School. Ill only for a few days, her death was said to have been caused by heart disease.

Funeral services will be conducted today at 2 p.m. at the Reed Brothers parlors, 721 West Washington street, with cremation to follow at the Forest Lawn Crematory in Glendale.

Miss Feenan, who resided at the Women's Athletic Club, 833 South Flower street, had been vice-principal of the Hollenbeck Junior High School for the past ten years and at the time of her death was president of the Junior High School Vice-Principals' Association and a prominent member of committees working for curriculum improvement.

From 1912 to 1915 Miss Feenan was engaged in special work at Castelar and Solano-street schools, in which problem cases among girls were her chief consideration, and for four years after that she did special work along vocational guidance lines at the Hollenbeck school.

She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Florence Young of this city and Mrs. Frances Vance of Chicago.

Charge Against Mosby Dropped

Liquor-possession charges against Curtis Mosby, owner of the Apex Night Club on Central avenue, were dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Curtis at the request of Deputy City Prosecutor Kaufman. The prosecutor told the court that the case has been tried, resulting in a hung jury, which stood 11 to 1 for acquittal, and that one of the police officers who raided the club is dead and another a fugitive from justice.

Mosby was accused of possession of two pints of whisky taken by the raiders from patrons of the cafe.

The Spirit of the West

It is traditional of the West that men are judged for what they are... not for their history or ancestry.

Western institutions are measured by the same standard. Sixty-nine years of banking mean little unless that experience is available in a form readily adaptable to the solution of today's problems.

The facilities of the Bank of America have advanced a step ahead of the demands placed upon them. Today we are planning and building for tomorrow. Experience teaches us how to plan and build.

Forward-looking, progressive men and women find here a service in keeping with their requirements. They find foresight which is the outgrowth of long contact with California business problems. Here, too, they find strength which has grown through the years... firm strength on which they can base their own future achievements.

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

More and more the Friday afternoon concerts of the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra are proving an incentive for luncheon parties given by hostesses who gather together a congenial coterie of friends who afterward go to the concert.

One of these affairs this afternoon is that which Mrs. Frederick W. Flint will give at the California Club, and which will be followed at the next concert by a similar gathering.

Mrs. Flint's guests this afternoon will include Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff and her daughter, Mrs. Evan Royal Mosher (Leila Holterhoff) of Vienna, Austria; Mrs. Russell McDonnell Taylor, Mrs. Edward Deane Lyman, Mrs. James R. Prehm, Mrs. Ernest Albert Bryant, Mrs. George Davidson, Mrs. Fred O. Johnson and Mrs. Joseph Edwards Cook.

Another preorchestra hostess will be Mrs. Leo St. Clair Chandler, who will entertain at her home in June street, honoring especially Mrs. Martin Slavin of New York, who has been sojourning for some months at Carmel. Mrs. Slavin's husband is one of the most popular playwriters of the year, and has at this time three plays in Gotham, including "Criminal Code," "Broken Dishes" and "Cross Road."

A score of guests have been bidden to meet the interesting visitor and later all will motor down to Philharmonic Auditorium for the concert.

To Honor Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Gumpert of 4933½ Elmwood avenue will receive at home Sunday evening, the 26th inst., in honor of their daughter, Miss Helen Caroline Gumpert, and her fiance, Harold M. Forster, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Forster of Curson avenue. No cards are being issued, and the hours are from 8 to 11 o'clock.

Interesting Event

The Nine O'clock Theater Players of the Assistance League will present three one-act plays at the Windsor Square Theater Saturday, February 1, at 9 p.m. Several well-known professionals are to be included in the cast. The proceeds are to be used for activities not covered by the Community Chest. Numerous dinner parties are to be given at the Assistance League tearoom prior to the performance. Another group of plays will be presented later in the spring. The list of patrons and patronesses includes Messrs. and Mmes. James Rathwell Page, William May Garland, Frank Vanderlip, James Rufus Martin, E. Avery McCarthy, Ben R. Meyer, Force Parker, Alphonzo Bell, Joseph Francis Sartori, Lucien Napoleon Brunswig, Russell McDonnell Taylor, Chester Wallace Brown, William Thomas Kester, Edwin E. Skillen, Charles R. Jones, Arthur Bumiller, Eugene Consigny, Oscar M. Souden, Isaac Hamshur Jones, Frank Bennett, Harrold English, T. H. Dudley, Abraham Lehr, Erwin Hanford Furman, Jay Lawyer, Daniel Sully, John Treanor, J. Warren Tatum, R. D. Shepherd, Michael Creamer, James Reed, Chester Turner Hoag, William Rhodes Hervey, John G. Mott, Nathaniel Myrick, Ernest A. Bryant and Harcourt Hervey; Mmes. Hancock Banning, Frank William Davey, Ada Laughlin, Richard Lacy, Fred Sears, Egbert Benedict, O'Dell O'Connell, Cosmo Morgan, E. J. Marieni and Mr. Raphael Herman.

Mrs. Walter Perry Story is the chairman of the committee.

U. D. C. Luncheon

The annual Southern luncheon of the United Daughters of the Confederacy will be held at the Ambassador tomorrow afternoon when representatives from every chapter in Southern California will be in attendance.

Mrs. Milton Leroy Stannard, president of the California Division, U. D. C., and other State officers will be especial guests of honor.

A special table will be arranged for the Confederate Veterans from San Gabriel and Los Angeles. W. Griffith, the chief speaker of the day, has chosen as his topic "The Rise and Fall of the Confederacy."

Sorority Entertained

Miss Kate Frost entertained members of the Gamma Phi Beta alumnae with a bridge evening Monday at her home, 304 South Kingsley, when invitations were extended to Misses Marian Snow, Veeda Ross, Fredericka Monten, Jean McDaniel, Patsy Palmer and Geraldine Neusbaum. These alumnae from one of the many groups who meet at various homes of the organization once a month to raise funds for the chapter house at Westwood, on the University of California at Los Angeles campus.

Mrs. Nelle Brooker Mayhew, who has an exhibition of paintings at the Palos Verdes Art Gallery, has donated the grand prize and table prizes for the Gamma Phi Beta bridge-musicale the 25th inst. Alumnae, active members and friends are looking forward to this social event at the sorority house at Westwood.

Home Wedding

One of the pretty home weddings of last week was that of Miss Marguerite Anderson, daughter of Robert L. Anderson of Harvard Boulevard, who became the bride of Walter Moranda of Eureka, the ceremony taking place in the lovely home of the bride's brother, Robert L. Anderson, Jr., in Glendale. The house was artistically decorated throughout with a profusion of early spring flowers.

An interesting feature of the occasion was that the dainty bride wore her mother's wedding dress which had been fashioned into one of the modern vogue. The gown, which was of heavy ivory brocaded satin, had two deep circular flounces, each being shorter in front, the lower one forming the skirt and falling into a long graceful train in the back. Her long tulle veil formed a cap on her head which was held in place by a double wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias, and was given into keeping of the bridegroom by her father.

Her sister-in-law, in orchid satin and carrying a bouquet of pink sweet peas, was her only attendant, while her brother served as best man. The ceremony, by Rev. R. P. Shuler, was read in the presence of close friends and relatives, before the huge fireplace, and immediately after a reception was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Moranda left Sunday morning for San Francisco for a few days after which they will leave for their future home in Eureka, where Mr. Moranda has extensive ranch holdings.

Celebrate Wedding Anniversary

Commemorating their fifty years of married life, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Case of Cleveland were tendered an anniversary dinner at the Hotel Huntington last night at which their many Cleveland friends in Pasadena were guests.

Dozens of baskets of flowers were received among them a bouquet of fifty roses sent by fifty of the oldest employees of Lamson & Sessions in Cleveland, O., of which Mr. Case is an executive.

Guests included many Huntington residents, as well as Pasadenans, who have known the Case family during their many winters here.

Those attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. George F. Case, son and daughter-in-law; Mrs. N. S. Calhoun and Mrs. Henry Holt, wedding guest of fifty years ago; Capt. and Mrs. C. L. Hutchinson, Dr. and Mrs. John Willis Baer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Richter, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Clemson, Isaac Reynolds, Mrs. E. P. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Porter, Mrs. Will Manuel, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wigmore, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brainard; Mr. James Newcombe and Miss Hoffman.

Engagement Announced

Engagement of Alexandra Van Praag, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henri J. Van Praag of 1510 Blanche street, to Wesley F. Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Shaffer of La Habra Heights, has been announced.

The betrothal is the culmination of a school-day romance, both the bride-elect and Mr. Shaffer being graduated from Pasadena High School. Mr. Shaffer also claims the Southwestern University of Law at Los Angeles as his alma mater.

Miss Alice Anderson

AMONG the attractive brides-elect of the season is Miss Alice Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Anderson of Camden Drive, Beverly Hills, whose engagement to Paul De La Verne, son of Mrs. George Thompson of South Virgil avenue, was announced recently.

The news was told at a luncheon and bridge given at Beverly Hills Hotel by Mrs. Anderson, but no date is announced as yet for the wedding.

Both Miss Anderson and her fiance attended the University of Arizona, where the latter is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

CLUB NOTES

Founders Day is being celebrated throughout California today by federated club women, in commemoration of the organization of the California Federation of Women's Clubs thirty years ago in Los Angeles at the old Ebell Clubhouse on South Broadway. Then 6000 women were represented. Today the number is nearing 100,000.

Many clubs, as part of their Founders Day observances, will establish the "penny a day" savings bank plan proposed by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, chairman of the General Federation Foundation Fund Committee. A lively competition is existing among the clubs, districts and States in an effort to be among the first to complete the quota to the fund.

Mrs. W. W. Slayden, now in Washington, D. C. to attend the General Federation Directors meeting and the Council on the Cause and Cure of War, writes that both meetings are being well attended, since the weather is less rigorous than anticipated. She will return to Los Angeles next Tuesday to preside at the State executive board meeting in Santa Ana, the 25th inst.

Mrs. Barney is Speaker

"Reminiscences" is the topic chosen for Mrs. Alice Pike Barney, founder of the Theater Mart in Hollywood, and well known as an author, painter and dramatist, when she speaks before the round table section of the Beverly Hills Woman's Club, at 10:30 a.m. today. Mrs. Elizabeth Lloyd Smith, who inaugurated this section more than two years ago, and who has, during this time, been its curator, is retiring at this meeting, her successor being Mrs. Fred Jackman. Mrs. Smith, however, retains the office of program chairman in the group, and has planned a series of interesting meetings, featuring "Women Who Have Achieved" in different lines of endeavor in America.

Distinguished Poetess Here

Thomas Hardy not so very long ago said that there are in the United States two especially great things—the poetry of Edna St. Vincent Millay and our "recessional buildings."

Today Edna St. Vincent Millay, whose libretto for the opera, "The King's Henchman," has been heard here by many women's clubs, and whose "Buck in the Snow," a collection of her lyrics since 1924, has won the esteem both of the reading public and of literary critics, will speak in Los Angeles. She will be presented before the Friday Morning Club at 10:30 a.m. by Mrs. Sarah Bixby Smith, president.

Luncheon speakers at the club will be Dr. John Wesley Hill, whose subject is "Ideals in Citizenship," and Lawrence Kitchell, who will talk on Glacier National Park and the Blackfeet Indians.

Costume Revue

In the quaint and picturesque gowns of the past California Women of the Golden West will appear this afternoon in a fashion revue at the Ambassador Hotel Theater. Mrs. Elaine Anderson Dudley, recording secretary and chairman of industrial welfare, is chairman for the program, and Mrs. George Davidson Gilmore will preside.

Mrs. Leland Moore will wear with her old-fashioned gown a black veil of real lace 150 years of age, and will carry a tiny black parasol of the same age, heirlooms from England. Miss Jeanette Braddock, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Braddock, both members of the club, will wear a valuable old wedding gown of stiff, creamy satin, long train and old laces. Others to appear in the revue are Mmes. Donald Jennings, Edwin O. Colwell, Myron Condio, Otto Amberg, Mox Dehner, Hal Crain, Rex Goodcell, Ernest L. Webster, Edward C. Vanderbilt, Allen Greer, Joseph Bonhaus and Lawrence Allen.

Tea in the coffee shop will be served after the program.

Honors Welfare Worker

The Stanford Women's Club of Los Angeles is to compliment one of its own members during a meeting to take place at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow, when the speaker will be Dr. Anne E. Rude. Dr. Rude, a Stanford alumna, has just returned from a child welfare conference in the White House. The affair will take the form of a tea in the Women's University Club, 943 South Hoover street, all visiting or resident Stanford women being bidden.

Honor Southern Heroes

Gen. Robert E. Lee and Gen. Stonewall Jackson chapters, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will unite at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow for a birthday luncheon in the Ambassador, with Mrs. Helena T. Riche as general chairman. D. W. Griffith, as luncheon speaker, will speak on "The Rise and Fall of the Confederacy."

Mrs. C. C. Bull, president of Dixie chapter and hostess chairman, will be assisted by Mmes. Carrol G. Stribling, Guy L. Morrie, Robert C. Went, B. H. Davis, V. E. Hampton, F. L. Broszmer, Charles C. Ward, C. D. Tucker, J. W. Barnes, Ralph T. Chandler, F. L. Morgan, Walter Dunton, George Trowbridge, C. W. Willey, Otis Healy, B. F. Whitmire, Frank Galvin, Ida M. Morrison, Ida V. May Hardy, Anna Burton, D. O. Dumont, D. L. Morgan, Thomas T. Loy and C. A. Wright.

Mrs. Rudolph M. Blankenburg, second vice-president-general; Miss May Vivian Conway, State historian of San Diego, and Mrs. Chester A. Garfield, past State president of San Francisco, are to share honors with Mrs. M. L. Stannard, State president, and her officers.

Scribblers' League

Awarding the prize to the winner of the club's Christmas story contest, Mrs. Louise Miller will present the program at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Alexandria for the Scribblers' League. The chief speaker of the evening will be Estelle Lawton Lindsay, newspaper woman, whose subject is to be "Publishing."

The meeting is open to the public, all interested being invited to be in attendance.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Women attending the Los Angeles Times' Cooking School have the privilege of requesting Chef Wyman to prepare special dishes in which they are interested and the program this afternoon at 2 o'clock is entirely devoted to "request recipes." Their diversity is such that they will be of interest to almost every housewife since they range from the delectable luncheon dish known as shrimp wiggle to bran muffins, and include another whole meal dish; fish and corn in casserole; an Austrian apple cake, which is a quickly prepared apple cake to be served as a breakfast dish, and a meat loaf with sauce. There is no charge for these classes which are held in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

KIDNEY BEAN POT

One-half a pound of kidney beans, one onion, one small slice of diced fat pork, one-half a pound of ground round steak, six small red peppers, four cupfuls of tomatoes, a seasoning of salt, wash the beans and soak them overnight, place in a saute pan the diced pork, add to it the chopped onions, and allow to cook until tender and slightly brown, then add the beef, peppers, tomatoes, well-drained beans, and four cupfuls of water. Bring slowly to a boil and cook gently until the beans are tender.

NOODLES AND MUSHROOMS

One package of noodles, one cupful of milk, two tablespoonfuls of flour, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one and one-half cupfuls of grated American cheese, two chopped pimientoes, one small can of mushrooms, a seasoning of salt and pepper. Boil the noodles and drain them. Place the butter and flour in a saucepan and when bubbling add the milk. Then add half of the grated cheese, pimientoes chopped fine, and the mushrooms that have been cut in small pieces, season with salt and pepper, mix the noodles with the sauce, place in a baking dish that has been well oiled, sprinkle the top with the remainder of the cheese, cover with fine bread crumbs. Place in a hot oven and bake until brown.

MINT CORNSTARCH PUDDING

Two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, four cupfuls of milk, two eggs, one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, and four sprigs of fresh mint, beat the eggs, add the sugar to them, scald the milk and pour over the well-beaten eggs and sugar, place in a double boiler and cook until thickened, wash the mint, bruise it slightly and stir it into the mixture, and when it has become infused with the aroma, remove the mint, add half a teaspoonful of vanilla, place in the bottom of sherbet glasses marshmallows that have been cut in quarters, pour the hot mixture over them and allow to set until the mixture is cool.

BAKED BANANAS IN CRANBERRY SAUCE

Three cupfuls of cranberries, one-half a cupful of water, six large bananas, one cupful of sugar, one-third of a cupful of lemon juice, wash the berries, add the cold water to them, allow to cook until they pop, then press them through a sieve, peel the bananas, cut in half lengthwise and place in a shallow baking dish, pour the lemon juice over them, add the sugar to the hot cranberry pulp, stir until dissolved, then pour over the bananas, place in a hot oven and bake until the bananas are tender.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Woman Will Review Books

Mrs. Jack Vallely's monthly book review will be given at Bullock's tomorrow at 10:30 a.m.

Mrs. Vallely will take as the main theme of her talk "All Our Yesterdays," by Tomlinson; "Hanna," by Thomas Beers, a study of character of the political history of the country from the days of Lincoln to the death of McKinley, is a chronicle of American life.

Lloyd Douglass's "Magnificent Obsession," a novel of color and varied interests, dealing with strange and transforming life forces, is among the books to be reviewed.

PEEP PLANNED INTO FUTURE

Zoning for a new city in a new era is announced for discussion at the next meeting of the City Planning Association to be held next Tuesday evening at the City Club, 833 South Spring street. Addresses will be given by Gordon Whitnall on "Up-to-date Zoning," and by George Dunlop on "Let There be Light and Air." Following these a proposed forty-story hotel on Wilshire Boulevard will be discussed in open forum. The meeting will be preceded by dinner at 6 o'clock.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

A Bedtime Story

—by THORNTON W. BURGESS

FARMER BROWN'S BOY STILL LOSES CORN

To be too sure is tempting fate,
As you'll discover soon or late.
—Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's Boy was puzzled, as he had been puzzled so often before. He was still losing corn from the corncrib. At first he couldn't believe it. He was sure that now that he had cut off the hanging branch by which Chatterer the Red Squirrel had been getting to the roof of the corncrib, he had put a stop to all visits from Chatterer. But he had thought that once before when he had taken down the clothesline, by means of which Chatterer had reached the corncrib. So now he wasn't prepared to be as positive as he had been in the past.

"Twice Chatterer has been too much for me," said Farmer Brown's Boy, talking to himself. "Twice I have been positive that there was no way for Chatterer to get into this corncrib. Both times Chatterer has fooled me. Both times I have discovered that there was a way. Of course, I may be mistaken. It may be that I only think the corn is being taken. Just the same, this looks to me like a freshly shelled corncob. I know what I'll do. I'll leave a little shelled corn right here in this corner and see if it disappears."

So Farmer Brown's Boy shelled some corn and put it in the corner. The next morning when he went in to get the corn to feed to the hens there wasn't so much shelled corn in that corner. However, it looked to Farmer Brown's Boy as if there were not as much as he had left there. He didn't touch it. He didn't add to it. He left the little pile just as it was. The next morning there was no little pile there. Then Farmer Brown's Boy knew some one was getting into that corncrib and taking that corn. He scratched his head thoughtfully. It might be a mouse. It might be a rat. It might be Chatterer the Red Squirrel. The question was, which was it? Having twice been fooled by Chatterer, and having at no time found a trace of a mouse or a rat, Farmer Brown's Boy strongly suspected Chatterer again. Still, he couldn't see for the life of him how it could be possible for Chatterer to be getting into that corncrib again.

He went out and looked the corncrib all over, as he had done so many times before. Certainly, Chatterer could not get into that corncrib from the ground. "He just can't do it," said Farmer Brown's Boy. "He just can't do it and that's all there is to that." Then he looked carefully at the nearest tree and the nearest posts and made up his mind that Chatterer couldn't possibly jump from any of these to the corncrib. "It can't be Chatterer!" said he. "I know it can't, as well as I know my own name! I'm just as sure of it. And yet—well, that corn is disappearing and that's all there is to it. Nobody can take it; yet somebody is taking it and there you are! I've got to find out about this. I wish there would come another snow. A few tracks might tell me something."

Meanwhile, over in Green Forest Chatterer was chuckling to himself. Every time he thought of Farmer Brown's Boy he chuckled. He would go up to the old stone wall and sit on the end of it where he could see Farmer Brown's Boy working about the barn, and he would chuckle. It was just as if he knew exactly what was going on in the mind of Farmer Brown's Boy and was enjoying it. Once in a while he would look over at the corncrib and then he would chuckle more than ever.

"He thinks no one can get that corn," Chatterer would chuckle to himself. "He thinks no one can get it. I do hope he'll keep right on thinking so. Yes, sir, I do

[Copyright, 1930, by T. W. Burgess.]

"It can't be Chatterer," said he.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

CHEF WYMAN'S ANSWERS
CHEESE CAKE

[illegible] E. S., Los Angeles, Cal.—Four [illegible] of dry cottage cheese, one-[illegible] cupful of thick cream, six [illegible] one and one-half cupfuls of [illegible] two teaspoonfuls of grated lemon rind, press the cheese through a ricer or sieve, then add the cream, beat the yolks of the eggs with the sugar and beat into the cheese mixture, add the grated lemon rind, and one teaspoonful of nutmeg, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Line a pie dish with rich pastry or a cookie crust, place the cheese mixture in it and bake in a medium oven, when cold sprinkle with powdered sugar and cinnamon.

BRIDGE CAKES

G. B. B., Los Angeles, Cal.—One cupful of butter, one-half a cupful of sugar, the yolks of two eggs, the grated rind of two oranges, two cupfuls of flour, cream the butter, add the sugar gradually, and then add the well-beaten egg yolks, add the grated orange rind, and the sifted flour, knead until smooth, roll out in a thin sheet, cut in hearts, diamonds, clubs and spades, place on a baking sheet and bake in a medium oven. Place together in pairs with a red jelly between, cover the hearts and diamonds with a thin frosting made with three tablespoonfuls of boiling water to which has been added enough sugar to make thick enough to spread. Color with a little red coloring, cover the spades and clubs with melted sweet chocolate.

RAVIOLA

L. E. P., Los Angeles, Cal.—Make a paste of two cupfuls of flour, two eggs, a half a teaspoonful of salt and enough water to make a stiff dough; knead well, and roll out into a sheet as thick as very thin cardboard; cut in half, and proceed as follows: place one teaspoonful of farce in regular places on the paste, two inches apart, moisten the upper part of the paste and place carefully on top of the lower piece, pressing the two together with the finger or with a raviola rolling pin, forming small cushions between, cut through the rolls, down and across, with a pastry knife in such a way as to leave pieces two inches square, place the raviola on a board, covered with a clean piece of muslin, near the stove and dry thoroughly. When needed, poach them a few at a time in a clear bouillon for ten minutes. When all are done place them in a serving dish, pour the bouillon over them, add a few spoonfuls of grated Parmesan cheese and serve.

FARCE FOR RAVIOLAS

Take one cupful of cold chicken, or veal, chop very fine, and rub to a paste, with one calve's brain that has been parboiled, add one cupful of bread crumbs, which have been soaked in milk and squeezed dry, one teaspoonful of onion juice, one-half a teaspoonful of salt, a few grains of nutmeg, a little cayenne, and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of thyme, rub all together, then add one cupful of cooked spinach, that has been chopped fine, add the yolks of two raw eggs, and beat for two minutes.

HOT CAKES

E. L. C., Pasadena, Cal. This is the same recipe which you had of Mr. Wyman. Stir into a bowl two cupfuls of sifted flour, sifted with four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, half a teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of sugar, make a well in the center. Break into it two well-beaten eggs, add three-quarters of a cupful of milk and beat until smooth; beat with a wire egg beater, add two teaspoonfuls of melted butter and beat for five minutes; drop by spoonfuls onto a hot well-oiled griddle.

GINGERBREAD

Miss N., Los Angeles, Cal.: One-half a cupful of shortening or butter, one-half a cupful of brown sugar, one cupful of molasses, two and one-half cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of baking soda, two teaspoonfuls of ginger, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half a teaspoonful of salt, two eggs, three-quarters of a cup of boiling water, cream the shortening, cream into it the sugar, add the molasses and beat well. Then add the beaten eggs, sift the flour, soda, salt, cinnamon, and ginger together, and add alternately with the boiling water. Place in an oiled and floured baking tin and bake in a moderate oven for thirty-five minutes.

EGG NOGG PIE

W. J. T., Los Angeles, Cal.: One and one-fourth cupfuls of milk, the yolks of three eggs, two whole eggs, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one tablespoonful of cold water, one cupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of gelatine, one-half a teaspoonful of nutmeg, one tablespoonful of brandy flavoring, scald the milk, beat the egg yolks and whole eggs together, beat into them the cornstarch and sugar; pour the scalded milk over them, place in the double boiler, stir and cook slowly until the mixture is thick, soften the gelatine in the cold water, and add it to the custard, stir until dissolved, remove from the fire, add the nutmeg and flavoring and fold in one stiffly beaten egg white. Pour into a baked pie shell top with whipped cream and dust with nutmeg.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

GRANDPARENTS CAUSE GRIEF

Some of the most pathetic letters we read are from young mothers who are being torn this way and that, in an attempt to rear their children in the way doctors and child psychologists of today are advising, yet still keep peace with the usually disapproving older generation.

From experience, we have one word of advice for the young mother. Don't make the first mistake of turning the baby over to grandmother just because you want to run out and be free of baby's care, and then demur when grandmother spoils the child, feeds him wrongly, and, as will inevitably happen sooner or later, turns this domineering, spoiled child over to the mother, saying, "I can't do a thing with him, now it's your turn."

The first step is so easy to take. Young mothers are so unsure of their own opinions. They are so ready and willing to listen to their elders, and when they find that things don't work out, they alone must take all the corrective steps. The adults are willing enough to spoil the child, but are never willing to do the subsequent disagreeable work that will undo what they have done.

GRANDPARENTS CAN'T RESIST

It is absolutely natural for grandparents to spoil their grandchildren. Even if grandmother disciplined her own children and showed them what was what, she is weak as water with her grandchild. She is also sure to feel that her daughter, who may be no sterner than she was, is too harsh with the child. She pities the baby for being put to bed in a dark room because she loves to cuddle and rock him. She hates to have him cry when he is refused food from the table, so she sneaks him what she knows her daughter would not give him. The two generations are inevitably at cross-purposes. The grandmother has as her ally all the female adult relatives whether they have ever had children or not. The sternest disciplinarians who haven't an ounce of sympathy for the growing child are those who have never had a child to deal with, but are ready to tell the world what they would do if that child were theirs.

A mother cannot shed her responsibilities onto anyone's shoulders. She can't ask help of grandmother and then expect that grandmother will stick to all the details of regular hours and feeding that the young mother knows are so important. Only the two young parents concerned have one word to say in the matter of discipline. No one else has the least right to interfere or even criticise.

There is no doubt that if the young mother follows everyone's advice against her own judgment, whether it be in the matter of feeding or discipline or sleeping hours or what not, just as soon as results are unsatisfactory the relatives wash their hands of the child, "It's your baby, you have to take care of him." It is a wise mother who foresees that in advance and uses her own head, makes her own mistakes and knows what to do to correct them. It is an even wiser grandparent who has strength enough to say when the baby is born, "You alone are responsible for what this child is to be. You must learn how to take care of him. Don't depend upon me."

Organization-Wide STORE MANAGERS' contest

More Customers
Bigger Sales
Greater Savings

This week, all Safeway Store Managers are engaged in a contest to demonstrate their intense interest in their customers and their stores. Each of them will put forth extraordinary effort to give better service. Greater values will be found all over the store. The success of each man's efforts will be judged by the percentage of increase in number of customers served plus the percentage of increase in total sales. Each manager is engaged in this contest and hopes to win. Here are some of the inducements your local manager offers you to visit his store.

FOREIGN TRADE AIMS DETAILED

Efforts to Further State's Scope Told Club

Sacramento Council's Head Addresses Session

Commercial Envoy to Peru Lists Opportunities

Efforts to further California's foreign trade were detailed yesterday by Simon Lubin, president of the Sacramento Region Citizens' Council, Charles A. Cunningham, recently appointed American commercial attache at Lima, Peru, and Gov. Young, before the Foreign Trade Club of Southern California at the Chamber of Commerce. The Governor pointed out the aid that can be given the State's agricultural welfare by the development of foreign markets.

The Pan-American Reciprocal Trade Conference to be held in Sacramento from August 25 to 30, next, is being sponsored by the Council, which Mr. Lubin heads, and which is a federation of twenty-one Northern California counties. Mr. Lubin declared the Pan American meeting will be of State-wide significance.

In promoting trade with the Latin-American countries it is essential to study the characteristics of the people of those lands, Mr. Cunningham said. Also it is necessary to have a definite knowledge of what those countries produce and to take cognizance of the fact that Latin-American industrial development is increasing a buying power that affords an expanding field for American manufactured products, notably machinery, automobiles and the like, he said. Latin-American countries are now carrying on a $450,000,000 road-building program, Mr. Cunningham said, and he attributes this largely to the increased use of automobiles. He emphasized the importance of The Times' Midwinter edition in promoting California's welfare. Mr. Cunningham formerly was American commercial attache at Madrid and also at Havana.

Clarence H. Matson, manager of the chamber's foreign commerce and shipping department, presided and declared that the keynote of California's foreign trade economics is not a restriction of production but the establishing of foreign markets.

George C. Peck, American commercial attache at Panama City; Herbert B. Van Blarcom, recently appointed assistant trade commissioner to Sydney, Australia; Maj. Lanagan, United States district engineer here; C. O. Simmons, consulting engineer, who was chief inspector during the construction of the Panama Canal; Henry C. Niese, Argentine Vice-Consul here; G. B. Kirker, Near West representative for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; H. L. Cavendish, representative in China for the Gilmore Oil Company, and Fred A. Hooper of the American - Hawaiian Steamship Company, were presented.

PICKFORD ESTATE LEVY PROCEEDINGS CONCLUDE

The government's verification hearing of statements entered in support of returns filed by Mary Pickford in connection with the Federal inheritance tax against the $1,100,000 estate of her mother, Charlotte Pickford Smith, was completed yesterday. A session that lasted several hours in the offices of field agents of the United States Internal Revenue Bureau at 728 South Hill street, ended the formal procedure, according to Kenneth E. Grant of the firm of Mott, Vallee & Grant, attorneys for Miss Pickford.

Whether the hearing resulted in a general substantiation, to the government's satisfaction, of the contentions supporting the actress's filed returns or whether the field agents fixed a tax in excess of the amount already filed was not disclosed. The estate-tax division of the Internal Revenue Bureau is bound to maintain secrecy in connection with all matters within its jurisdiction, although an attorney for a taxpayer is not barred from disclosing facts adduced at a hearing. Attorney Grant said no decision had been announced, even if reached, by James F. Corsan, chief estate-tax officer of the San Francisco division, and F. I. Lyon, chief local estate-tax agent, who conducted the hearing.

A verification hearing, such as was accorded Miss Pickford, is a part of governmental routine, the agents pointed out, and is conducted shortly after the filing of returns by the executor or executrix of every estate involving property valued at more than $100,000. It is the government's method of accepting evidence that the returns are accurate and does not imply falsification.

According to Attorney Grant, an announcement of the government's findings may be forthcoming within a few days. The agents' decision is expected to dispose of the question, believed to have been made an issue by Miss Pickford, as to whether a trust fund is taxable by the government. Earlier in the week, in obtaining a deduction in the State inheritance tax, the actress advanced the claim that the major part of her mother's estate consisted of a trust fund created out of money earned by Miss Pickford and given to her mother.

HENRY MAY, AUTO CHIEF, GUEST HERE

Pierce Arrow Executive Joins Other Industry Leaders for Sojourn

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Jan. 16.—Arrival of Henry May of Buffalo, chief executive of the Pierce Arrow Automobile Company, augmented the colony of automobile men at the Hotel Huntington today. Mr. and Mrs. May arrived this morning in a private car attached to the Southern Pacific's Golden State Limited.

A. Von Schlegell of Detroit, former executive vice-president of the Hupmobile Company, accompanied by Mrs. Schlegell and their daughter, registered at the Huntington yesterday. They came here direct from the New York automobile show.

Other men prominent in the automobile industry who are guests at the local hotel are George M. Holley and C. H. Foster.

When the motor-car industry was in its infancy, Mr. Foster, then a young inventor whose special hobby was music, was playing in a village band in Ohio. It occurred to him that a musical warning signal for automobiles would sell, so he invented the Gabriel automobile horn. Later he invented the Gabriel snubber and added more millions to the profits of his concern.

NEW ANGELUS SENSATION NEAR

Rev. Gladwyn N. Nichols for Mrs. Crawford through private channels and the authorities thus far have been ignored. In substance, the letters written by Mrs. Kennedy, during the estrangement from her daughter in 1928, charged that "a big blond man who traveled with Sister" was the silent commander of temple affairs and that members of the temple board were merely a "set of tin soldiers."

NICHOLS QUIT IN HUFF

Mr. Nichols, former bandmaster at Angelus Temple, who left the organization in a huff two years ago and founded the Church of Philadelphia at 123 North Lake street yesterday divulged that the originals of the Crawford-Kennedy correspondence are still in his possession, but he permitted the private interests to have photostatic copies under the apprehension they were to be presented to the District Attorney.

While Dep. Dist.-Atty. Beecher refused either to affirm or deny the receipt of the letters by his office, it was learned from other sources that the communications never have been turned over to the authorities and, moreover, that an investigator has been instructed to obtain them as soon as possible. This information was confirmed by Dist.-Atty. Fitts, who denied all knowledge of the letters, saying: "They have not been handed to me and I have not heard of any of them being given to any of my investigators." Beecher, however, evinced an interest in the contents of the letters, but declared he will not reveal them because of the possibility that they may be used as evidence in the future in event criminal charges be filed.

READY TO CO-OPERATE

Mr. Nichols last night announced his willingness to co-operate with the authorities in their investigation and supply the names of other temple attaches who, he said, can give sensational testimony regarding the conduct of temple affairs. He will do this, he declared, "provided the authorities are interested." The pastor lives at 214 North Alvarado street.

The present serenity of the McPherson household was undisturbed last night by the letters, investigations and what-not. While the evangelist prepared for the night's sermon in one room, Mrs. Kennedy came there from a missionary conference she was having in another room, and before her daughter explained her position.

Mrs. Kennedy admitted authorship of the letters, but that had all been gone over in the recent reconciliation between the two and forgotten, she said.

THAT'S WORTH MILLIONS

"And now what of it?" she inquired as she returned to her conference. "Merely old enmities aroused again."

"If mother did write the letters," Mrs. McPherson said, "I am sure she don't feel that way. Perhaps they were written from the perspective of the moment. Anyhow, let 'em whoop it up. It's good publicity for us and the temple. Every shot worth $1,000,000—and I hope they keep shooting."

Mrs. Crawford, recipient of the letters brought to light, is a former member of the temple and was associated closely with Mrs. Kennedy before the latter left following a "break" with Mrs. McPherson. She bared the letters, according to Pastor Nichols, because she "felt that it was the only Christian thing to do in light of the return of Mrs. Kennedy to a place she herself had said was a place of sin and wickedness."

LETTER QUOTED

"All that was talked about was business and a lot about money matters," one of the letters is asserted to have read in part. "Nothing about God nor a word of prayer, nor a word of regret that she had betrayed her own mother that she owes all she had to! What I would like to know is: Have the people no spunk to clear up the situation? Surely, they must see through it all. And her trying to mortgage the temple after my giving my very life to get it out of debt . . . I should think the real men and women know the truth is that she used her mother as a drudge for her all through the years, till I had brought her to the top. Then that she had planned the most vicious scheme, trying to ruin me, body and soul, rather than I should have a friend or a penny."

HOUSE STRIPPED BY BURGLARS

Even Curtains Taken From Windows of Home in Walnut Park

Burglars who invaded the home of Mrs. Marion Hudson, 2624 Live Oak street, Walnut Park, last Wednesday and carried away practically everything movable from ash tray stands to wax flowers and curtains, yesterday were hunted by deputy sheriffs.

Officers reported finding a hand ax in the house which presumably was forgotten by the burglars. Mrs. Hudson's home was robbed in a similar manner several months ago, according to the report.

Jewish Women Plan Reception

More than 300 members of Jewish sisterhoods of Southern California are expected to attend a reception at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Temple Israel, 1738 Ivar street, Hollywood, in honor of Mrs. Maurice Steinfeld of St. Louis, national president of Temple Sisterhoods.

Among prominent women who will be heard in addresses, in addition to Mrs. Steinfeld, are Miss Edna Goldsmith of Cleveland, O., honorary president of the Ohio State Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, and Mrs. Jules Kaufman, honorary president of the California State Federation. Addresses also will be given by the presidents of the various sisterhoods of the Southland.

"Censorship," an address dealing with the rights of religious organizations to "limit the public taste in matters artistic," will be discussed by Rabbi Isadore Isaacson at Temple Israel this evening.

CORESPONDENT FACES PUBLICATION SERVICE

Because process servers cannot find Mrs. George A. Lamb, correspondent in the suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Carolyn M. Ware against Henry Ware, downtown department-store manager, Court Commissioner Cruse yesterday ordered Mrs. Lamb served by publication. Mrs. Lamb is referred to in the complaint as Anna Mae Corrigan Lamb, and May Lamb. She formerly lived at 744 South Catalina street, it is asserted. Mrs. Ware states her husband has an income of $3000 a month, and asks for commensurate alimony.

PROTEST DATE SET

Protests will be heard February 28 against the ordinance of intention for the widening of Lincoln Boulevard from the northwestern city boundary to Venice Boulevard and the opening of Hickory street from One Hundred Second to One Hundred Third street. The City Council yesterday adopted these ordinances of intention.

PARROT FEVER TESTS MADE

Health Officers' Diagnosis on Three Suspected Cases Here Not Definite for Several Days

Definite diagnosis of the three suspected cases of psittacosis, or parrot disease, in the metropolitan area will not be possible until several more days have elapsed, both city and county health authorities said yesterday. Until more is learned from eastern authorities, of the bacteriology of this rare disease the diagnoses are being made by elimination, it was said. This means that the well-established tests for pneumonia and typhoid are being applied.

In view of the histories of all three cases, with the exposure of each patient to a South American parrot and the presence in each patient of the dual typhoid and pneumonia symptoms, the health authorities said they will be convinced that the disease in each case is psittacosis if the tests eliminate the possibility of its being either typhoid or pneumonia.

WILL WATCH DEALERS

Meanwhile, Dr. George M. Stevens, chief epidemiologist of the city health department, and Dr. R. V. Stone, chief bacteriologist of the county department, will attempt definitely to isolate the bacillus of psittacosis in the bloom samples taken from each patient.

Dr. Pomeroy said that as a precautionary measure to prevent any spread of the disease in this territory, the county health department will maintain close supervision over establishments which are selling parrots recently imported from South America.

The case which is being observed by the city health authorities is that of Mrs. Emma Surry, colored seamstress of Watts, who was employed by Mrs. Lena Pepperdine, wealthy resident of this city who is in a Honolulu hospital suffering from a disease believed to be psittacosis. Dr. Charles Barton, assistant health officer in charge of the Watts district, reported yesterday that her condition still is critical.

NO EPIDEMIC PERIL

The other two suspected cases are those of Mrs. B. O. Johnson of Alhambra and Mrs. A. H. Stewart of Mar Vista, who is in the San Monica Hospital. Dr. W. S. Mortensen of that hospital declared yesterday he does not believe Mrs. Stewart's illness is psittacosis. It is his opinion, he said, that she has pneumonia and has an excellent chance for recovery.

City Health Officer Parrish said he does not think the public should be alarmed by the presence of the few suspected cases in the county, as they are under quarantine and the past history of the disease's occurrence scarcely indicates any possibility of its ever reaching epidemic proportions. This statement was concurred in by Dr. Pomeroy.

The condition of Mrs. Pepperdine was reported as still critical in a cablegram received yesterday by her brother, Hal R. Baker, vice-president of the Western Auto Supply Company.

ELECTRICAL CONVENTION ENDS TODAY

Power Chief's Address Highlight of Sessions of Coast Association

Two hundred leading technical men of the electrical industry today will conclude a three-day meeting of the enineggering section of the Pacific Coast Electrical Association. Sessions are held in the main office building of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

One of the highlights of the gathering was the luncheon meeting at the City Club yesterday, which was addressed by E. B. Criddle, president of the Southern Sierras Power Company and of the Pacific Coast Electrical Association.

Approximately $865,000,000 will be added during 1930 to the capital investment represented by the utility part of the electrical industry, Mr. Criddle said. The capital investment already totals more than $11,000,000,000, the speaker said.

Mystery Story by Mrs. Ford Wins Laurels

"Card 13," a Hollywood mystery story by Lillian C. Ford, literary critic of The Times, in collaboration with Mark Lee Luther, has been named the February selection of the Detective Story Club, it was learned yesterday. The story is laid in Hollywood and concerns the mysterious murder of a prominent scenario writer, with suspicion directed against an outstanding actress of the screen.

The Detective Story Club consists of critics who are avid readers of mystery stories, and the board of judges includes Robert H. (Bob) Davis, editor; Edmund Lester Pearson, Carolyn Wells, Frederick F. Van De Water and Francis L. Wellman.

Mrs. Ford, in addition to being literary critic of The Times, is a coauthor with her husband, Thomas C. Ford, of "Foreign Trade of the United States." Her collaborator, Luther, is author of a number of successful novels, including "The Clean Up," "The Boosters," "The Hope Chest" and "Introducing Jane McRae."

Suicide Found Beneath Auto

Crawling beneath his automobile in the garage at his home, 1906 East Main street, Compton, Carl Beese, 50 years of age, yesterday killed himself by firing a bullet through his head, according to a report made to the Sheriff's office.

Beese was found by his wife, Mrs. Clara Beese, who first thought he had gone to repair the car. On seeing him lying prone on the ground she believed him a victim of carbon monoxide gas and summoned Jack Curran, service station operator. He found Beese had shot himself through the right temple, according to the report.

The man had been suffering from ill health and previously had threatened to take his own life, the report stated.

BOY'S WOUND CAUSED BY FELLOW-STUDENT

Inspection of police records yesterday revealed that Ralph O. Beck, 17 years of age of 921 La Jolla street, did not shoot himself, as first reported. The Hollywood police report that the rifle, which was discharged accidentally, was held by Charles Faulkner of 852 North Harvard Boulevard. Both youths were in the armory of Fairfax High School, where they are members of the R.O.T.C. They were cleaning rifles when one discharged, a .22-caliber bullet striking Beck's right arm.

COURT CHEATED BY DEATH

Man Accused of Shooting Wife Dies Before His Hearing

John McManus, 64 years of age, accused of assault with intent to murder his 29-year-old wife, died as the result of a heart attack brought on by that assault, Attorney Arthur C. Webb declared yesterday in Municipal Judge Ambrose's court, where McManus was scheduled to appear for preliminary hearing on the charge. When Webb submitted a copy of McManus's death certificate, Judge Ambrose ordered the charge dismissed.

According to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Russell, the shooting occurred in an apartment at 916 Georgia street on October 27, last, as a result of jealousy. The couple, married six years, have a 5-year-old son. Mrs. McManus's condition is still serious from a bullet wound under her heart, Russell said.

[illegible] Cagers Out to Defeat California Five in Two-Game Series at Berkeley

[illegible] a flying start gained toward an initial Coast Conference championship, the Bruin basketball team leaves for Oakland tonight to meet [illegible]-at-Berkeley squad tomorrow night in the Oakland Auditorium. Coach Caddy Works of U.C.L.A. believes that the contest is the [illegible] one for the Bruins this year and has prepared for it.

CARL KNOWLES

[illegible] fans are rooting [illegible] the Bruins to win their first championship in a major [illegible] since they entered the [illegible] competition of [illegible] "big top" two years ago. [illegible] local university has captured several Coast crowns in minor sports, but the nearest it ever came to a major sport title was two years ago when the Bruin cagers tied with California for second place in the basketball race.

Fifteen men are being taken on the trip to Oakland by Coach Works, although it is highly probable that nearly half of them will do nothing but warm the bench and shoot baskets between halves. Capt. Larry Wilds, star forward and basket shooter, heads the squad, the other players making the trip being Dick Von Hagen, Erwin (Tiny) Piper, Jimmy Soest, Dave Graham and Bill Gilbert, forwards; Carl Knowles, Ted Palmer and Wilbur, centers; and Frank (Stringy) Lubin, Carl Shy, "Howie" Roberts, Hal Smith, Dave Williams and Carl Brown, the 200-pound tackle and captain on the Bruin football eleven last fall.

Caddy Works is afraid that his men will suffer from overconfidence against Nibs Price's Bears, so he has been drum-

TROJANS WON'T ELECT GRID CAPTAIN

MOST VALUABLE MAN

Russ Saunders, star Trojan quarterback, who wound up his intercollegiate football career with a dazzling performance against Pittsburgh in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day, last night was awarded the Davis-Teschke medal at the annual football dinner. The award is made annually to the player who is voted by the players to have been the most valuable performer, and the most inspiration to his team during the season.

RUSS SAUNDERS IS NAMED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

Troy's Star Quarterback Awarded Davis-Teschke Medal; Jones to Name Captain for Each Game

BY BRAVEN DYER

The University of Southern California football team will be without a regular captain for the 1930 season. Such was the decision of Trojan players last night as they gathered at the Biltmore Hotel for election of a leader.

Howard Jones, Southern California coach, will appoint a temporary captain prior to each game next fall. At the end of the season the varsity players will elect the man who, in their estimation, is then best entitled to the honor accorded a captain.

HOWARD JONES

The vote was 18 to 11 in favor of such procedure last night, the players balloting prior to the annual Varsity Club football banquet. This is the plan which Jones himself had favored, but the Trojan mentor had no hand in the decision as made by his players.

At the same time Russ Saunders, brilliant quarterback of the 1929 eleven, was selected as the most valuable man on the team, his teammates honoring him with the Teschke-Davis medal. Saunders was the unanimous choice of his fellow-players.

In 1925, Jones's first year at Southern California, a captain was appointed prior to each game. Fay Thomas, who had been elected to the position in 1924, was declared ineligible, and Jones inaugurated the plan at that time. Hobbs Adams, end, was finally named captain, after having been Jones's choice in every game.

Last night's banquet was presided over by Hugh C. Willet, chairman of the faculty-athletic committee, with Warren Bovard, vice-president of the university, as toastmaster.

OAKLAND PUCKS EASILY DOWN HOLLYWOOD, 5 TO 1

Oakland's league-leading ice hockey team ran wild in the first five minutes of the third period to trounce the Hollywood Millionaires, 5 to 1, last night. The Sheiks had gained a 2-1 lead in the first two periods, but hung up three more tallies in the first five minutes of the third chapter. About 5000 fans, the largest crowd of the season, witnessed the encounter.

In this wild scoring spree, Georgie Bond, flashy little defense star, passed to Vokes and later to Sandercock for goals, while "Bud" Cook, the belligerent forward, took a pass from Vokes for another goal.

Thereafter the Oaks went strictly on the defense, and Hollywood was unable to slide anything past Goalie Hec Fowler.

TROJANS PLAY CARD QUINTET

Rivals Seek to Remain in Race for Honors

Mortensen May be Seen in Local Line-up

Stanford Capable of Pulling Surprise Tonight

Sam Barry's University of Southern California basketball team makes its local debut against Pacific Coast Conference competition at the Shrine Auditorium tonight. The Trojans encounter Husky Hunt's Stanford tossers in the first of a two-game series, the second encounter being billed for tomorrow evening on the same floor and at the same hour, 8 o'clock.

SAM BARRY

Barry's boys started the season last week by splitting two games with California, winner of the title last year. This is a pretty fair start for the Trojans, inasmuch as California always has a strong team, and is always hard to beat on her home floor.

But that 62-to-30 beating which U.C.L.A. handed Stanford here last Saturday night has the dopesters guessing. The Bruins can't be that much better than Stanford. If they are, then neither California nor Southern California can trim Caddy Works's team. As this writer looks at it, the high score was brought about by the uncanny ability of the Bruins to hit the net, plus Stanford's inability to do anything right. U.C.L.A. just had a "hot" night; Stanford a bad one. Hunt's team, with a flock of veterans, can't possibly be as bad as that score indicates.

The Trojans will probably find this out tonight. Such players as Red Berg, Johnny McCandless, Harlow Rothert, Vance Fawcett and this little fellow Tyler are good basketballers, and if the Trojans take their task lightly this evening they'll wind up on the short end of things.

Coach Barry is hopeful that Jess Mortensen will be able to take his place in the line-up for at least a short time tonight. Were Jess in good shape, the Trojans would just about waltz away with Coast honors. As it is, Barry's team needs Mortensen rather badly, but for the time being Jess's injured shoulder prevents him from playing regularly.

Mortensen hurt his wing, the left one, in the New Year's Day grid game with Pittsburgh, and the injury has held him back on the court. He may appear for a short time tonight.

Frank Smith, elongated junior, has been playing great ball at center for the Trojans, and Jack Gardiner, forward, has proved himself another effective scoring unit. So far Coach Barry hasn't found a third man who is capable of teaming with these two effectively.

Every team in the conference but U.C.L.A. has lost one game. It seems unlikely that the winner of the southern division will be undefeated this year, unless the Bruins are able to maintain that sizzling pace they flashed against Stanford a week ago. Therefore, both the Trojans and Cards are very desirous of winning tonight.

Offer Walker $60,000 for Dundee Bout

NEWARK (N. J.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Nick Kline, boxing promoter, today announced he had telegraphed Jack Kearns, manager of Mickey Walker, an offer of $60,000 guarantee for a bout here between Walker and Vince Dundee, for the middleweight championship of the world. Walker is in Los Angeles. The bout would take place June 4.

SIMMONS DRIVES IN MOST RUNS

A's Clean-up Man Clouts Home 157 Scores; Ruth is Next With 154

BY PAUL R. MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (AP)—Al Simmons performed his duty as clean-up man for the champion Philadelphia Athletics in championship style last season, leading the circuit in the important business of batting in runs, official 1929 averages revealed today.

AL SIMMONS

The heavy swinging Philadelphian participated in 143 games and drove in 157 of the 901 runs scored all season by Connie Mack's team. Thirty-four times he scored himself by home runs and came home with eighty more through the assistance of his mates.

Babe Ruth, playing eight less games than Simmons, was second with 154. The Bambino tied with his Yankee teammate, Lou Gehrig, for the honor in 1928 with 142.

Simmons and Ruth were the only two American League batsmen to drive in an average of one or more runs a game during 1929. Dale Alexander, husky Detroit rookie, finished third by driving in 137 runs in 155 games, while Gehrig was next, sending 126 runs across in 154 games. Other leaders and the number of runs they batted in were: Heilmann, Detroit, 120; Foxx, Philadelphia, 117; Kress, St. Louis, 107; Gehringer, Detroit, 106; Lazzeri, New York, 106, and Fonseca, Cleveland, first baseman, who won the American League batting championship, 103.

The best harvester of bases on balls for 1929 was Max Bishop of the Athletics. Bishop became so particular at what he swung at that he was given 128 passes to first base in 129 games. Lou Blue of St. Louis was second with 126 bases on balls in 151 games. Gehrig got 122 free passes and Foxx worked the pitchers for 103, many of them unintentional. Ruth, who has been honored for years with 100 or more free passes to finish each season, and who holds the record with 170, received but seventy-two in 135 games in 1929.

Joe Sewell retained his title as the hardest man in the American League to strike out, tying his own

PANTHERS GIVE GRID SCHEDULE FOR FALL

Although California Christian College did not secure admittance into the Southern California Conference when that body met last week, the accompanying football schedule for next fall shows that the Panthers received courteous treatment at the hands of the graduate managers and coaches, according to statements from Coach Ralph Welch and the college promotion department.

The athletic committee of Christian College was notified yesterday by Mr. Russell, conference secretary, that the vote was "not to enlarge the conference at the present time." At the same time, according to Mr. Russell, "more than one conference member expressed the hope that, because of your fine sportsmanship and worthy competition in the past, if the conference is ever enlarged California Christian College will be given a place in it."

The Panther athletic committee today gave out the statement that, as far as Christian College is concerned, they will still continue to observe the freshman rule when meeting Southern California Conference teams, and that the college will continue to go ahead with the development of an athletic program worthy of the existing high standards of the school.

The Panthers will play eight games next fall, only one of which, the La Verne game, will be played in Los Angeles. On their only open date the Panthers are negotiating with an Arizona team for a game to be played in Phoenix. The schedule follows:

September 27—Fresno State (night game.)
October 4—Santa Barbara State (night game.)
October 11—San Diego State.
October 18—Whittier (may be night game.)
October 25—Bye.
November 1—Caltech (Rose Bowl.)
November 8—La Verne (Los Angeles.)
November 15—Redlands (may be night game.)
November 22—Open.

AZTECS TO PLAY SAGEHENS

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 16. — Coach Morris Gross' San Diego State College basketeers will make their 1930 Southern California Conference debut at Claremont Saturday night against the strong Pomona Sagehens. Veterans on the Aztec squad are Capt. Harry Renwolde and Jack Hoheisel, forwards, and Charlie Smith and Jimmy Hildreth, guards.

The Staters expect a tough battle with the Sagehens who thumped the Caltech Engineers last week. Gross today announced the following players will make the journey, leaving here at noon Saturday:

Forwards, Ossie Ritland, Ralph Smith, Hoheisel, Renwolde, Al O'Day and Jimmy Deweese; centers, Jack Klaus and Don Bates; guards, Hildreth, Smith and Paul Yamamoto.

Three other San Diego quintets will travel north Saturday, the undefeated Y.M.C.A. aggregation invading Whittier; San Diego High School's varsity journeying to Long Beach and the San Diego Athletic Club going to Hollywood.

PANTHERS DENY FIST FIGHT

Reports of Strife in Pittsburgh Grid Squad Are Cried Down by Coach and Players

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—The charge that weakened morale caused by all-American jealousy, ticket speculation and a fist fight, was responsible for Pitt's overwhelming defeat in the Rose Bowl game, New Year's Day, was denied by Dr. John B. Sutherland, head football coach at Pitt, and members of the team today.

The charge, made in an eastern newspaper article, set forth that Toby Uansa and Pug Parkinson, outstanding backfield men on the Panther eleven had resented favors shown Joe Donchess and Ray Montgomery, Pitts' all-American stars on the trip. According to the article Donchess and Montgomery were swamped by photographers and reporters during the trip while Uansa and Parkinson were neglected which, the article states, caused them to make disparaging remarks about the all-American players and generally created general dissension among the members of the team.

JOCK SUTHERLAND

The ticket speculation charge, the article went on to say, grew out of ticket sales made in California. Before every game each player is given an allotment of tickets, in this case two for use by their relatives and friends. It was said that before the Panthers left certain members of the team purchased most of the tickets from teammates at $5 each and resold them after they reached Pasadena for $25. This was said to have resulted in a fist fight. The newspaper article did not disclose names of participants in the alleged fisticuffs.

In making his denial, the first since numerous rumors have been circulated concerning the Pitt players' conduct on the trip and in the game Sutherland said that all the charges are untrue.

"The photographers tried to make all-American players of my entire team," Sutherland said. "Every time we stopped on the trip out not one or two, but all the players, were lined up for pictures. If there had

Berg Tackles Canzoneri in New York Bout

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—The field of prominent lightweights clamoring for a title shot at Sammy Mandell will be reduced by one in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night, where Jack Kid Berg, perpetual-motion Englishman, meets Tony Canzoneri in a ten-round feature match.

TONY CANZONERI

The winner is scheduled to box Al Singer, the Bronx beauty, later this season. The latter match is expected to produce a challenger for Mandell in the first major open-air show of the summer season in May at one of the major league ball parks.

Due to the new ruling of the New York State Athletic Commission permitting a champion to fight once overweight for each title defense, Bat Battalino, new featherweight king from Hartford, may slide into the lightweight competition as an added starter.

Negotiations are under way to pit Battalino against Singer in a non-title fray that would precede a championship test between the Connecticut youngster and Kid Chocolate, Cuban sensation, here in March. If victorious in both contests Battalino would gain the right to tackle Mandell in the first meeting of two division champions here since Mickey Walker fought Harry Greb in 1925.

CALLAHAN WINS KNOCKOUT BOUT

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 16.—Mushy Callahan, junior welterweight champion, who has hopes of climbing back into big-time competition, started his campaign here tonight by knocking out Alfonso Gonzales, a local performer, in five rounds. Callahan outboxed his rival, and finally punched him into oblivion.

COMPTON FIVES WIN

In two basketball games played yesterday at the Compton High School gym the Compton Class C and D teams were returned victorious. The Compton Class C team defeated Venice High, 34 to 21, and the Class D five tripped the Venice team, 21 to 14.

AGUA CALIENTE COURSE IN FINE SHAPE—DIEGEL

Banner Field Expected for $1000 Tourney at La Jolla; Pairings Announced for Rich Event

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Lured by the pleasant jingle of $25,000 worth of round American dollars, not pesos, the greats and near greats of the golfing world, ninety-six strong, are following El Camino Real southward into Agua Caliente.

A short stop-over at La Jolla tomorrow for a purse of $1000—and then Agua Caliente.

LEO DIEGEL

"Larruping" Leo Diegel dashed southward immediately after the Los Angeles $10,000 open and last night wired the following good news:

"Agua Caliente, Baja, California, Mexico, January 16.—I arrived here this morning in company with Billy Bell and just completed thorough inspection of the golf course, and am delighted at the condition in which I find it.

"Unless in the meantime there should be a perfect deluge it will be in very good shape to start play in tournament next Monday, January 20, and if we get a couple of days' sunshine it will be perfect. The sun is shining here now with no apparent indication of rain.

"LEO DIEGEL."

Leo's wire was chased into the office by Mister A. H. (Ollie) Painter, in person, who charged into the sports sanctum after a whirlwind trip from Agua Caliente to verify the wire, word for word. Ollie claims that the weather is positively perfect across the border and that a middlin' fair wind is drying the course out at a great rate.

Although the border field has been limited to eighty-four professionals and twelve amateurs, just about everybody who is anybody at all has been included. Only one doubting Thomas, Mr. Tommy Armour, will not be present. Tommy labored under the impression that the tournament would be called off, and returned East to take up a job in Florida.

FEATURES THREESOMES

Agua Caliente officials also announced that a few more entries may be accepted, as not all exempt golfers are now on the Coast.

Feature threesomes for the border championship follow:

9:06—Macdonald Smith, Craig Wood, Henry Ciuci.
9:12—Johnny Farrell, Fay Coleman, Tom Kerrigan.
9:18—Horton Smith, Joe Turnesa, Mortie Dutra.
9:36—Leo Diegel, Fred McLeod, Al Espinosa.
9:42—Gene Sarazen, Neil Christian, Densmore Shute.
9:48—Ed Dudley, Billy Burke, Walter Hagen.
9:45—Bill Mehlhorn, Charles Guest, George Von Elm.

The Agua Caliente course will be officially opened Sunday, when the competing pros and amateurs will be allowed one practice round before the tournament.

PAIRINGS ANNOUNCED

Practically all of the pros plan to play at La Jolla. As a feature of that tournament, Densmore Shute, 1930, Los Angeles open champion; MacDonald Smith, 1928-29 champion, and Bobby Cruickshank, 1927 winner, are scheduled to tee off at 11:42.

Pairings and starting times were announced yesterday for both tournaments as follows:

world's record of four strikeouts in 152 games. "Mickey" Cochrane of the Athletics struck out but eight times in 135 games, while Sam Rice of Washington whiffed only nine times in 150 contests.

Jimmy Foxx, possessing a hit or nothing complex, was the easiest man to strike out among the regular batsmen, churning the air seventy times or two more than Gehrig and ten more than Ruth.

Dykes of Philadelphia, Schang of St. Louis and Reeves of Boston were hit by pitched balls seven times each during the season. As a club, St. Louis received the most bases on balls, 589, while the Yankees struck out collectively 518 times.

OAKLAND PUCKS VICTORS, 5 TO 1

wooders off in front in the first period when he took a pass from Dan Carrigan and slapped the punk into the net for the first goal of the game.

Midway in the same period Lanksbury, Hollywood defense man, got his eye in the way of Bond's stick and found his eyebrow dangling out in the frigid air. After first-aid treatment, however, Lanksbury returned to the ice in the second period and played nice hockey.

The Oaklanders tied it up in the second period when Capt. Stevens skated all by himself through the Millionaire defense and shot one from the blue line. Before the Hollywooders had recovered from their surprise, Bud Cook broke through the locals' defense and passed to Vokes, who plunked in another goal after colliding with Carrigan in front of the net.

TROJANS WON'T PICK CAPTAIN

the Tournament of Roses Association, was present at the speakers' table. He made a short speech, complimenting Jones and his team on their fine showing against Pittsburgh and then personally presented each Trojan who played in the game with a gold football. Other Tournament of Roses officials present included J. J. Mitchell, past president, and Mr. McDonald.

W. D. Stephens, former Governor of California, was another guest.

Harry Lee Martin, a Trojan athlete of many, many years ago, entertained the large assemblage with his humorous introductions of stars of the past, including many players who performed thirty years back.

Bill Hunter, director of intercollegiate athletics, paid his respects to the Spartans for their loyalty during a hard season and followed this up with a few words of advice to the present freshmen, closing with a tribute to the departing seniors.

MARRAGAR LAUDED

Jones was the last speaker on the program. He gave Saunders credit for his brilliant playing in a difficult position and said:

"Russ could play on anybody's all-American team."

The popular Trojan mentor had a few words of tribute for the departing captain, Nate Barragar, saying: "Some of the greatest games of football I have ever seen were played by Nate Barragar. He is a real man."

Jones gave credit to the "unseen heroes of his line," including Galloway, Hoff and Anthony and also mentioned Harry Edelson as a player deserving of special mention.

President Von KleinSmid of the university and Waldo Throop, president of the varsity club, were also speakers.

CRUCIAL GAME FOR JEFFERSON

Democrats Get Real Test With Toilers Today

Lincoln Meets Bruin Frosh in Practice Tilt

Roman Cagers Favored Over Hollywood Five

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Coach (Ching) Duhm's Jefferson Democrats get their first crucial test in their quest for the major city basketball title this afternoon, when the Manual Arts Toilers travel over to Jefferson for the feature game of the fourth round of play.

"CHING" DUHM

The Green and Orange casaba tossers have won all three of their league contests to date, turning back Hollywood, 24-18; Franklin, 29-25, and Poly, 12-8, and threaten to usurp Lincoln's claim on first place in the standings if they can drub Manual today.

Lincoln draws a bye in the league schedule, but Pop Bates, who believes in plenty of work for his basketball squad, has arranged a practice game with the U.C.L.A. freshmen five for this afternoon.

Lincoln has won eighteen straight games this season, but will be up against tough competition today as the Bruin frosh have a very powerful aggregation of cage artists.

Two other contests are scheduled for the fourth round of play, L.A. High traveling to Hollywood, while Franklin tangles with Poly on the Mechanics court.

The Roman-Redshirt struggle figures to be pretty closely contested, with the Blue and White boys having a slight edge. After a more or less mediocre start against Jefferson, Coach Bill Paige's squad won their next two games, nosing out Poly, 28-20, and running up the large score of 38-17 against Franklin.

The Romans have played only two league games, beating Manual, 32-22, and losing to Lincoln, 35-23. Last Tuesday, Coach Hemseth's five drew a bye and are planning to get back into the running for second place at least today.

The Panther-Poly affair will undoubtedly decide the cellar championship, with Franklin being a favorite to win that dubious honor.

MINOR CITY TEAMS IN FINAL ROUND TODAY

Finis will be written at the end of the Minor City League basketball season this afternoon, as the respective teams enter into the final round of play.

Fairfax and Roosevelt are playing in the top spot at Roosevelt. Garfield and Belmont will meet in the second major engagement at Garfield, while University is slated to travel to Fremont for their encounter with the Pathfinders.

Coach Ross Bowen's Fairfax Colonials have already cinched the championship, whether they win or lose. There is a prevailing feeling that if Roosevelt beats Fairfax and Belmont defeats Garfield, the Hilltoppers would tie the Colonials for the title. This is erroneous, however. Although it would mean that both teams would have won four games and lost one, the fact that Fairfax has already beaten Belmont would automatically give them the title.

With everything to gain and nothing to lose, the Rough Riders are likely to prove to be a very tough outfit against the Colonials. Secure in the knowledge that they have the pennant cinched, Fairfax is very apt to take the game too lightly and thus give the Rough Riders a chance to upset the dope. A victory over Fairfax by Roosevelt, while not looked for, has very good possibilities.

The Garfield-Belmont fracas should be the prize shindig of the year. The Hilltoppers are favored to win, but if the game is played on the Bulldogs' outdoor court it is certain that Belmont will not benefit by the subsequent happenings.

University will probably be playing their last Minor City League game, since they are scheduled to enter the San Fernando Valley League soon. A victory over Fremont would be a fitting manner in which to make their exit. Since neither team has displayed any outstanding ability this year, the game is a toss-up and should be exceedingly close and hard fought.

SAN PEDRO BABES TROUNCE REDONDO

The San Pedro Class C basketball team nosed out the Redondo midgets, 16 to 14, in a close, hard-fought contest played in the losers' gym yesterday. Starracucci and Wabarra scored all of the Pirates' points.

An interesting feature of the game was the manner in which Redondo scored its points. All but 2 of its total were made in the second quarter.

The San Pedro D team lost a 30-to-21 debacle to the Redondo paperweights in the preliminary game.

SAGEHENS LOSE SWAN

CLAREMONT, Jan. 16.—Walter Swan, Pomona varsity pole vaulter, announced today that he was leaving college at the end of the semester thereby depriving Pomona of plenty of points in the track meets to come. Swan was rapidly becoming a good pole vaulter having done 11ft. 9in. last year. He would have undoubtedly done well over 12ft. this year if he had stayed in school. This leaves Shorty Ingram the only returning veteran in this event.

Sinclair May Bring Racing Stable West

Harry Sinclair, multimillionaire oil man and owner of one of the biggest racing stables on the American turf, declared yesterday that he might bring a large part of his thoroughbred string here for the Agua Caliente meeting if a business merger he is working on goes through. Sinclair is the owner of the Rancocas stable, one of the best known in the racing game. His horses have won many of the big American stakes and purses during the past five years.

| L.A. Elks | 0 | 1 | .000 |

The Southern California A.A.U. cagers resume their battle for basketball supremacy tonight and tomorrow night with three games scheduled.

Tonight's clash, which takes place at Long Beach, brings together the strong Pacific Coast Club and the Los Angeles Elk quintets. Both teams lost their first-round games by slim margins and will be out for revenge. Coach Wally Stockton's Elks dropped a 41-40 overtime decision to the L.A.A.C., while Dick Rutherford's Coast Club five was nosed out, 38-31, by the Hollywood A.C. Both teams, however, are still very much in the running and their clash tonight should be a thriller. The Elks are depending on Capt. Meyers, Shrader and Bergner to pile up enough points to win, while Coast Club hopes are pinned on the brilliant shooting of Heckert, Bratton and Rowe.

Tomorrow's night's games will mark the debuts of the San Diego Athletic Club quintet, which tackles the Hollywood A.C. five in the Movie City gym., and the L.A. Y.M.C.A. basketeers, who play hosts to Coach Forrest Twogood's L.A.A.C. Mercuries.

Following is the A.A.U. circuit's revamped schedule:

PANTHER COACH DENIES FIGHTS

been any outward sign of jealousy among the boys I should have been the first to notice it. I was in the same cars with the team and it is one of the coach's most important duties to see that no dissension is stirred up among his men.

"The same thing applies to this fictitious fist fight. If it had occurred I should have known all about it. No such thing occurred. As for the charge of ticket speculation, I can see no reason for alarm because of the innocent practice the boys have of selling tickets to each other. Before all of our big games we distribute tickets among members of the team and some of the fellows usually sell their allotment to teammates.

"The practice caused no hard feelings before and I don't see why the Southern California game should have been an exception. The entire story sounds like just another groundless rumor to me."

Donchess and Parkinson denied knowledge of the fist fight or dissension on the team.

Shell Oilers Win Thriller

The Shell Oils defeated the Van Fleet-Durkee puckaters, 4 to 3, in a thrilling overtime ice hockey league game at the Palais de Glace last night. Buster Smith took a pass from Tiny Barr to score the winning goal two minutes and forty seconds after the second extra period opened.

Barr scored for Shell Oil in the first period, and in the second chapter, Crapper and Proulx put Van Fleet-Durkee ahead with two shots, only to have Smith even it up. Crapper tallied again in the third period, and Frenchy Hebert again knotted the count. There was no scoring in the first five-minute extra frame, but Smith tallied shortly after the opening of the second.

VENTURA, Jan. 16.—Ventura County's Basketball League opens tomorrow with Santa Paula at Fillmore, Ventura at Oxnard and Lancaster at Santa Barbara.

BRADDOCK AND LOMSKI CLASH

Light Heavies Mix Tonight in Chicago Arena

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive)—James J. Braddock and Leo Lomski, both of whom have been busy for several days reminding the Chicago public that each has defeated Tuffy Griffith, tomorrow night at the Coliseum will confine themselves to the business of trying to defeat each other.

They will be the headliners on Promoter Jack Dempsey's fifth fight card in Chicago.

Lomski still insists he will be the next light-heavyweight champion. Braddock will say farewell to that division to become a full-fledged heavy.

LOCAL FIREMEN WIN AND LOSE IN TOURNEY

The Los Angeles Fire Department handballers broke even in the recent tournament with the San Diego firemen, holders of the Southern California fire department handball championship. In the singles Alfred Spaeter of the local team was a four-bell alarm to Abe Cohen of San Diego, and won two straight games, 21-17 and 21-12.

In the doubles tournament San Diego won two games out of three. Oscar Bour and Frank Schram, Angelenos, succumbed to the San Diego team of Abe Cohen and Frank Daugherty by the score of 21-20, 19-21, 12-21. All matches were played in the Los Angeles Athletic Club gymnasium.

AIRPLANE SPIN EFFECTIVE

Marshall Intends to Use Pet Hold in Mat Tilt With Stasiak Wednesday Night

The "airplane spin," the wrestling hold with which Everett Marshall, new heavyweight sensation of the mat, crashed Joe Malcewicz into the mat with straight falls in less than a half hour's time in a spectacular mat in straight falls in less than a half hour's time in a spectacular youngster perfected when he took up wrestling more than six years ago.

At the Olympic Wednesday night he will attempt to maintain the reputation he established for himself by his victory over the Utican by tossing Stanley Stasiak, the giant 245-pound Pole, with the same airplane spin when they meet in one of the two best two out of three fall finish matches scheduled by "Carnation" Lou Daro. The other finish battle will bring together "Strangler" Lewis and Dick Daviscourt, a pair of the roughest grapplers in the game.

The airplane spin against Malcewicz proved as effective as Lewis's headlocks, Joe Stecher's body scissors or Champion Gus Sonnenberg's flying tackles. It has also proven as colorful as these three great holds, and it is the opinion of mat experts here that the overhead whirl may bring Marshall the world's mat title some day.

"I was taught the airplane spin while attending high school at La Junta in 1923," Marshall stated yesterday in discussing his winning grip. "My instructor was Pete Jordan, a great middleweight at that time. He was my wrestling teacher for the three years I attended high school and in that time he taught me considerable about wrestling, but only six wrestling holds. These were all 'pinning' holds.

"It was his theory to know a few grips, well. The airplane spin was the first he taught me and I have always considered it my best. I have yet to meet a wrestler, no matter how heavy, that I have not been able to snap above my head and whirl around and smash to the mat, as I did Malcewicz. I expect to beat Stasiak the same way next Wednesday night."

Ad Hermann and Al Bauffert will clash in the opener.

STETSON, MURDOCK TO HAVE RETURN MATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16. (AP)—A return match between Frankie Stetson, San Francisco junior welterweight, and Eddie Murdock, Tulsa, Oklahoma battler, heads the fight line-up for the next four weeks at Dreamland Auditorium here. Matchmaker Frank Schuler announced today. The two will meet on January 31.

BLACKHAWKS VICTORS BEFORE 16,000 FANS

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (Exclusive) The Chicago Blackhawks humbled the world champion Boston Bruins for the second time this season before more than 16,000 spectators, the greatest crowd ever to see a hockey game in an indoor arena, at the Stadium tonight. The score was 2 to 1, which the Hawks made in the finest hockey they've played this year, or any other year.

NEWPORT YACHTSMEN MOURN DEATH OF VETERAN MANAGER

Leon S. Heseman, commodore of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club, announced yesterday that out of respect to the memory of F. H. Shackelford, club manager for almost a decade, the formal inauguration of officers and directors of the club had been postponed. The inaugural banquet for 1930 was scheduled for tomorrow. Shackelford, famous as a host wherever yachtsmen congregated, passed away at the club on Sunday, and services were held Wednesday at Santa Ana.

A pair of hard-hitting featherweights fight the six-round special. Kid Ponce learned his fighting in the four-round days and still holds his own with the present preliminary crop. He should beat Mike Cordova in the special.

The four-rounders are Tony Liberto and Midget Wiswell, featherweights, in the second spot, and Wop Esposito and Cliff Barrier in the curtain-raiser.

Dog Derby for Youngsters to be Held Soon

Alaskan dog days are being brought to mind as miniature Southern California drivers mush out over the hills with wagons and sleds in preparation for the finals of the junior dog derby to be held February 1 at the Los Angeles county Big Pines Recreation Camp.

The derby is open to boys under 16 years of age, and is part of the Winter Sports Carnival being sponsored by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Lionel De Silva is conducting preliminaries with wagons at Inglewood, Thursday, the 23rd inst., where twenty-five dogs are anxious to cop the city championship and the right to represent Inglewood in the finals. Archie Nisbet is arranging preliminaries at Pomona, Don Holsinger at San Bernardino, Harold Pritchie, Hawthorne; Coach Spikes, Redondo; Art Lillibridge, Redlands; Coach Magnusson, Jefferson; Hal Gillis, Hermosa Beach; Coach Buxton, El Segundo.

There will be ten dogs in the final race, which will be held over a half-mile course with each dog pulling a sled. It will not be necessary for boys to ride the sleds during these races, but they will not be allowed to run ahead of the dogs.

Winners from each district will be selected to compete in the championships at Big Pines, where medals will be awarded for the first three places by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

ming the fact that they are not so "hot" as they think they are into the heads of his cagers. The Bruins defeated the Cardinals with such ease that the Westwooders may take it for granted that they are the class of the league. They took the Occidental Tigers on in a practice game in the Glendale High gymnasium last Tuesday night, and with second stringers playing the entire first half and part of the second, overwhelmed their opponents, 46 to 26, while the Bears were winning a close game from the Olympic Club quintet.

The U.C.L.A. team is now at the head of the standings, with one victory and no defeats. California and Southern California are tied for second with one game won and one game lost, as a result of splitting a double-header at Oakland last week-end. Stanford occupies the cellar position with no victories and one defeat.

Marengo Cops Border Event

AGUA CALIENTE, Jan. 16.—Marengo, 7-year-old gelding, carried the colors of W. C. Morris to victory in the sixth and major event of a featureless race card here this afternoon. Sunny skies and July warmth greeted the patrons though the racing strip was heavy. Marengo, though held in the early running, gained a five-lengths' lead over the field by the time they had gone half the journey of a mile and one sixteenths and won by two lengths over Fair Girl. Barrie Oliver got the show. The time was 1:54 3-5.

Results:

First race, five and one-half furlongs—Come Along (Hurlburt,) won; Dr. Charlie (Richardson,) second; High Win (Depeso,) third. Time, 1:11 2-5.

Second race, five and one-half furlongs—Bill Henry (Hurlburt,) won; Shasta King (Cleverley,) second; Manea (Teasdale,) third. Time, 1:12.

Third race, one-quarter of a mile—Millard (Teasdale,) won; Martha Mae (Colliletti,) second; Don Alvaro (Jones,) third. Time, 0:23 1-5.

Fourth race, five and one-half furlongs—Tom Nash (Brown,) won; Sunny Corn (McHugh,) second; Ida Fitzpatrick (Bertschey,) third. Time, 1:11 4-5.

Fifth race, seven furlongs — Portola (London,) won; Ourieda (Wolverton,) second; Maid O' The Storm (Mulrooney,) third. Time, 1:33.

Sixth race, mile and one-sixteenth—Marengo (Green,) won; Fair Girl (Cannon,) second; Barrie Oliver (Mulrooney,) third. Time, 1:54 3-5.

Seventh race, seven furlongs—Kidder (Bertscher,) won; All Shot (Collins,) second; Tecate (Luther,) third. Time, 1:32 4-5.

SOUTH PASADENA FIVE MEETS TERRIER TEAM

The South Pasadena High cagers will tangle with the Muir Tech basketeers tonight in the second game of the season in the Foothill League. A Class C game between the two schools will be played as a preliminary. The Tigers won their first game in the Foothill League, 28 to 9, while the Tech Terriers were losing a close battle to Herbert Hoover High, 33 to 35.

The Class B teams of South Pasadena and Muir Tech met yesterday on the Tiger floor, the Terriers taking a 17-to-13 verdict. Peters of Tech and Fiore of South Pasadena tied for high-point honors with 8 points each.

The Class B line-ups:

| Muir Tech (17) | | South Pasadena (13) |

BELMONT CEES SET LOW-SCORE RECORD

Scoring only twelve points in two games but winning them both is the record that has been hung up by the Belmont High Class "D" team. The midget Hilltoppers annexed the league title in their division, going through the season undefeated. Last Thursday the 105-pound squad of Belmont won a close game from Fremont by a 6-4 score; while yesterday the midgets defeated the Garfield squad by a 6-3 count to cinch the title.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

"LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD"

MR. GENE TUNNEY'S trip to the hospital the other day brought a former local athletic hero into the limelight —"Dixie" Fish. He was the gent who performed as head carver on the frame of the retired heavyweight champion of the world.

And it appears from all reports that Dr. "Dixie" Fish, erstwhile L. A. High and California gridiron star, is just as much of a star with a butcher knife as he was with a football.

Mr. Al Maguire, former classmate of the celebrated carver, dealt the information to Mr. Bill Henry, who relayed it on to the conductor of this column:

"Dear Paul: Al Maguire just dropped in to say that this distinguished scimitar wielder, Dr. George Winthop Fish, who separated Gene Tunny from some kind of an obstruction in his plumbing yesterday, is none other than our old college chum 'Dixie' Fish, L. A. High and University of California graduate and one of the best all-around athletes that ever percolated around here.

"Dixie, you'll remember, played on championship Rugby teams at L. A. High and California, then dashed across and won the war in the air service, played on the United States Inter-Allied Games Rugby team and then disappeared from local view.

"Well, it appears that Dixie decided to become the world's greatest surgeon and finally graduated from Columbia. Most of the time he was rooming with Ben Ward, the old time U.S.C. hurdler who went artistic, and Boyd Comstock, who at that time was editing all of those A. G. Spalding books on how to do everything.

"Anyhow, 'Dixie' appears to have burst into sudden fame and no doubt having removed whatever it was that was bothering Mr. Tunney will now proceed to remove some of his mazuma. Looks like 'Dixie' had made good in a big way. He'll probably get more out of Gene than Mrs. Fogarty did.

"BILL HENRY."

BILL ROPER'S RECORD

BILL ROPER'S resignation as head football coach of Princeton after the 1930 season will mark the passing of one of the real deans of the gridiron-teaching art.

He has been at the helm of Tiger teams for a total of thirteen years, continuously since 1919, his other seasons being those of 1910 and 1911.

In addition he was assistant coach at his alma mater in 1906, 1907 and 1908 and coached at Missouri in 1909.

Big Bill was an end in his playing days, and also was a basketball star and diamond whiz.

He has had remarkable success with Tiger teams since the World War, his teams having won fifty-two games, lost eighteen and tied eleven. His most unsuccessful teams were those of the past fall and 1923. The 1929 Princeton team won two games, lost four and tied one.

Roper was the father of the nonscouting idea as far as practical application was concerned, and his agreement with Tad Jones of Yale in 1926 was said to have been the first of its kind.

Since that time Princeton has extended the nonscouting principle until the past year saw agreements of such nature with every college but Cornell and Navy.

Roper has been known as one of the most inspirational coaches in the game, his team of 1922 having as its slogan, "A team that won't be beaten can't be beaten." That year Princeton beat Yale, Harvard and Chicago.

One of his most famous teams was that of 1911, which won the Big Three championship. That was the year in which Sam White ran back fumbles to touchdowns on both Harvard and Yale. The same year saw a freak drop kick by DeWitt, the ball bounding along the ground and bouncing over the bar for the points that beat Dartmouth.

OLYMPIC MATERIAL

KARL WILDERMUTH, the sprint star of Georgetown University who captured the 100-yard dash in the I.C.A.A.A.A. games last spring, seems to have gotten off to a flying start this season.

He not only won the sprint series of the opening indoor meet of the year at New York recently but equaled two world indoor records.

These were the marks of 7 2-10s. for the 60-meter dash and 10 4-5s. for the 100-meter dash made by Bob McAllister, the Flying Cop, in 1927.

Wildermuth is a chunky little fellow with a piston-like drive in his legs, and his early season form indicates he will be one of the boys to watch when the outdoor season gets under way.

In addition to winning the 100 in the I.C.A.A.A.A. meet last year he took third place in the 220.

COLIMA'S BELT WILL BE AT STAKE IN BOUT HERE

Jose Peregrina was yesterday given new honors to fight for next Tuesday night when he meets Bert Colima at the Olympic for the middleweight championship of the Mexicans. Colima's gold-braided belt will be at stake.

BERT COLIMA

Colima won the belt at Mexico City over a year ago when he fought before a crowd of 25,000 people in the big bull ring. It is the first time Colima ever had occasion to take the trophy out of its case.

The belt is more of a sash than anything else. Pure gold is woven into the heavy silk and instead of buckle it has an elaborate rosette.

Colima and Peregrina are both boxing at the Main-street gymnasium at different hours. Since their warm argument the other day Promoter Carlo Curtis has arranged it so their paths do not cross.

Two changes were made on the forty-round card for next week. Carmen Tuzzolini, stablemate of Al Morrow from the Jim Jeffries stable, takes Tom Moore's place against Sandy Garrison Casanova and Frankie Diaz subs for Marcelino Lomeli against Joe Borola.

Dynamite Jackson is favored to beat Ernie Owens in the ten-round semi-wind-up under Colima and Peregrina. Jackson stopped Sam Baker at Ocean Park Wednesday night. Mike Hector and Joe Cardoza, middleweights, box the eight-round special event.

The Olympic was unable to close for the Billy Townsend-Cecil Payne bout for January 28. Matchmaker Wad Wadhams has two possibilities. One would feature Fidel La Barba with Frankie Klick and the other one would bring together Yale Okun and Les Kennedy.

BEVERLY WALLOPS NORTH HOLLYWOOD

The Beverly Hills basketball team took another step toward the San Fernando Valley League championship when they walloped the North Hollywood quintet, 28 to 12, in the losers' gym yesterday. Rose of Beverly Hills chalked up 10 points to carry off the high scoring honors for the day.

Beverly Hills also won the preliminary game, the Tartar babes trouncing the Lions, 31 to 16.

PETE LATZO STOPS CLARKE

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Jan. 16. (AP)—Pete Latzo, or Margate, former welterweight champion, marked his return to the ring wars after a lay-off of fifteen months, by knocking out Eddie Clarke, New York negro, in the sixth round of a ten-rounder here tonight.

DELANEY FORCED TO QUIT BOXING GAME

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) Jan. 16. (AP) Jack Delaney, retired light-heavyweight champion of the world, has fought his last fight.

Dr. George W. Hawley, bone specialist, wrote "finis" to Delaney's ring career today when he declared that an injury to the right arm which has bothered the former champion for two years, threatened to cripple the arm permanently unless Delaney abandons boxing.

Delaney, with tears in his eyes, heard the doctor's dictum after an X-ray examination.

BRADDOCK TO INVADE HEAVYWEIGHT RANKS

CHICAGO, Jan. 16. (AP)—James J. Braddock, rugged New Jersey light-heavyweight, will join the heavyweight ranks after his ten-round engagement with Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen Assassin, at the Chicago Coliseum tomorrow night.

Braddock has been having difficulty keeping his weight down for several months.

SPEEDWAY RACES MAY BE STAGED

"Weather Permitting" is Proviso Made by Legion Track Moguls

Dr. Fred Loring and his officials at the American Legion Speedway have found that gambling with the weather is somewhat of a hazardous business. But yesterday the Legion speed moguls went into a huddle on the rain question and came out with the statement that the grand opening of the season will be held Sunday afternoon—if it doesn't rain any more.

Sunshine yesterday acted as a stimulant to the hopes of some forty of the country's foremost dirt-track aces and the work of getting ready for the 100-lap Durant Cup race and other events on the Sabbath program, was continued with marked activity.

Fred Frame, rated fourth among the nation's speed kings, is ready to go to the post in his Miller Special. Mel Kenealy, the 1929 champion, has his "mystery" car assembled after three weeks of labor. And the Irishman claims it has plenty of power.

"Shorty" Cantlon, the "underslung" pilot from Detroit, will wheel the same Miller motored mount that he will drive at Indianapolis this year in the 500-mile grind. Cantlon broke every record from five to seventy-five laps until he went to the pits and out of the competition.

The program for Sunday will be the same as the one originally planned. In addition to the 100-lap affair, there will be an Italian helmet dash, twenty-four-lap consolation race, ten-lap special event, and an exhibition by the daredevil Mexican Motorcycle Cossacks.

ROBLETO BREAKS HAND, NAVARRO WINS FIGHT

Canto Robleto, Pasadena 115-pounder, broke his hand in the first round of his fight with Johnny Navarro, who was awarded a technical knockout in the second round of last night's main event at the Crown City Club. In the other bouts Harry Wallinder beat Pascal Calope in six, Sig Bennett decisioned Ralph Leonard in a four-rounder, Ralph Leonard beat Art Yarnell and Andy Diaz stopped Garry Shipper in the first round.

BERMAN DEFIES JULIAN INQUIRY

Court Threatens Him With Criminal Action

Changed Mind on Attorney's Advice, He Asserts

Physician Will Investigate Miss Johnson's Illness

room by refusing to admit that he had ever known anything about the business of the old Julian company.

In an effort to explain his position Berman read from a statement which he carried to the witness stand with him his reasons for standing on his constitutional rights and declared that he had written the statement after a conference with his lawyer.

"Is it not a fact that you told certain newspaper reporters that you were going to take the stand and tell it all?"

To this question put by Attorney Crump the witness declared that he had given out the statement in question but had changed his mind after talking to his attorney.

BERMAN BALKS

Reading from a deposition taken from Berman in a civil action brought by B. Guenther as plaintiff vs. H. J. Barneson & Co., stock brokers, as defendants, Crump then asked the witness relative to his dealings with C. C. Streeter, a stock broker and a former partner in the Barneson firm.

Berman again astonished the entire courtroom by refusing to admit that he had given the deposition, although it bore his signature under oath, and declined to answer any question relative to having signed the transcript.

Unable to obtain identification of the reporters' transcript or of his own signature from Berman Crump excused him from the stand and called W. J. O'Conner, an official of the old Julian company, to identify the signature and also placed S. C. Lewis on the stand to give the same testimony.

From Lewis the information also came, while he was on the stand, that Berman was in complete charge of the stock transfer office during the last year of the life of the Julian company and that he had the final direction of the activities of all the clerks in the department.

REFUSES TO SIGN NAME

With the return of Berman to the witness box Crump placed a piece of paper and a pencil before him and requested him to sign his name. Berman refused to do so after announcing that he intended to stand on his constitutional rights.

After counsel for the plaintiffs had struggled with Berman for several hours in their efforts to obtain answers to their various questions and after Judge Tappaan had ordered him again and again to answer, he was excused until next Monday morning, at which time the court informed his counsel, he will either answer the questions or go to jail for contempt of court.

During the attempted questioning of Berman most of the Guenther deposition given on March 25, of last year, was read into the record and showed that Berman had testified at that time that he had done business amounting to millions with C. C. Streeter, then acting for the H. J. Barneson Company, and that stock and money had been exchanged between them almost daily during the last months of the Julian company operations. In every case the transfer was made of stock to Streeter at from $1 to $3 below the market price, according to Berman.

STREETER INDICTED

It was while the reading of the Guenther deposition was going on that the information that Streeter had been indicted in three true bills by the Federal grand jury swept through the courtroom. All of the bills having to do with Streeter's income tax returns, cover the period over which Berman and Streeter were doing business in what later developed to be overissued Julian stock.

Today it is expected that Miss Johnson will take the stand again to complete her cross-examination, if her physical condition permits, or S. C. Lewis will testify and, according to his announcement, tell everything that he knows about the "brokers who wrecked the Julian company."

Berman at the close of yesterday's court session, was ordered to appear again next Monday morning ready to testify or to go to jail for contempt. Last night he declared that he would be guided by the advice of his attorney and was not ready to announce any course of action at the present time.

The entire proceedings which began in Judge Tappaan's court three days ago started as an effort on the part of the stockholders' attorneys to obtain depositions from Berman and Lewis to be used later in the civil action against the brokers and the stock exchange.

Berman, the first witness to be called, refused to testify and then a contempt proceedings was ordered by Judge Tappaan. Miss Johnson, the first witness called in the contempt matter, however, began to hurl charges of bribery and double-dealing at a group of brokers claimed by her to be acting for the stock exchange and declared that she had been paid some $5000 by them to steal documents from her former employer Lewis.

After Miss Johnson's sensational charges Judge Tappaan ruled that her testimony might be considered as a separate deposition in the stockholders' case and she remained on the stand for the better part of two days telling her version of a story which included a cross and a double-cross, intrigue and bribery.

STREETER POSTS BOND AFTER TAX INDICTMENT

Clarence C. Streeter, head of Streeter & Co., stock and bond brokers of 639 South Spring street, and former partner of Harold J. Barneson in Barneson & Co., stock brokers, was indicted yesterday in three true bills by the Federal grand jury in connection with the making of his income-tax returns for 1926 and 1927. Streeter surrendered himself to United States Marshal Sittel late in the afternoon and posted bond of $15,000, covering three indictments, before United States Commissioner Head.

In the indictments, Streeter is accused in two counts of an unlawful attempt to evade the income tax by means of fraud, and of two counts of perjury, based on the same two counts. In another count he is charged with perjury in conenction with the making of asserted false statements regarding the partnership income-tax returns for Barneson & Co., while he was in partnership with Barneson.

EVASION CHARGED

In the first indictment, Streeter is accused of evading the income-tax requirements. It is asserted by the government that in the calendar year of 1926, Streeter's gross income was $721,453.60, of which $708,284.12 was obtained from the partnership profits. The government asserts that the income tax should be $170,919.29. Streeter, in his return, stated that his income was $341,789.24, for the same period, of which $331,759.58 came from the partnership. The government asserts that Streeter still owes $94,916.10.

The second indictment charges that the government asserts that Streeter had a gross income of $414,733.40 in 1927, of which $303,921.45 came from the partnership. The government asserts that a tax of $70,620.04 was due it. Streeter asserted in his tax return that his gross income was $337,929.03 and he paid $45,376.08; showing a difference, asserted by the government, of $25,243.92.

HALF-MILLION DIFFERENCE

Two counts, charging perjury, are based upon the two previous counts of evasion. The last indictment charges that Streeter committed perjury in connection with his statements in regard to the income-tax returns of Barneson & Co. for 1926, while Streeter was a member of that company.

The government charges that the gross income of the company for that year was $1,064,682.41, and that Streeter got $709,788.28, and Barneson got $354,894.13. Streeter is said to have stated that his share was $333,263.67 and Barneson's $166,631.83.

It was stated there is nearly $500,000 difference in the figures of Streeter and government accountants.

BOLTON ON WITNESS STAND

Ex-Dance Hall Operator Accused of Slaying Wife Repeats Story of Hold-up and Shooting

Declaring his wife was slain by bandits who held them up on the Roosevelt Highway north of Santa Monica November 9, 1929, John Dewey Bolton, Jr., former dance-hall operator, yesterday took the witness stand in his own defense in Superior Judge Wilson's court, where he is on trial on a charge of murder.

Bolton recounted practically the same story of the shooting that he first told police officers and deputy sheriffs at Santa Monica on the night of November 9. The State charges Bolton killed his wife as part of a plot to collect $10,000 insurance on her life and then wounded himself to divert suspicion.

Summoned to the witness stand by his attorney, Newton J. Kendall, Bolton still was under cross-examination by Dep. Dist.-Attys. Crail and Curran when adjournment was taken.

"My wife and I had gone for a drive up the Roosevelt Highway toward Ventura," said Bolton. "We turned around and started back toward Santa Monica when we noticed we were being followed by a roadster.

"Finally the roadster crowded us off the highway and forced my wife, who was driving, to stop the car. Then two men got out of the roadster and came over to us, one of them holding a pistol in his hand."

Bolton said one of the men was tall and appeared to be an American, while he thought the other was a Mexican. He declared the tall man covered him and Mrs. Bolton with the gun, plundering his wallet.

When the bandits started back to their own car, Bolton said, his wife recognized one of them and called out, "You're Woods, aren't you?"

"Then the Mexican said, 'Bump them off,'" continued Bolton, adding that the tall man opened fire, killing Mrs. Bolton and wounding him. The bandits then fled, said the witness, leaving him in the car with the body of his wife.

Cross-examination of Bolton will be resumed today.

LOS ANGELES AGAIN LOSES AIR CHANCE

Apathy of Citizens Blamed as Hurley Favors Alameda for Plane Depot

Another opportunity for Los Angeles to push to the front in the matter of aviation was lost by lack of appreciation on the part of its citizenship, declared President Austin of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

The comment was made in connection with the announcement of a letter from Secretary of War Hurley, which said that the Secretary had decided to recommend to Congress that the offer of land by the City of Alameda for the location of the West Coast Air Depot be accepted.

The letter also thanked the Chamber of Commerce for its interest in the matter and for the offer of a location for the depot. The location of the depot is the forerunner of the removal of the army air base from Rockwell Field, San Diego, to Alameda.

The Los Angeles offer, as pointed out by President Austin, consisted of 100 acres and the use of the Long Beach airport. "It was a distressing fact," said Austin, that a small community like Alameda could give the War Department 900 acres of valuable water front land, whereas the great city and county of Los Angeles were totally impotent in the face of this big opportunity."

MILK INDUSTRY TO REMEDY ILLS

per and the people get good milk at fair prices."

ON HIGH-PRICED LAND

Both Gordon and Greene brought out that Los Angeles milk is being produced upon high-priced land, which restricts acreage for dairies and so forces the producer to buy much feed. Feed prices, it was set out, are controlled rather much by local influences but milk prices are controlled more by general conditions prevalent in the industry the country over. High rentals, high feed prices and surplus milk were give merely as examples of some of the matters disturbing the industry.

Gordon said that a surplus of milk is produced here and that it is believed that the establishment of a surplus milk plant to be operated by producer and distributor jointly will remedy the situation. It would bring together at one plant all surplus milk from which "short" distributors might take some and the rest be turned into whatever milk products appeared best at the time, he said.

CO-OPERATION URGED

Both Greene and Gordon addressed the meeting, setting forth general conditions affecting the industry and urging co-operation of producer and distributor interests. Their suggestions were received without opposition and in about an hour and a half a producer committee had been formed to meet with the distributors today.

The situation has attracted much attention outside the milk industry and the problem of providing so important a food article as milk to homes. Unsettled conditions from the producer on the ranch to city milk delivery men had affected situations in which union organizers and association promoters had begun to work. Similar conditions elsewhere had given rise to union rule over home milk needs and in rackets for private gain and there was fear among many who were observing the situation that such history would repeat itself here.

MRS. CHARLES BURCH DIES AT HOME HERE

Mrs. Charles T. Burch, member of Catholic women's organizations, died yesterday at her home in the Asbury Apartments, after a year's illness. She was a member of the Catholic Ladies' Aid and the Catholic Daughters of America, of Sacramento, and also took an active interest in the Catholic Welfare Bureau of Los Angeles. She leaves a husband, Charles T. Burch, two sisters, Mrs. L. P. St. Clair and Mrs. W. F. Stockman, and a nephew, L. P. Stockman. Interment will be in San Francisco.

BRITAIN'S NEW R-100 IN AIR TWELVE HOURS

CARDINGTON (Eng.) Jan. 16. (AP) The British dirigible R-100 went through a successful test flight today which lasted more than twelve hours. It left its hangar shortly after 10 a.m. and was not again attached to the mooring mast until 10:40 p.m. It was said that the new dirigible performed well.

MARY PICKFORD PICKS ROMANCE

Sex Stories Banned by Noted Screen Actress

Dolores Del Rio May Play in "Bird of Paradise"

Howard Hawks to Direct Air Story, "Dawn Patrol"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Mary Pickford is still undecided as to what story will be her next starring vehicle for United Artists, according to her word of yesterday. However, it is quite possible that it will be "Peg O' My Heart."

MARY PICKFORD

In any case, she will star in a romance. Of this she is certain. She will appear in no sex stories, that is, not in any so-called sex stories.

"Any story that has to do with love is a sex story," she said. "But romance may be stressed instead of the sex angle. In New York I was assured by all the producers in the theaters that the romantic age is coming back to the stage."

Mary says that she was very anxious while in Europe to get back and go to work.

"Four months is long enough to stay away from this fast-moving business of pictures," she said.

As for Fairbanks, he was out playing golf yesterday, but I gathered that his plans are entirely up in the air.

"Douglas has decided," said Mary, "that he wants, sometime in the future, to spend half his time each year in London and half on his ranch down near San Diego."

In the meantime, they may sell Pickfair, which is a huge house, and build a smaller place, in the English provincial style, of white brick with black roof, on property which they own adjoining Pickfair.

STAR MAY PLAY IN "BIRD OF PARADISE"

There is a possibility, we learn, that Dolores Del Rio may star in a film version of "The Bird of Paradise," that old play produced originally by Oliver Morosco, and which has gone through such an amazing lot of procedure in court.

DOLORES DEL RIO

Miss Del Rio has finished "The Bad One," and is looking about for a story. Joseph Schenck, when he returns from Europe within the next two weeks, will have the final deciding voice as to her next vehicle. In the meantime, Miss Del Rio is hoping deeply that "The Bird of Paradise" may be procurable.

Hawks Directs Air Picture

Despite the recent tragedy in the Haws family in connection with an air picture, when Kenneth Hawks lost his life in directing a Fox picture, his brother, Howard Hawks, is to undertake the direction of an airplane war story for First National.

The story is called "The Dawn Patrol," and was written by John Monk Saunders. No cast is yet assembled for the production.

Kenneth McKenna in It

Kenneth McKenna is not to be allowed to hide his dramatic light under a bushel.

He is to play the male lead and be cofeatured with Joan Bennett in the Fox production of "In Love With Love."

KENNETH McKENNA

McKenna was formerly slated for "The Gold Article," a story by Richard Connell; but due to the illness of Chandler Sprague, who is slated to direct the Connell story, the actor has been assigned the new role.

The actor has had rather an amazing record. He was a noted theatrical producer at 30 years of age. A few months ago he came west for the talkers and has been winning laurels as an actor ever since.

M.-G.-A. Signs Two

Julanne Johnston, former leading lady for Douglas Fairbanks in "The Thief of Bagdad," and Polly Ann Young, sister to Loretta Young, were yesterday added to the cast of "The Song Writer," which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is producing.

JULANNE JOHNSTON.

The picture, a dramatic story of Tin Pan Alley, features Lawrence Gray in the title role, with May Boley, Wynne Gibson, Lee Kohlmar, Kenneth Thomson and others of note. Miss Johnston has not appeared recently, but her role in this production promises to reinstate her in popular favor.

Writer's New Mystery Story

When Paramount assigned Florence Ryerson to write the treatment and adaptation of "The Canary Murder Case" and "The Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu," that organization evidently started her on a career of literary crime. D. Appleton & Co. have just announced the purchase of a mystery novel, "Seven Suspects," by Miss Ryerson and Colin Clements.

In between jobs of proof-reading, Miss Ryerson is writing a sequel to "Fu Manchu" for Paramount, while Clements is adapting their magazine story, "Three a Day," to the screen for Columbia.

LOEFFLER WORK CONCERT EVENT

"Pagan Poem" Presented by Philharmonic

Rodzinski and Olga Steeb Are Applauded

Hulda Lashanska Soprano Soloist of Program

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Two soloists . . . a pretentious musico-poetic novelty . . . other compositions modernistic in spirit . . .

These were component elements of interest in the concert of the Philharmonic Orchestra last evening. The program was the seventh of the symphonic season with Dr. Artur Rodzinski conducting. A near-capacity audience attended at Philharmonic Auditorium.

Ernest Bloch's Concerto Grosso for string orchestra and piano was the introductory number, Charles Martin Loeffler's "A Pagan Poem" was the feature event, and Ravel's "Rhapsodie Espagnole" closed the concert. All this—for the orchestral portion.

Hulda Lashanska, soprano, was one of the soloists and Olga Steeb was nominated as the other, though in reality she was an obbligatist (if this word is permissible) in "The Pagan Poem." She essayed the extremely difficult piano portion of this uniquely scored composition, and lent brilliance to the ensemble, even despite there were no showy opportunities.

Very able work at the piano, it may be noted here, was also done by Mme. Ilse Rodzinski in the Bloch Concerto Grosso, for which she received a tribute of approbation from the audience.

Loeffler's "Pagan Poem" cannot be regarded as other than a work of noble inspiration, nobly designed as well, even while it must be admitted that it lacks vitality in the expression of its purpose.

ELABORATELY HARMONIC

The composition is manifestly the work of an arch-harmonist, who uses the orchestra richly and grandly, and even a bit grandiosely, to attain a mood of beauty.

Distinctive facets of this creation, aimed to depict a poem of Virgil, which blends curiously a theme of love and sorcery, are the employment of three trumpets off stage, elaborate piano effects, and interpolations here and there of rather pertinent English horn passages. All this was more unusual when the "Pagan Poem" was written more than twenty years ago than it is today. However, the trumpets off stage furnish singularly rare tone color.

Loeffler, at this date, seems far more eclectic than original, though in the period when "A Pagan Poem" was first heard he was considered a path-breaker. His work now lacks something of the more genuine impressions—while still a very artistic piece of musical architecture.

Honors of applause for the presentation were lavished on both Dr. Rodzinski and Miss Steeb. The latter was recalled several times after the rendition.

LASHANSKA SOLOIST

Mme. Lashanska gained marked approval for her singing of "Zueignung" by Richard Strauss. Her other selections included the fourth act aria from "Pique Dame," by Tschaikowsky, and "Komm Suesser Tod," by Bach. In the opening measures of the "Pique Dame" number she exhibited almost what might be termed a contralto quality, and evidenced throughout her singing the possession of a brilliant high range.

The impression she makes is marred, however, but cloudy enunciation of the words of her songs, all the more regrettable since she discloses a marked temperamental feeling. The so-called "covered" tone also seems rather too predominant in her work.

"Depuis le Jour" from Charpentier's "Louise" was named as one of her selections on the printed program, but was not given. The omission was declared by Mme. Lashanska's representative to be due to the orchestration of the aria not being in her accustomed key.

The Concerto Grosso and Ravel's "Rhapsodie Espagnole" were very efficaciously played. The volume of tone was excellent in the former. The Prelude and the Dirge of this Concerto seemed the most striking in interest.

The concert will be repeated today.

BARRIE PLAY AS FILM IS WHIMSICAL

"Seven Days' Leave" Has Gary Cooper, Beryl Mercer in Leading Parts

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Steeped in that old Barrie whimsy, "Seven Days' Leave" occupied the place of honor on the Paramount screen yesterday. It is the sort of film that will be acclaimed by some as the acme of talking-picture art, and by others dismissed in the arbitrary phrase, "nothing to it." In its fidelity to the atmosphere of English lower-class life, its flavored Barrie phrasing, its restrained direction and, most of all, its characterization of a charwoman by Beryl Mercer, the picture finds much to commend it. Mother love — or strictly the maternal instinct—is its theme.

Gary Cooper is nominally the star of "Seven Days' Leave." The story is a simple one, describing a scrublady's yearnings for a son to fight for England. Lacking one, she invents him, and because her own name is Dowey, she calls him Kenneth Dowey. The soldier in question, on leave of absence in London, is promptly bundled to her doorstep by the helpful Rev. Willings, where he somewhat reluctantly accepts the motherhood thrust [illegible] him. Gradually he comes to regard it as a boon, and is happy in his new-found parentage.

But not for long. The war calls him; and, soon after, death. So the "old lady" is left with her medals, her memories and her pail of soapsuds.

Cooper is "natural" in his portrayal of the soldier lad, an ability which leads him to success in some scenes and an awkward abstraction in others. Miss Mercer makes her charwoman a courageous and sympathetic portrait. A capable actress of long experience, her last film appearance was, I believe, in "Three Live Ghosts." Three tipsy old harridans, seeming for all the world like the weird sisters of "Macbeth," furnish a sort of mild "menace" and gossip volubly about everything, though I could never tell you what One of them, played by Tempe Piggott, is especially effective.

Gary Cooper made a little speech from the stage after the performance, and explained that the picture is regarded by its producers as something of an "experiment." Certainly it merits attention for its departure from the accepted, in that there is no boy-and-girl romance. It should, in any event, be at least fairly successful, if only because of the star's popularity since "The Virginian." For the rest, it is difficult to classify, lying somewhere between realism and fantasy, and being without what are usually called "big" moments.

Richard Wallace, whose last effort was the almost-perfect "The Shopworn Angel," will reap further laurels for his intelligent handling of "Seven Days' Leave." The adaptation of Sir J. M. Barrie's playlet, "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," was made (with due obeisances) by John Farrow and Dan Totheroh.

Short subject include another Max Fleischer song cartoon, this one, "I've Got Rings on My Fingers." Milton Charles, at the organ, pleases with renditions of "Dream Lover" and that other popular tune, "Love"—which might be a revival of an earlier piece called "Fate," so like it does it sound.

ROMANCE OF ROOKIE IS PRESENTED

'His First Command' Tells Story of Life in Cavalry; William Boyd Starred

BY JOHN SCOTT

Terry Culver's first command was to salute a wooden post 100 times, each time repeating the words, "Yes, sir." Based on the hard life of a rookie in the United States Cavalry, "His First Command," starring William Boyd, rode into the R.-K.-O. Theater yesterday for a week's run, and not only brought chuckles from an appreciative audience, but real hearty laughs as well.

James Gleason and Jack Jungmeyer, authors of this screen vehicle, used a familiar formula for such stories, spicing it well with laughable situations such as the wooden post salute. Fort Riley, Kan., supplies the atmosphere, and an authentic one indeed. The cavalry review sequences add a colorful and interesting note to the production. Gregory LaCava directed this Pathe film.

The story concerns a pampered son who is sent west to escape the temptations of wine, women and song. He is expected by his fond parent to engage in the rubber business, but instead joins up in Uncle Sam's army—all on account of a girl who happens to be the daughter of the post commandant. His subsequent adventures as a rookie provide most of the humor.

The picture runs along smoothly enough for a time with a bright quip here and there to enliven it, but seems to slow up appreciably in the later scenes. This may be due to the lengthy review and steeplechase sequences. Its entertaining features, however, overshadow any tendency to drag, and it should be quite a favorite with persons who like army stories, horses and comedy. There is a sprinkling of thrills, such as Boyd's heroic rescue of the child, who happens to fall in front of the approaching steeplechase.

William Boyd as Terry Culver, the rookie, presents a likeable character. He uses his slow drawl to advantage in the film. Dorothy Sebastian portrays the heroine in her usual versatile way. Other characters who added to the production were Gavin Gordon, Helen Parrish, Alphonz Ethier, Howard Hickman, Paul Hurst as the "hard-boiled" sergeant who makes life miserable for Boyd, and others.

Three headline acts are seen on the R.-K.-O. stage, all sharing first honors. They are Tom Brown and his troupe of saxophonists, Chamberlain and Himes, formerly with the Ziegfeld Follies, and Florre Le Vere in her "celebrity" act. Others are La Salle and Mack and William Nunn and company.

FAWCETT FINISHES

George Fawcett has completed a short but important engagement in "The Bad One," directed by George Fitzmaurice, with whom he has been associated in numerous pictures. This was for United Artists.

Singing Voice of Film Player Proves Popular

Not until she appeared in her first talking picture did Norma Talmadge reveal an unforeseen and unsuspected singing talent, it is reported.

The silent screen favorite who makes her talking film debut in "New York Nights," starting at the United Artists Theater Saturday, was called on to sing a refrain of a popular song number, "A Year From Today," in the picture. The "playback" showed that the actress had a soprano voice of a rich tonal quality.

Playing opposite the star is Gilbert Roland. Others in the cast are John Wray, Lilyan Tashman, Roscoe Karns and Mary Doran. "New York Nights" is a story of the Roaring Forties and Tin Pan Alley, the picturesque section of New York, which harbors the song writers said to be responsible for 90 per cent of the popular ballads and dance numbers of the day.

SOUTH SEA LOCALE IN NEW FILM

Lenore Ulric Takes Chief Role in Tropical Romance at Loew's State

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

The glamorous Lenore Ulric, of whom so much has been said and written, is missing from "South Sea Rose" at Loew's State this week.

True enough, Miss Ulric is in the film, has the leading role, a good many close-ups and a great deal of acting to do. Somehow or other, that husky throaty charm of hers is missing and her personality as revealed both by microphone and photography is just another personality.

This may be due as much as anything to the fact that the finished result is a cross between a comic musical and a straightaway narrative, with the comedy scenes winning the laurels.

However, some day there will come a picture in which the real Lenore Ulric is captured. Until that day arrives, "South Sea Rose" is as good a substitute as anything else.

The story follows its adopted title pretty much. Miss Ulric is a rose in a cloistered convent on the South Sea Islands until a big, husky sea captain (Charles Bickford) comes along and persuades her to run away on his ship. He marries her in the hope of gaining a fortune which she will supposedly inherit. He takes her to his New England home to the chaperonage of a spinster sister who gazes with horror upon Miss Ulric's flimsy gauze gowns, parasol hats and hula-hula ways.

There's a grand comedy scene in this New England setting. Daphne Pollard, as a chubby, serious-minded club woman, dons a grass skirt and endeavors to demonstrate from the lecture platform the workings of the hula. Lenore, watching from a neighboring window, cannot stand the falsification of her terpsichorean art. She hastily dons another strip of grass, and runs to the rescue. The club meeting ends in a near-riot.

Bickford handles his role in a more serious vein than other members of the cast. Tom Patricola and Miss Pollard are excellent comics. Kenneth McKenna and Farrell Macdonald have workman-like roles which are not at all significant.

A Hal Roach comedy, "Shivering Shakespeare," Movietone news, and Fanchon and Marco's "Peasant Idea," with quite a lot of dancing, complete the bill.

Sales Opportunity
1930 will be an excellent real estate year. Many good men have avoided real estate because they do not like a waiting game — spasmodic sales. We have plan which makes real estate liquid and makes selling real estate pay a 365-day job.

Earnings can be made very satisfactory by serious men. Appeals especially to specialty, insurance, bond and real estate salesmen.

Sales experience not absolutely necessary. If you have sales qualities, backed by good education and past valuable business or professional experience, investigate our offering.

Send name, address, telephone. Interview will be arranged.

Address Postoffice Drawer B-1, Hollywood, Calif.

SECURITY SALESMEN
A dignified high-class connection awaits the right type of men who will call and talk our proposition over with me. This deal is clean has the backing of well known Los Angeles business men whom you all know and we are in a position to back you up with facts, publicity and leads. Both the client and salesman will get a square deal here with big returns. Earl B. Hough, Sales Director, Suite 922, 1709 W. 8th street, Los Angeles.

SALESMAN WANTED
Nationally known manufacturer, marketing only well-advertised brands, has permanent sales position open for men between 25 and 35 who can show a good selling record among retail food outlets. Sell your services by letter, giving us in confidence full details of your sales experience, class of merchandise you are now selling, educational history and all other facts of your business career. We pay salary, expenses and car mileage allowance. No commissions. Address W. P. Alexander, 649 Traction Avenue, Los Angeles. No personal calls received at this address.

WANT: Three salesmen with a past proven record. This opportunity is worth $10,000 a year to the men who qualify. No specialized knowledge necessary other than experience in salesmanship. Positions permanent. Write for an appointment. Applications held confidential. Address V, box 481, Times Branch.

Sales Opportunity
1930 will be an excellent real estate year. Many good men have avoided real estate because they do not like a waiting game — spasmodic sales. We have plan which makes real estate liquid and makes selling real estate pay a 365-day job.
Earnings can be made very satisfactory by serious men. Appeals especially to specialty, insurance, bond and real estate salesmen.
Sales experience not absolutely necessary. If you have sales qualities, backed by good education and past valuable business or professional experience, investigate our offering.
Send name, address, telephone. Interview will be arranged.
Address Postoffice Drawer B-1, Hollywood, Calif.

SECURITY SALESMEN
A dignified high-class connection awaits the right type of men who will call and talk our proposition over with me. This deal is clean has the backing of well known Los Angeles business men whom you all know and we are in a position to back you up with facts, publicity and leads. Both the client and salesmen will get a square deal here with big returns. Earl B. Hough, Sales Director, Suite 922, 1709 W. 8th street, Los Angeles.

SALESMAN WANTED
Nationally known manufacturer, marketing only well-advertised brands, has permanent sales position open for men between 25 and 38 who can show a good selling record among retail food outlets. Sell your services by letter, giving us in confidence full details of your sales experience, class of merchandise you are now selling, educational history and all other facts of your business career. We pay salary, expenses and car mileage allowance. No commissions. Address W. P. Alexander, 845 Traction Avenue, Los Angeles. No personal calls received at this address.

WANT: Three salesmen with a past proven record. This opportunity is worth $10,000 a year to the men who qualify. No specialized knowledge necessary other than experience in salesmanship. Positions permanent. Write for an appointment. Applications held confidential. Address V. box 481, Times Branch.

DELEGATES IN LONDON

Britons Greet Arms Party

Secretary Stimson Closeted With MacDonald Soon After Arrival

Official Welcome at Plymouth Followed by Quick Trip to Parley City

LONDON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Cordially welcomed to England at Plymouth at dawn today, Secretary of State Stimson hastened to London by fast train with the American delegation to the naval disarmament conference and went at once to No. 10 Downing street, official residence of Prime Minister MacDonald.

For more than three hours Col. Stimson remained closeted with the British Prime Minister, but he was silent about the significance of their talk.

Beyond saying that the talk was "pleasant" and not interrupted except by "a nice cup of the Prime Minister's tea," he offered no information about it and successfully parried the efforts of journalists of all nations, whom he received tonight, to find out what really passed over the teacups between America's chief delegate to the five-power conference and the head of the British government. It was the longest pre-convention meeting yet held in London.

MEETING TODAY

At noon tomorrow Secretary Stimson will lead the American delegation to pay its formal respects to Mr. MacDonald at Downing street. Then he hopes to rest at his country place in Middlesex county, near London.

Tentative arrangements have been made for him to meet Premier Tardieu of France and Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy on Sunday, but unless the Japanese take the initiative, Secretary Stimson will not meet them again before the conference, considering that the conversations in Washington were complete and satisfactory until the delegates are actually assembled around the conference table.

HISTORIC SPOT

It was a long and tiresome, but eventful day for Secretary Stimson and his party of nearly 200, who disembarked in the rosy dawn of an unusually mild winter morning in Plymouth Harbor, close by the spot whence the pilgrim ship Mayflower sailed for America.

After a brief welcoming ceremony on the quay, where the Mayor of Plymouth, in scarlet robes and attended by mace-bearers, greeted them, the Americans boarded one of the finest trains of salon cars England could assemble, and sped to London through the green English countryside. Over Dartmoor and into the heart of Devon, the coaches rolled past a never-ending succession of hedges, green lanes
